OFFICIALS MUST HAVE PERMITS FOR HOLIDAYS

CITY COUNCIL ACTS ON IMPORTANT MATTERS

Street Money Is Divided After a Squabble—Franchise Asked for New Electric Plant. Near Beer Limits Are Fixed. Other Matters.

City officials cannot hereafter be absent from their offices or daily duties for a day or longer without securing the written permission of the mayor.

If any official is absent over two weeks his salary will be "docked."

This new rule is the result of a resolution adopted by the general council yesterday afternoon. The paper came from the finance committee, but bore the name of Councilman Martin F. Amorous, which had been "scratched."

It is said that the resolution is one of the outgrowths of the secret meeting held by council last week, a sort of caucus, which was called by Councilman Amorous. In that closed door meeting, it is said, one of the matters discussed was the alleged custom of some of the city officials leaving their offices and taking vacations without any notice to the mayor and general council.

The resolution adopted by council is as follows:

That all officials or heads of departments who desire to absent themselves from their daily duties one or more days shall first secure the consent of his honor, the mayor, in writing. Any official absent over two weeks in one year, except in case of physical, personal illness, shall not receive any salary for period so absent.

For New Electric Plant.

A petition was introduced and referred to the committee on electric and other railways which asked for a franchise to construct, maintain and operate an electric light and power plant. The petition was the Piedmont Power Company, and was represented by Dorsey, Brewster, Howell & Heyman.

Council Steve R. Johnston is making an earnest effort to secure an appropriation from council in order that the lowest salary of teachers will be $50, instead of only $40. He introduced the following resolution, which was referred to the finance committee:

That the sum of $2,500 be appropriated to the department of schools for the purpose of increasing the minimum salary of teachers from $40 to $50 per month, the same to be taken from the contingent fund.

A resolution from the second and third ward club was read. The resolution set forth that the section of the city in the second and third wards had not been receiving a fair and equitable distribution of the city funds, and asked more and better consideration at the hands of the council. The paper was referred to the charter revision committee.

A petition for wood block pavement on North Forsyth street, between Marietta and Peachtree streets, was referred to the street committee.

A resolution was adopted to appropriate $2,500 for the bond commission to expend in the investgation of the needs of the waterworks, sewer system and schools, prior to the bond election.

New Road Rules.

An ordinance, introduced by Alderman Grant, was adopted, which amended the ordinance regulating the driving of autos on the streets. The amendment prescribes that slow moving or standing vehicles keep close to the right curb, that in overtaking a trolley car, to pass it on the right, and that no street car shall stand so as to obstruct traffic longer than is absolutely necessary to take on and let off passengers.

An ordinance was adopted requiring stationary engineers to keep their licenses in a conspicuous place and to require police officers to see that this law is enforced.

An ordinance was adopted giving the park commission the control of trees on the streets, instead of the street department.

Near Beer Limits.

The police committee reported an ordinance prohibiting the sale of near beer in any locality except where whisky saloons were allowed before prohibition. The ordinance was adopted.

A resolution to allow the Realty Trust Company to excavate the sidewalk at the corner of North Forsyth and Luckie streets for the new theater was adopted, with the proviso that the city reserve the right to reclaim the sidewalk at any time.

An ordinance was introduced giving the committee on auditorium and conventions general charge of the auditorium and armory and defining the rules and regulations. The ordinance provided that the committee shall have the right to determine who shall use the building and what charges shall be made. One rule is that the building cannot be used for political purposes without consent of the mayor and general council. The committee was empowered to employ a custodian or other help that may be needed. Part of the rules provided the regulations for the armory. The paper was referred to the committee on ordinances.

Few divorce scandals of recent years have caused more excitement in England than that of John Alexander Stirling and his beautiful wife, who was Miss Clara Taylor, of Washington, before her marriage to the Englishman. Mrs. Mabel Louise Atherton, of Yarde-Buller fame, one of the most noted beauties in the British empire, is named by Mrs. Stirling as co-respondent. The names of Lord Northland and many other prominent persons are brought into the testimony in a sensational way.

ACCUSED WIFE WEPT ON STAND

Pathetic Figure Cut by Mrs. Stirling in Divorce.

She Denied That She Had Been Guilty of Misconduct With Lord Northland, but Admitted She Had Been Indiscreet. Never Kissed Him on Stairs.

Edinburgh, February 1.—In the Stirling cross-suits for divorce today, Mrs. Stirling began her defense against her husband's charges that she had misconducted herself with Lord Northland. Mrs. Stirling was Clara Elizabeth Taylor, an American show girl, before her marriage to John Alexander Stirling.

The accused wife occupied the stand the most of the day and made a pathetic figure. Several times she was overcome with tears, and her denials of the charge against her were most pathetic. She characterized many of the assertions of the husband's lawyers as villainous lies, and she replied to the allegation that she had been seen kissing Lord Northland on the stairs, by saying that she was not a housemaid.

She admitted that she had perhaps been indiscreet and silly, but she averred that there had been absolutely no improper relations between herself and Lord Northland. She accused Mrs. Atherton of intrigue to throw her in company with Lord Northland, so she could monopolize Mr. Stirling to herself.

Mrs. Stirling said, among other things, that at the time of her wedding Mr. Stirling gave her $20,000, but at the end of 1907 her husband was in financial difficulties and she handed him the entire amount back. She now had nothing.

The case throughout has been notable even among divorce cases for its extreme outspokenness, but the women in the audience sat throughout without wincing. Today, however, the questions were so intimately delicate that counsel would not proceed until every woman had been cleared out of court. The taking of testimony probably will last all this week.

ATTACKED BY PNEUMONIA, DR. ARMSTRONG VERY ILL

Last Night His Condition Was Reported to Be Slightly Improved.

Dr. W. B. Armstrong, the well-known surgeon, lies seriously ill with pneumonia at his home, 246 Washington street.

Dr. Armstrong was take nsick Sunday night, and at first it was not thought that the trouble was more than local. Yesterday morning and afternoon, however, he grew worse until his condition became serious. Last night he was reported a trifle better.

The friends of Dr. Armstrong have made many inquiries as to his condition and anxiously await news of a change for the better.

ROOSEVELT REFUSES TO ACCEPT $10,000

President Rejects the Legacy Left by Massachusetts Recluse.

Boston, February 1.—President Roosevelt, in a letter to the attorneys for the administrator, declares that under no condition will he accept a legacy of $10,000 left him by the last will of Benjamin Hadley, an East Somerville recluse, who died December 16, 1907. The will disposed of property valued at $150,000, and provided for a legacy of $10,000 to the president of the United States.

Telephone Manager Killed.

Wichita, Kans., February 1.—A. L. Strohl, manager of the telephone company at Allne, Okla., was shot and instantly killed tonight by M. M. Jacobs, manager of hte Albany hotel. They quarreled over a small telephone bill. Jacobs was arrested.

DEBTS OWED TO THE TRUSTS ARE HELD VOID

Far-reaching Decision by the Supreme Court of the United States.

DECISION FREES FIRM OF A DEBT OF $57,000

Voight & Sons Fought Claim of Continental Wall Paper Company, Alleging Concern Was a Trust—The Supreme Court Upholds the Claim.

Washington, February 1.—The case of the Continental Wall Paper Company vs. Lewis Voight & Sons, of Cincinnati, was today decided by the supreme court of the United States in Voight's favor.

The suit was brought by the company on a debt of $57,000, the payment of which was resisted on the ground that the paper company is a trust. In effect the decision holds that an admitted trust organized contrary to the Sherman anti-trust law cannot use the court to collect debts.

Company Part of Trust.

Justice Harlan's opion dealt in detail with various phases of the case. It was based on the third defense of Voight that the company is part of a trust. He started out with the proposition that the Continental Company is within the prohibitions of the Sherman act, which he said is clear from the facts set forth in its defense. He then went on to show that this corporation is the representative of a combination which would have the effect not only of restraining but of monopolizing the sale and manufacture of paper.

"The Continental Wall Paper Company," he said, "seeks, in legal effect, the aid of the court to enforce a contract for the sale and purchase of goods which it is admitted by the demurrer was in fact and was intended by the parties to be based upon agreements that were and are essential parts of an illegal scheme. We state the matter in this way because the plaintiff, by its demurrer admits for the purposes of this case the truth of all the facts alleged in the third defense."

What Suit Is Based On.

Further along, Justice Harlan said: "The present suit is not based upon an implied contract of the defendant company to pay for goods that it purchased, but in fact is based upon the agreements to which both the plaintiff and defendant were parties, pursuant to which the accounts sued on were made out and which had for their object and which it is admitted had the effect to accomplish the illegal ends for which the Continental Wall Paper Company was organized. If judgment be given for the plaintiff the result will be to give the aid of the court in making effective the illegal agreements that constitute forbidden combination. . . . The question is whether the plaintiff company can have judgment for the amount of an account, which it is admitted by demurrer, was made up with the knowledge of both seller and buyer, with direct reference to and in execution of certain agreements, under which an illegal combination, represented by the seller, was organized."

Agreement Illegal.

Saying that a judgment in favor of the company would give effect to agreements constituting the illegal combination, Justice Harlan said:

"We hold that such a judgment cannot be granted without departing from the statutory rule, long established in the jurisprudence of both this country and England. That a court will not lend its aid, in any way, to enforce or to realize the fruits of an agreement which appears to be tainted with illegality, although the result of applying that rule may sometimes be to shield a defendant who has got something for which as between man and man he ought perhaps to pay, but for which he is unwilling to pay."

Combination Is Illegal.

In conclusion, Justice Harlan said:

"Upon the whole evidence, without further citation of authority, we adjudge upon the admitted facts, that the combination represented by the plaintiff in this case, was illegal under the anti-trust act of 1890, is to be taken as one intended, and which would have the effect directly to restrain and monopolize trade among the several states and with foreign states, and that the plaintiff cannot have a judgement for the amount of the account sued in, because such a judgment would, in effect, be in aid of the execution of agreements constituting that illegal combination. We, consequently, hold that the circuit court of appeals properly sustained the third defense in the case, and rightly dismissed the suit."

By Only One Vote.

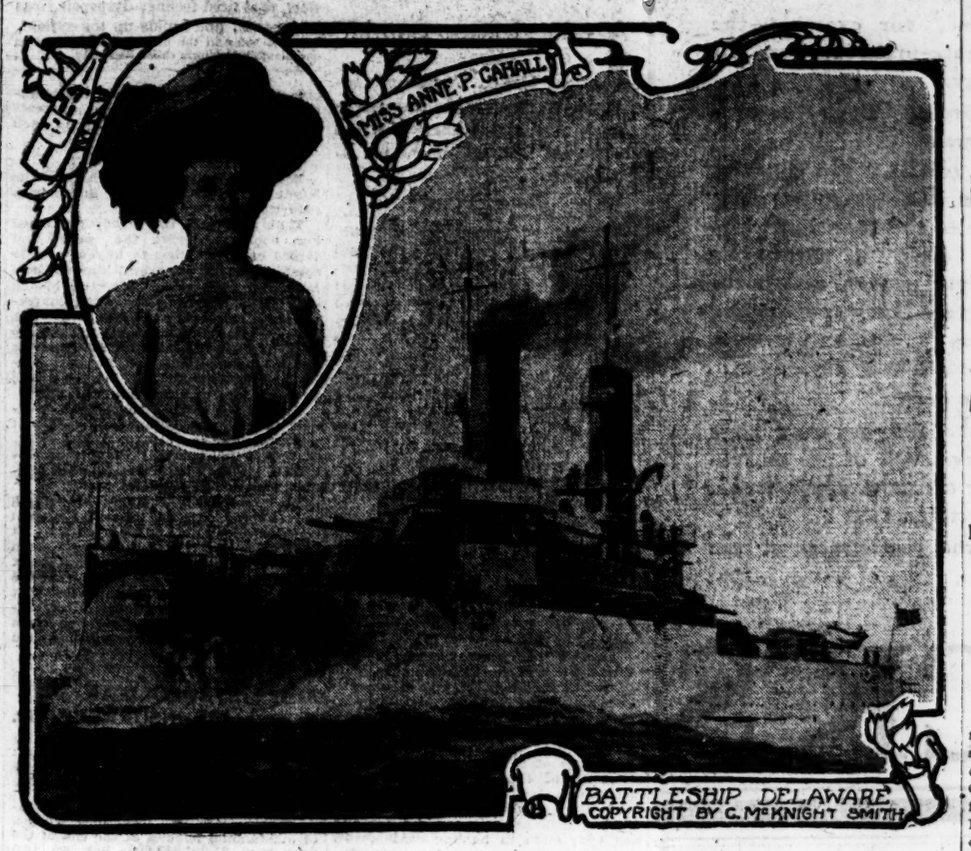
The case was decided against the company by a majority of only one. Justice Holmes delivered a dissenting opinion, and, in doing so, stated that Justices Brewer, White and Peckham concurred with him.

Justice Holmes undertook to show that the illegality of the general contract of Voight with the paper company, taken by itself, did not make any specific sale illegal, and he contended that it does not matter as to the legality of the sales, whether a previous step was legal or not.

ONE HOUR IN THE PEN FOR MANSLAUGHTER.

Grand Cane, La., February 1.—One hour in the penitentiary is the sentence that has been imposed upon Elmo Williams, who was tried and found guilty on the charge of involuntary manslaughter here.

BATTLESHIP DELAWARE, FIRST DREADNOUGHT OF THE UNITED STATES NAVY, AND HER SPONSOR



The United States battleship Delaware, the first of the so-called Dreadnoughts of the navy, will be launched at Newport News on February 6. Miss Anne Pennewill Cahall, of Bridgeville, Del., will break the bottle of champagne and christen the ship. The Delaware is being built by the Newport News Shipbuilding Company, and will combine the greatest power with maximum speed. Her length is 519 feet and her displacement 20,000 tons, while she is intended to maintain a speed of 21 knots an hour. Her engines will be capable of 20,000 horsepower, and she will carry ten 12-inch and fourteen 5-inch rifles as her main battery, with the usual secondary batteries. The ship will cost $4,000,000.

KILLED CARMACK TO GET RID OF HIM

So Rev. E. E. Folk Tells the Anti-Saloon League.

Nashville Tragedy Is Discussed at the Conference of Southern Anti-Saloon League in Birmingham — Gov. Comer Speaks.

Birmingham, Ala., February 1.—The Southern Anti-Saloon League conference began here tonight with superintendents of state leagues and prominent workers present from all parts of the south. The sessions will continue until Thursday when the annual convention of the Alabama Anti-Saloon League begins.

President W. B. Crumpton, of the Alabama League, presided tonight, and the address of welcome was delivered by Governor B. B. Comer, who expressed his entire sympathy with the movement.

Rev. E. E. Folk, of the Tennessee League, responded for the visitors, and alluded in fervent manner to the recent fight in his state.

"It is with deep feeling that I respond to you, Governor Comer" he said, "you who are so well known to be in sympathy with the cause. In Tennessee we got prohibition in spite of our governor, and I thank God that Alabama was not placed in so trying a position. I hasten to give credit to the man who did more than any other for the cause in the south—the lamented, the noble, the true, the brave E. W. Carmack. They killed him to get rid of him, but they forgot that out of martyrs is the seed of the church. The Tennessee legislature carried out that for which he lived and died. The whole south will be prohibition territory within five years, and the entire Union in twenty-five years. It will not be many years until we will as soon think of returning to slavery as to the open saloon."

Former Governor R. M. Cunningham, of Alabama, said prohibition is the greatest issue in the nation today—greater than tariffs, trusts, railroad regulations or any of the other questions confronting the people for solution.

CURRENCY MEASURE THOUGHT INEFFICIENT

Senator Clay Introduces Resolution to Prove Its Ineffectiveness.

Washington, February 1.—(Special.)—In an effort to prove the ineffectiveness and inefficiency in normal times of the currency measure adopted at the last session of congress, Senator Clay today introduced a resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to inform the senate if any national currency association organized under the terms of that act, had availed themselves of the opportunity to secure circulating notes.

Senator Aldrich was on the alert in a moment, and objected to the present consideration of the resolution. It went over on his objection.

Hotel in Receiver's Hands.

Americus, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—Permanent receivership has been granted against the Americus Manufacturing and Improvement Company, owning the Windsor hotel. Crawford Wheatley was appointed receiver and the hotel will be sold after due process. This proceeding upon the part of local creditors was not unfriendly and will result to advantage of the hotel property.

WHITE MAN GIVES BLOOD TO SAVE LIFE OF NEGRESS

New York, February 1.—What is believed to be the first case of blood transfusion from a white man to a negress, was brought to a successful issue here today at Bellevue hospital. The patient, Julia Herring, a 25-year-old negress, was brought to the hospital, suffering from internal hemorrhage. The surgeons in attendance decided that the only hope of saving her life lay in the transfusion of new blood. The situation was explained to the orderlies of the hospital by Dr. Geiser, the surgeon in charge of the case, and an appeal made by him that some one among them volunteer to save the woman's life.

Several offered their blood, and Gustav Labrink, 25 years old, employed at the hospital as a messenger, was chosen for the operation. About a pint of the white man's blood was transfused. The negress, the surgeons report, rallied almost immediately after the operation, but before midnight the condition of the patient grew worse. The negress sank rapidly and died in a few minutes.

POTTS ORDERED TO PHILIPPINES

Head of Department of Gulf to Leave Atlanta.

Brigadier General Ramsay D. Potts, commander of the Department of the Gulf, and one of the most popular officers in the army, who has made many friends in this city, has received his orders to go to the Philippines.

He will succeed Brigadier General Charles L. Hodges, in the command of the Department of the Vizayas. General Hodges has been ordered to San Francisco, where further instructions will be sent him.

It is not yet know nwho will be named to head the Department of the Gulf. General Potts, who was informed yesterday of his new post, does not know who will succeed him here.

He will not leave Atlanta for some time yet, the date of his departure not having been fixed. From the time he leaves this city until the war department at Washington selects another man for the place, Colonel Dodd, of the Twelfth cavalry, senior officer here, will be in charge.

General Potts only recently came back to Atlanta from a visit to Cuba. Upon his return here he was joined by his son, who had been appointed his aide-de-camp, succeeding Lieutenant Campbell.

Both General Hodges and General Miles, who have been relieved from duty in the Philippines, will soon be given posts in the north, according to telegrams received from The Constitution correspondent at Washington, and it is probable that there will be a general shifting around in order to secure a man to head this department.

WAR DECLARED ON LOCAL OPTION

Indiana Democrats Plan to Repeal County Plan.

Indianapolis, Ind., February 1.—Forty-nine of the democratic representatives in caucus tonight on the county local option issue, agreed, it is said, to support a bill repealing the county local option law and substituting the democratic platform idea of township and ward option, carrying with it a high license. Ten members, it is said, refused to be bound by action of the caucus.

The compromise plan, said to have been adopted by the majority of the members present, provides, according to report, the repeal of the local option law, and the substitution of the township and ward local option with a license of $300 to $500.

Representatives Sicks, Chrisney, Clore, Hostetter, Merriman, Madigan, Gottschalk, Moss, Davis and Maish are said to have refused tonight to be bound by caucus action. If the forty-nine representatives who are said to have united tonight for the proposed high license and repeal measure, vote as expected, two republican votes will be necessary to pass the bill in the house.

This is the third attempt the house has made to get all members in line for a repeal. At the first meeting, some days ago, a number of the temperance democrats withdrew and refused to be bound by the action of the caucus, expressing themselves as opposed to a repeal of the law. Another attempt was made last Friday night to get the members together, but there were not enough for a quorum present.

FRENCH GIRL MADE SLAVE BY MAN IN THE ATLANTA PEN

Chicago, February 1.—A pitiful story of a beautiful girl snatched from the streets of Paris and lured to the United States, today resulted in the conviction of Henry Lair, charged by the government with being promoter of the so-called "white slave" traffic in this country. Lair was sentenced by Judge Landis to serve two years in the government prison at Leavenworth, Kans., and to pay a $2,500 fine, the sentence following a hearing of Lair's plea of "nolle contendere." The next case to be tried is that of Lucien D'Arvaille, Lair's supposed wife, who was indicted with him on charges of importing French girls to this country in violation of the immigration laws.

Marie Peuroy, 19 years old, was the chief witness for the government. When 14 years old, she said, she was met on the streets of Paris by Jules Dufour, who later introduced her to Louis Paynt, now in the government prison at Atlanta, Ga. Paynt induced her to come to America, and brought her to Chicago, where she fell into the hands of Lair, who had come from San Francisco. It was by informing the immigration officers that she was finally rescued, and started federal authorities to break up what is called a "syndicate."

GOV. PATTERSON IS MENTIONED IN MURDER TRIAL

ALLEGED THAT JUROR ACCUSED THE GOVERNOR

In Attacking Juror Whitworth, It Is Charged by the Defense That He Said Patterson Had Hand in Carmack Killing and All Defendants Should Be Hanged.

Nashville, Tenn., February 1.—For the first time the name of Governor Patterson was mentioned today in the trial of Colonel Duncan B. Cooper, Robin J. Cooper and John D. Sharp for the killing of former Senator E. W. Carmack. But this was only one of the sensations of the day. The other followed a decision of Judge W. M. Hart that Juror J. M. Whitworth was physically able to continue in the box.

Immediately Judge Anderson, of the defense, announced that he had evidence that Whitworth had expressed a violent opinion and was, therefore, incompetent. He declared that the defense preferred, because of Whitworth's standing in the community, to see him excused because of illness. He added, however, that his duty to his clients compelled him to ask that Whitworth be dismissed as incompetent.

Patterson's Name Brought In.

One of the first witnesses called by the defense swore Whitworth had declared that the killing of Carmack cost Governor Patterson many followers, and that he (Whitworth) believed the governor had a hand in the murder. Another witness swore that Whitworth, a few days after the slaying, openly declared: "Every damned one of these men (defendants) ought to be hanged."

At the conclusion of the defense's testimony the state asked for time to meet the charges, and court adjourned until 9 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The court, when proceedings opened, announced that he had another letter, the third, from the wife or Juror Whitworth. This differed materially from

Speaking of Women's Shoes

Take the "Josephine," for example--the most successful moderate-price shoe on the American market today.

Take the one feature of "style"--a conspicuous Josephine element.

Factories are wide awake. No drowsy, dreamy siestas for them these strenuous days. They're keenly awake to the fact that women want shoes with "style" in them. So some of these factories put in style and nothing else. They give a few fancy touches and think that's all. They subordinate service to what they are pleased to call "style."

Not so the Josephine people.

They are wide awake, too, but they have a conscience. They give style of the smartest sort to every pair of shoes they make. But they wed style with service.

That accounts for the peerlessness of the Josephine.

All styles $3.50.

300 INDICTMENTS WILL BE RETURNED

As Result of Probing Oklahoma Land Frauds.

Nashville Men Called as Witnesses Find That They Once Owned Lots in Oklahoma, but Knew Nothing About It.

Muskogee, Okla., February 1.—It was stated here today, from a reliable source, that the government expects the federal grand jury, now in session here, to return at least 300 indictments involving from fourteen to twenty persons, in the alleged Muskogee town lot fraud cases. The jury resumed its session today, examining several witnesses.

J. B. Carr, W. E. Metzger, W. M. Shook, R. M. Dudley, D. T. Williams, E. E. Jones, D. Loveman, J. S. Hopkins, J. W. Carter, J. H. Canady, R. M. Heugh, W. H. Metz, K. A. Timothy, P. J. Grune, H. L. Sperry, R. L. Ben, H. A. French, Stewart Kirgpatrick, H. A. Dodd and J. G. Chase.

The testimony of the Tennessee witnesses has proven a revelation. One of the twenty-five witnesses from that state, said, in a statement tonight:

"When I was subpoenaed by the government to come to Muskogee, I did not know there was such a town on the map. I had never heard of it, and wondered what Uncle Sam wanted me for. Since my arrival I have learned that I was once the owner of a four-acre lot here. I also learned that, in some mysterious manner, the lot and I had parted company, and some one had signed my name to the quit-claim deed. That is what I'll have to tell the jury."

War on Divorce Colony.

Carson, Nev., February 1.—The state assembly today passed a bill providing that applicants for divorce in Nevada must be residents of the state two years instead of six months, as heretofore.

Five Years

of Heart Trouble Cured by Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy

"Before I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I had been suffering from heart trouble for over five years. I had pains in my left side, and under my shoulder blade, could not sleep on the left side, and was so short of breath the least exertion would bring on the most distressing palpitation. I had scarcely taken a half bottle of the Heart Remedy before I could see a marked change in my condition. When I had taken six bottles I was cured."

MRS. C. C. GORKEY,
Northfield, Va.

If there is fluttering or palpitation it is an indication of a weakness of the nerves and muscles of the heart. It is not necessarily diseased—just weak from over-work. The heart may be weak just the same as the eyes, stomach or other organs. You can make a weak heart strong by taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy. Get a bottle from your druggist, take it according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

HE FAILS TO FACE LARCENY CHARGE

Brandenburg Has Forfeited Bond of $1,500.

He Is the Man Who Sold the Alleged Article by Grover Cleveland, Lauding Taft and Knocking Bryan.

New York, February 1.—A warrant for the arrest of Broughton Brandenburg, the magazine writer, whose sale to The New York Times of an article alleged to have been written by Grover Cleveland, resulted in his indictment on a charge of grand larceny, a few weeks ago, was issued today by Justice Dowling.

The case against Brandenburg on the grand larceny charge was to have come up before Justice Dowling in the supreme court today, but when the time came for the calling of the defendant to the bar, Brandenburg, who had been out on $1,500 bail, furnished by a bonding company, could not be found. Justice Dowling forfeited Brandenburg's bail, and issued a bench warrent for his arrest. At a late hour tonight no trace of Brandenburg had been found.

Samuel B. Thomas, Brandenburg's attorney, said he had received no word from his client since last night, when he had had a telephonic conversation with him, and was in ignorance of the writer's whereabouts.

The present case against Brandenburg grew out of the selling by him of an article, purporting to have been written by the late Grover Cleveland, and representing him as advocating the election of William H. Taft. After its publication the article was widely circulated as campaign literature. The article was brought to the attention of Mrs. Cleveland, who is alleged to have declared it entirely apocryphal, and an investigation ensued, which resulted in the indictment of Brandenburg on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree, preferred by The Times.

VOTE ON PROHIBITION IN WEST VIRGINIA

House Favors Submission, and the Measure Goes to the Senate.

Charleston, W. Va., February 1.—By a vote of 62 to 13 the house of delegates today passed the Williams resolution, which proposed the submission to the voters of an amendment to the constitution providing for state-wide prohibition.

The resolution will be brought up in the senate and the forces for and against prohibition are exerting themselves to their utmost in preparation for the impending contest.

To Probe Confederate Home.

Jefferson City, Mo., February 1.—The Missouri senate today adopted a resolution providing for an investigation of the charges of the Rev. J. N. Crutcher, of Kansas City, a member of the state board of charities and corrections, against the management of the Confederate home at Higginsville. The charges are to the effect that drunkenness and immorality prevail among the inmates.

Condition of Dr. Bull.

Savannah, Ga., February 1.—The following bulletin was issued today by Dr. William T. Bull's physicians:

"Dr. Bull passed a quiet and comfortable day. He was in the sun about an hour this morning. Temperature and pulse normal.

"JOHN B. WALKER, M. D.
"WILLIAM B. CRAWFORD, M. D."

Lincoln Cabin Moved.

Louisville, Ky., February 1.—In preparation for the observance of the Lincoln centenary on the birthplace of the emancipator, near Hodgenville, Ky., the cabin in which Lincoln was born was tonight removed to the memorial farm. This cabin, which was on exhibition here during Kentucky's famous homecoming week, in 1906, has been stored since in a local warehouse.

MADE ELDERS PAY FOR HIS CLOTHES

This Is One Charge Against Bishop Smith.

Extortion, Graft, Tyranny, Oppression and Maladministration Among Charges Filed Against Official of A. M. E. Church.

That Bishop Charles Spencer Smith, of the African Methodist Episcopal church, in charge of the Georgia conference, has used his office for personal gain is one of the charges preferred against the bishop by Rev. John Harmon, formerly presiding elder of the Atlanta district. The charges have now been filed with the proper authorities, and will come before the house of bishops, which begins its semi-annual session at Mt. Zion church, in Jacksonville, Thursday.

That Bishop Smith forced his presiding elders to give two dollars apiece on a suit of clothes for him; that he published two booklets and forced each preacher to buy one, and that he used funds of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society to pay lawyer's fees and expenses of a law suit, are among the specifications.

"Church Being Destroyed."

Bishop Smith is also charged with pursuing a policy that means the destruction of the church in Georgia, with tyranny and oppression, and maladministration. His alleged reckless use of the appointive power in such a manner as to leave a large number of ministers without charges, is the basis of the charge of a destructive policy; the collection of funds not authorized by the church law is charged under the head of administration, and he is charged with having exercised tyranny and oppression in holding conferences.

Bishop Smith has denied the charges, and declares that they are prompted by spite, and further alleges that Harmon is a man without standing in the church.

In reply Harmon claims that he now holds an appointment from Smith as pastor of the Douglasville circuit.

Oppression and Tyranny.

Your petitioner charges the Right Rev. Charles Spencer Smith of being guilty of oppression and tyranny. That is to say, the bishop did, in an oppressive and tyrannical manner, order motions passed, and threatened suspension to all who in any way showed any opposition to his policy, and publicly announced that all who did not want to be with him could get out. And to prove his oppressive and tyrannical manner, many of the preachers who did not approve his policy were put on poor appointments, reduced in rank and salary, and several were forced to transfer out of the district.

Your petitioner further charges that the bishop did not conduct his conference as a conference of ministers, but he conducted the conference as a school to instruct the preachers how to carry out his orders and do his bidding.

The members of the conference, on account of threats and intimidations, were afraid to offer motions, ask questions, raise points of order, or to act in any manner as a deliberate body of Christian ministers, for fear of being insulted, ostracised, or be revenged in appointment.

Your petitioner charges the Right Rev. Charles Spencer Smith with pursuing a policy to destroy the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society. His policy has disorganized the society, and in his appointment of officers for this society he has wholly killed the interest in it in the local churches. His disposition of the funds and taking the work and distribution of the money out of the hands of the officers, and not consulting the officers of the society, has sounded its death knell.

Much of the general dissatisfaction in the district comes from the fact that the bishop took from $25 to $50 of the Woman's Missionary money and applied the same on a law suit.

Maladministration.

That the bishop collected money from the conference fund for episcopal expenses.

That he ordered the presiding elders to collect one dollar from each pastor on his district, and pay the same over to the bishop for an episcopal fund, and that said fund in Georgia will aggregate six hundred dollars per annum.

The bishop further ordered each presiding elder to collect from each pastor one dollar for an episcopal fund, and that the presiding elder pay the same over to the bishop at the presiding elders' council the current year.

Your petitioner charges the Right Rev. Charles Spencer Smith with fixing appointments without the aid and counsel of the presiding elders, thus causing much confusion, and requiring scores of changes, to the hurt of the preachers, and disturbing of congregations, and by this policy of appointment preachers were piled up on each other in assignments.

Extortion and Graft.

That is to say, the bishop published two booklets during the year and forced each preacher to buy one. The same amounted to several hundred dollars. In addition to this, the bishop collected large sums from the conference for episcopal expenses.

Your petitioner charges the bishop with using large sums of money from the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society to pay lawyer's fees and expenses of a law suit.

The bishop coerced the presiding elders to give two dollars each on a suit of clothes for the bishop.

It is estimated that the bishop obtained upwards of fifteen hundred dollars for various personal uses.

Your petitioner further sets forth that at the Atlanta (Georgia) annual conference, and it is reported that at the other conferences the bishop acted in a manner and exhibited such a spirit that many believed he was under the influence of drugs or alcohol, and that the bishop exhibited a spirit of resentfulness and dictatorial power; so much so, until the preachers were dispirited and driven into fear.

THE METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE CO.

For the information of its army of policyholders, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, of New York, has issued a statement of its standing at the end of the year 1908.

The magnitude of the company's operations is astounding. The total amount of outstanding policies at the end of the year was $1,861,890,808, but we can easily grasp the no less astonishing fact that during the business hours of every day in the year an average of 6,343 new policies were issued and paid for. Every day—taking the average for the year—441 persons received from the company the full value in cash of policies which had been carried for their benefit. Every day the company paid out to its policyholders and added to the policy-paying fund (reserve fund) more than $166,000. The value of property owned and acquired by the Metropolitan Life during 1908 increased at the rate of $127,000 per day. A policyholder of the company dies every six minutes, and the company pays during business hours a death claim on the average every sixty-two seconds.

The company owns nearly one hundred million dollars' worth of United States bonds, city bonds and railroad bonds and stocks; more than ninety millions of bonds and mortgages; more than twenty-two millions of real estate, and much other tangible property, all held as assets available for the payment of its obligations. Nearly ten million policies (9,960,106) are carried by individuals in the Metropolitan Life. If these policyholders were gathered into one community they would constitute a city of more than the combined population of the twelve largest cities in the United States.

It is obvious that the Metropolitan Life is managed and controlled by men of consummate ability, but so are thousands of business organizations that never approach this company in magnitude of operations.

Instead of leading its policyholders to hope for more than they eventually receive, the company has voluntarily taken a directly opposite course. Within the past few years the company has distributed sums amounting to nearly eighteen millions of dollars among its policyholders in bonuses in addition to what the policies promised. This has been done under no other obligation than a moral conviction that the company should share its prosperity with those who contribute toward its success. ...

COLD WAVE INCREASING.

Temperature Is Still Dropping Throughout Kentucky.

Lexington, Ky., February 1.—Although the weather was already intensely cold throughout central and eastern Kentucky, the temperature continued slowly dropping today. Great suffering is reported in the mountain districts, and much live stock is reported to have died from the cold.

Great snowdrifts in this section are being plowed through today, and rural mail service will soon be resumed.

WOMAN BADLY BURNED TRYING TO SAVE CHILD

Mrs. George Kingery Found in an Unconscious Condition by Her Husband.

Statesboro, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—Mrs. George Kingery, wife of a prominent farmer, was burned to death at her home, near Excelsior, this county, Saturday afternoon.

In trying to save her only child, a little baby, who was playing near the fireplace, Mrs. Kingery's skirt caught fire. She first tried to put it out with bed clothing. She then ran into the yard and rolled over in the sand, but, failing to extinguish the flames there, she ran back to the house and fell on the piazza, where she was later found by her husband. The child was badly burned, but will live.

No Pensions for Judges.

Washington, February 1.—By a vote of 88 to 83 the house today declined to suspend the rules to pass the senate bill to pension federal judges who have served ten years in any federal court upon reaching the age of 70 years, at the same salary, payable to him at the time of resignation.

Engine Crushed His Hand.

Americus, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—Engineer Charles Sanborn fell beneath a moving locomotive in the yards of the Seaboard Air Line here this afternoon, the greater portion of his left hand being severed. Engineer Sanborn slipped while descending from the slowly moving engine which crushed his hand.

Two Trainers Crushed.

Waxahachie, Tex., February 1.—L. B. Smith and T. L. Calloway, brakemen on the Trinity and Brazos Valley railroad, were crushed to death under a locomotive near here today. Calloway's head was severed from his body. The engine was derailed.

SCORING GIVEN TO ROOSEVELT

For Letters to the Legislature of California.

Legislature of Nevada Criticises Roosevelt for Alleged Effort to Coerce and Urges California to Pass the Anti-Japanese Bills.

Carson, Nevada, February 1.—An anti-Japanese resolution was introduced in the assembly of the Nevada legislature this afternoon, which, it is believed, will be passed. After stating that the Japanese are acquiring lands and property in this and other states, the resolution says:

Club are to start a new industrial de-

"The president has seen fit to take advantage of his high office to the extent of attempting to coerce and intimidate legislation in California upon this subject; and whereas we view with alarm this attempted encroachment of the government on state rights; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we, the people of the state of Nevada, represented in senate and assembly, do hereby recommend to the state of California to pay no attention whatever to the admonishing of the president in this particular, but go ahead and enact such stringent measures as will absolutely stop forthwith the encroachment of the Japanese and the further acquiring of foothold in this nation; and,

"Whereas, we believe there is no danger of war with the Japanese, as is advanced by those who oppose our views, but we believe that if we must have war with the Japanese empire, sooner or later, now is a better time to lay down terms to that empire, and teach these arrogant people that American rights cannot be encroached upon, and they cannot, nor never will, be allowed or given an opportunity to acquire a foothold in this country, or to assimilate with our race, and we further censure Theodore Roosevelt, the president of the United States, for his so-called interference in attempting to deprive the citizens of the great commonwealth of California, by threats and coercion, from extending their lawful rights of protecting themselves from the Japanese hordes; and be it further

"Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to our representatives in congress, urging them to use their influence in enacting an exclusion act against the Japanese and Chinese, which will perpetually exclude them from coming into this country."

ATLANTA IS PAID VISIT BY WILLIAM THOMPSON

By Advertising He Has Made the City of Kalamazoo, Mich., Famous.

William Thompson, of Kalamazoo, Mich., vice president and general manager of the Kalamazoo Stove Company, arrived in Atlanta Saturday, and after a pleasnt stay of two and a half days left early this morning for his northern home.

The success of Mr. Thompson's company is attributed by him to advertising, for which he spends annually something over $100,000 to tell the people that the best way to buy a stove is "Kalamazoo direct to you." That slogan has made the hustling little city of Kalamazoo, Mich., famous.

It has been seventeen years since Mr. Thompson was in Atlanta, and he was astounded at its growth. He says that Atlanta is the most progressive city in the country, except Kalamazoo.

Mr. Thompson was entertained during his stay by J. C. Rushin, superintendent of the Atlanta Gas Light Company. Last night Mr. Thompson addressed the Atlanta Gas Light Company Employees' Association at its first meeting, on the subject, "Advertising."

Mr. Thompson was accompanied by his wife, and his stay in the city was purely of a social nature. They have been spending the winter in Florida, and are now returning north.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND DON'T KNOW IT

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, serious results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and should have attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalency of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient or physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable health restoring properties in the most distressing cases.

Symptoms of Kidney Trouble.

Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything, but if you are obliged to pass your water frequently night and day, smarting or irritation in passing, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, headache, backache, lame back, dizziness, poor digestion, sleeplessness, nervousness, heart disturbance due to bad kidney trouble, skin eruptions from bad blood, neuralgia, rheumatism, lumbago, bloating, irritability, worn-out feeling, lack of ambition, maybe loss of flesh, sallow complexion, or Bright's disease may be stealing upon you, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Swamp-Root is Pleasant to Take.

If you are already convinced that Swamp-Root is what you need, you can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles at all drug stores. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., which you will find on every bottle.

If You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best.

Swamp-Root is always kept up to its high standard of purity and excellence. A sworn certificate of purity with every bottle.

SAMPLE BOTTLE FREE—To prove the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands of letters received from men and women who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy they needed. The value and success of Swamp-Root is so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in The Atlanta Daily Constitution.

WILL REST IN OAKLAND UNTIL O'HARAS GATHER

Until the O'Hara clan gathers in Atlanta on April 1 to bury their dead, the body of Annie O'Hara, 7 years old, daughter of John O'Hara, and niece of Tom, the leader of his people, will rest in a vault in Oakland.

The little girl was burned to death while standing too near a fire at a tent not far from Watersboro, S. C., Sunday morning, and her body was brought to Atlanta last night for funeral services, which will be conducted today at the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

The O'Haras are horse traders and lead a nomad kind of life. They gather once each year in Atlanta to conduct the burial of their dead.

BITTER WEATHER GRIPS NEW YORK

Two Deaths Have Been Reported as a Result of the Cold. Killing Frosts in Northern and Central Florida.

New York, February 1.—Swept by a biting northwest wind, New York city today experienced the coldest weather of the winter. With the temperature in the city down to the zero point just before daylight, and the official thermometer on the weather bureau registering 5 degrees above zero, the suffering of the homeless during the night must have been intense.

Two thousand applicants for food and coffee were lined up at the Bowery Mission during the night, which was the largest number fed at that place thus far this winter. In addition to these, 318 persons, including 24 women, were given shelter at the city lodging house and the pier of the charities department at the foot of East Twenty-sixth street. The street cleaning department had 600 men at work removing the snow during the night, but when the cold became intense the men suffered so greatly that the work was discontinued.

Eighteen families were driven from their homes in a tenement house in East Seventy-seventh street by a fire early today. Policemen, whose pity was excited by their sufferings from the cold, went through the adjoining houses in search of neighbors who would give them shelter. The fire caused little damage.

The cold is general throughout the state. At points in the Adirondacks the mercury was as low as 32 degrees below zero, while in central and western New York the temperature was from 3 to 5 degrees below, with 15 to 20 below in the northern tier of counties. Railway traffic was not interfered with.

Two deaths resulted from the cold today. James Kelly, aged 70, was found frozen to death at Irvington, and Malcolm Meyer, 54, a hack driver, was found dead in a stable.

Snowing at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, February 1.—The coldest weather of the season was experienced here today, when the thermometer registered 9 degrees above zero. A light snow is falling, and the mercury is rising.

MARY GARDEN IN ROLE OF SALOME, WHICH CAUSED BIG SENSATION

The operatic sensation of the season in New York is Mary Garden's interpretation of Salome at the Manhattan. The Strauss-Wilde piece was produced at the Metropolitan two years ago, but was taken off after one performance. It aroused a storm of criticism on that occasion, and Hammerstein only attempted it at the Manhattan after long deliberation. Several prominent clergymen in the metropolis are now declaring that it should be suppressed.

W. C. PUCKETT GETS CITY APPOINTMENT

Is Made Investigator by the City Attorney.

He Will Succeed Henry F. Garrett, Who Resigned to Accept Position With Attorney for the Central Railroad.

W. C. Puckett, member of the park board from the first ward and one of the prominent labor leaders in the city, has been appointed city investigator by City Attorney W. P. Hill to succeed Henry F. Garrett, resigned.

The appointment of Mr. Puckett will come as a surprise, as very few people knew that Mr. Garrett had resigned.

The city attorney has not yet made public his appointment, but when asked about it yesterday he replied that Mr. Garrett had resigned and Mr. Puckett had been appointed to fill the vacancy.

W. C. PUCKETT.
He Is Made Investigator.

Mr. Puckett will assume the duties of his position as investigator for the city attorney on February 15.

It was only recently that the salary of the investigator was raised from $1,350 to $1,500 a year, and Mr. Puckett will come in for the increase.

Mr. Garrett resigned as investigator to accept a more lucrative position with the Central railroad's attorney, Hon. John D. Little. He has made a most excellent record in the city attorney's office and the raise in salary recently made was for his benefit and as a recognition of his valuable services.

Mr. Puckett has been connected with the office of Attorney C. T. Ladson and is well qualified to fill his position with the city.

The friends of Mr. Puckett will congratulate him on his good fortune and at the same time congratulate the city attorney on the wise choice he has made.

FRED BUSH WEDS KATE DOOLITTLE

Wedding Occurred Sunday Instead of Tuesday.

Bride and Groom Left for New Home — Wedding Occurred at Home of Bride's Mother, 447 East Georgia Avenue.

The wedding bells for Fred Bush and Mrs. Kate Doolittle seem to have rung two days ahead of the schedule time, for the couple were married on Sunday afternoon last, instead of on Tuesday, the date set for the wedding.

As stated in Sunday's Constitution, Fred Bush, the commission merchant, and Mrs. Kate Doolittle, of 447 East Georgia avenue, were to have been married tomorrow afternoon. On Saturday Mr. Bush secured the marriage license and the wedding ring, and, all religious obstacles having been removed, they decided to hurry up matters a little, and so were wedded on Sunday.

The marriage took place in the Church of the Immaculate Conception at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, Rev. Father McVeigh officiating.

There were only two witnesses present. Father McVeigh was notified at 3 o'clock that the little wedding party waited for him at the church, and he at once went there and performed the ceremony that made Mrs. Doolittle Mrs. Fred Bush.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom went to their new home on West Fifth street, just off Peachtree, where they will be at home to their friends. Mr. Bush recently purchased and furnished the home for his bride.

During the wedding ceremony little Charles Doolittle, Jr., was at his mother's home, sleeping peacefully in his crib.

Mrs. Bush was the widow of Charles Doolittle, who died at St. Joseph's infirmary some five or six months ago.

Fred Bush was arrested and tried for sending an infernal machine to the McCarthy home on May 8, 1907, and he was vindicated. He had been a lifelong friend of Charlie Doolittle. A year later Charles Doolittle married Miss Kate McCarthy. When he became ill he was nursed until the day of his death by Fred Bush.

At the trial of Fred Bush Mrs. McCarthy swore that she believed he was guilty, but now she has changed her mind and stoutly affirms his innocence.

The whole story, which was published in Sunday's Constitution, was one of the most dramatic episodes from real life that ever occurred.

Fred Bush has shown himself to be a true friend of the McCarthy family, and he not only won the heart of Mrs. Doolittle by his attention and kindness, but also the love of her mother and other relatives.

Panama, February 1.—The charge made in the American congress recently by Representative Henry T. Rainey, of Illinois, against Domingo de Obaldia, president of Panama, and others, have brought out denials from the president and sixteen members of the national assembly.

The assemblymen have signed a statement asserting that they were present at a meeting in the president's office where the contract for the exploitation of the timber industry along the Atlantic coast of Panama was discussed and that during the meeting neither President Obaldia, nor any one else said or implied that Charles P. Taft, William Nelson Cromwell or Richard L. Farnham had any direct or indirect participation in the business. Among those signing the statement are Dr. Pablo Arosemena, Julio Febregar and other prominent opposition leaders of the assembly.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York

The Record of 1908

The fiscal year ending December 31 was pre-eminently a prosperous one for the policyholders of this Company. In every material respect their interests have been advanced.

Favorable features of the year may be noted as follows:

The assets are now $539,038,968.13, an increase of $44,861,947.10.

The total net reserve for outstanding policies and annuities is $433,137,716.00, an increase of $13,042,974.00.

The reserve held for payment of deferred dividends and other contingencies (so-called "surplus") is $85,844,991.20, an increase of $28,314,221.75.

The premium income for 1908 was $58,994,653.29, an increase of $2,355,453.09.

The total income for 1908 was $84,880,026.81, an increase of $3,705,552.96.

The new insurance paid for (not including revived) was $93,926,992.00, an increase of $45,206,942.00.

The interest and rents received were $24,300,559.94, an increase of $1,466,453.91.

On the other hand, the death claims paid during the year were $21,664,819.77, a decrease of $1,629,213.04.

Increased Dividends

There has been appropriated for dividends to be paid in 1909 the sum of $11,092,282.38.

This sum greatly exceeds the largest amount ever before paid as dividends in a single year by any company. The increase made in the annual dividends of The Mutual Life in recent years, as a result of changes and improvements instituted by the Board of Trustees, is unparalleled.

In Economy of Management the Company Stands Pre-eminent

The total expense of management (exclusive of taxes) paid in 1908 was $7,123,180.69.

This is but 8.39 per cent of the total income—a lower ratio of expense than any American company doing a general business has heretofore been able to show. It has sometimes been asserted that the decreasing expenses of various companies in recent years are due merely to a smaller amount of new insurance written. This is not true of The Mutual Life. Although there has been an increase in new paid-for business in 1908 of $45,206,942.00 over the amount written in 1907, involving an increase of $432,680.83 in first commissions, the other expenses show reduction aggregating $738,799.14, making a net reduction in expense of management of $306,118.31.

DEALS IN FUTURES ARE BEING FOUGHT

It Is Proposed to Prevent Use of Mails and Other Interstate Means of Communication for Sending Fictitious Prices.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, D. C., February 1.—(Special.)—The agricultural committee of the house today named February 17 as the date for a hearing upon the bills which seek to prohibit dealing in future contracts based on agricultural products. To accomplish this purpose, it is sought to prohibit the use of the mails and other interstate means of communication for sending fictitious prices made by means of exchange manipulations.

Congress has heretofore refused to consider any of these bills seriously, though a number have been introduced in each house. A bill providing that neither the railroads, telegraph, telephone, steamships or express companies may transmit any communication bearing upon future contracts is said to have the indorsement of the Farmers' Union. Such a bill has been introduced by Representative Henry, of Texas. It is claimed under his bill legitimate transactions will not be affected.

National President C. S. Barrett, of the Farmers' Union, and the state president from Texas, D. J. Neill, the members of the national executive committee and other officers of the Farmers' Union, are expected to come to Washington on February 17, to urge the passage of the bill.

COMER WILL PUSH SUIT.

Governor of Alabama Wants Damages From L. & N.

Birmingham, Ala., February 1.—Governor Comer arrived here at noon today to push his damage suit against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company. He seeks damages for the publication in newspapers in the state of an alleged defamatory article during the campaign a few years ago for railroad commissioner. He was successful in the campaign.

A verdict for 1 cent was awarded recently in his suit against The Montgomery Advertiser, one of the newspapers publishing the objected-to article.

The governor stated that he had no information to give out in reference to filling the vacancy in the chief justiceship of the supreme court of Alabama.

THREE OFFICERS MAY BE INDICTED

Grand Jury Summons Hall County Commissioners.

W. N. Dyer, Jeff D. Whelchel and I. Frank Duncan Must Answer Charges of Malpractice in Office and for Letting Bids Without First Advertising.

Gainesville, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—The grand jury of Hall county this afternoon served notice upon W. N. Dyer, former ordinary and chairman of the board of commissioners of roads and revenues, and Jeff D. Whelchel and I. Frank Duncan, the former a member of the present board of commissioners of roads and revenues, and its present chairman, and the latter a member of the board for six months during 1908, to show cause why indictments should not be returned against each for malpractice in office and for violating the law in letting contracts for building bridges in Clinchem district without first advertising for bids for same.

Indictments Drawn.

Solicitor General W. A. Charters today drew up the bill of indictments against the three former commissioners, and Judge Dyer and Mr. Whelchel were served with notice of same by Sheriff Crow this afternoon. Mr. Duncan had returned to his home in Clichem district, however, before the officer could serve him, but Deputy Sheriff Little left late this afternoon to serve the notice upon Mr. Duncan tonight. The fact that the grand jury had determined upon this action was made known late this afternoon and created considerable excitement. The former commissioners are notified to appear before the grand jury tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

Malpractice in Office.

The proposed indictment is upon two counts—first, for malpractice in office, and, second, for letting bridge contracts without advertising for bids for same. It is alleged by some who appear to be close to the grand jury that the alleged malpractice consists in various acts of favoritism by which certain friends of the commissioners were given contracts or jobs for the county and that the county did not receive full value for its money in said transactions.

Must Have a Hearing.

Under the law no county officer can be indicted by the grand jury without first being given the privilege of a hearing before the grand jury. If they see fit to do so, the commissioners may appear, and, if they prove to the satisfaction of the grand jury that no indictments should be returned, a "no bill" is found, and the matter ends.

The grand jury has for two weeks been making investigations into the alleged misconduct of the former commissioners, and today's action is based on its findings.

TRAINS WERE STALLED BY RUSSIAN THISTLE

During Blizzard Great Weeds Were Blown About by Millions.

Oakley, Kan., February 1.—In the late blizzard great damage was done by the Russian thistle, more commonly known as the tumble weed. The weeds, which are about the size of a half bushel measure and almost round, blew over the prairie by the millions. In some cases they even stalled trains by piling in the cuts.

Near Oberlin, a touring car caught fire while trying to force its way through the Russian thistles and was completely destroyed, the occupants narrowly escaping being burned to death.

Thistles by the millions were hurled before the wind, and orchards were packed full, yards and fences were hidden, alleys and sidewalks blocked and in instances, the weeds were piled so high about houses that only by using a pitchfork could the occupants clear a way through them.

MONEY IS GIVEN TO GEORGIANS

In War Claims Bill as Passed by the Senate.

St. Philip's Cathedral in Atlanta Receives $800 Additional — Julia A. Crusselle Given $8,190 for the Estate of William H. Rice.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, February 1.—(Special.)—The omnibus war claims bill has been amended in the senate by the addition of about $3,000,000 worth of claims and sent back to the house. It is probable that it will be adopted by the house practically in the same shape as it passed the senate.

The adoption of the amendment of Senator Fulton naming January 10, 1910, as the last date on which war claims may be referred by congress to the court of claims will probably bring a rush of claims from those who have hitherto delayed the filing of war claims.

Another interesting feature of this war claims business is the extension to May 30, 1909, of the time in which confederate soldiers may file claims for horses taken from them following the surrender and parole and while they were on their way back to their southern homes. Representative Howard, of Georgia, last year introduced a bill carrying this provision. It has been approved and the time extended from April 27, 1908, to May 30, 1909. This allows four more months in which claims for horses, vehicles and side arms taken from paroled soldiers may be filed.

Georgia War Claims.

In the amended omnibus claims bill appear the following Georgia claims. The first eleven were those added in the senate by Senators Bacon and Clay:

"Mary M. Banks, heir of Henry Banks, $15,375.

"Sarah Jane Bellah, administratrix, Atlanta, $2,980.

"To Graysville, Ga., $600.

"To Archibald A. Griggs, administrator, $760.

"To Albion W. Knight, Atlanta, and others, $800.

"To trustees of the African Methodist Episcopal church, of Marietta, Ga., $425.

"To trustees of Jerusalem Evangelical Lutheran church, Ebenezer, Ga., $225.

"To trustees of Methodist church, south, Powder Springs, Ga., $800.

"To Clementine Vaughan, administratrix, $1,901.

"To G. W. Aycock, administrator of the estate of Reddick Aycock, deceased, late of Walton county, $515.

"To Fannie Crow, administratrix of the estate of Levi Crow, deceased, late of Paulding county, $710.

"To Julia A. Crusselle, administratrix of William H. Rice, deceased, of Fulton county, $8,190.

"To Plymouth Frazier, Jr., of Liberty county, $122.

"To Abraham Greeson, of Gordon county, $405.

"To Catharine Kelton, of Fulton county, $500.

"To Joe M. Moon, administrator of the estate of Elijah Pinson, deceased, late of Bartow county, $705.

"To Matilda J. Smith, widow of Melvin J. Smith, deceased, late of Whitfield county, $295.

"To S. Inman, administrator of the estate of Jacob B. Russell, deceased, late of Catoosa county, $3,210."

END OF A RED NOSE

New Flesh-Colored Product That Heals and Hides Skin Imperfections.

A peculiar feature of poslam, a new skin discovery, is that it is naturally flesh-colored and contains no grease, so that when used on the face for the complexion, or for pimples, red noses, or any other inflammations, blemishes, or discolorations, its presence cannot be detected. It can thus be applied in the daytime, the natural color of the skin being immediately restored and the actual healing and curing process accomplished in a few days. It can be had of any pharmacist who sells pure drugs. Jacobs' Pharmacy and Brannen's drug store make a specialty of it. Fifty cents' worth will answer either for the troubles mentioned or in curing ordinary cases of eczema. Itching stops at once.

The Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West Twenty-fifth Street, New York, are the sole dispensing agents for poslam in the United States, and will send an experimental quantity free by mail in plain wrapper to all who write for it. This will show results after an overnight application.

FIGHT OVER CRUM STIRRING SENATE

Nomination of Negro Opposed by Democrats.

Senator Tillman Is Leading the Fight, but Has the Support of His Democratic Colleagues.

Washington, February 1.—The senate went into executive session at 1 o'clock today to consider the nomination of William B. Crum for reappointment as collector of customs at Charleston, S. C. The democrats opposed closing the doors, but a motion of Senator Frye, chairman of the committee on commerce, prevailed by a vote of 33 to 18.

Crum was confirmed a year ago, after a fight extending over three sessions, but is again opposed by Senator Tillman, who is supported by his democratic colleagues. It is said that President-elect Taft desires to have the nomination disposed of, so as not to involve his administration at its beginning in a fight with the senate over an appointment.

After the doors were closed and the Crum case laid before the senate, Mr. Tillman asked that consideration be allowed to go over until tomorrow. His request was granted, and the legislative session was then resumed.

DEATH OF OWEN KING.

Was Father of Dr. J. Cheston King, of Atlanta.

Dr. J. Cheston King has just returned to the city after a few days' absence in Jackson, La., where he attended the funeral of his father, Owen King, who was well known throughout the state of Louisiana.

In speaking of the death of Mr. King, The New Orleans Times-Democrat says:

In the death of the late Owen King at Jackson, La., last week, the central portion of the state lost one of its oldest and best known residents and many close personal friends are left to mourn the passing of a unique and lovable figure. The town of Jackson had known Mr. King for a score or more of years and while the greater part of his life had been spent there, he was not without friends in New Orleans and other portions of Louisiana as well as in other states.

At the time of his death Mr. King was in his seventieth year. He was born in the romantic little town of Athlone, on the beautiful Shannon river, in Ireland, and remained to the hour of his death strongly attached to his mother country, though at all times a stalwart American. At an early age Mr. King sought his fortunes in America and several years before the civil war made his way to Iowa. In Iowa Mr. King prospered, but after remaining there a short while, came to Louisiana.

Settling in New Orleans, Mr. King engaged in various mercantile pursuits and became well known among the business interests of the city. Two brothers had preceded him from Ireland to New Orleans and he joined them here. At the outbreak of the civil war Mr. King, with the close sympathy with the south, engendered by his stay in this section, entered one of the military companies of the state and served during the conflict.

Before the war between the states Mr. King had been engaged in sugar planting below Baton Rouge, but at the end of hostilities he directed his energies to commercial fields and took up his residence several years ago in Jackson. He had married Miss Ellen Fitzpatrick, an American lady, before the war and the couple enjoyed a happy married life, several children being born to bless the union.

In Jackson Mr. King occupied a peculiar place in the hearts of the residents of the town. He was acquainted with practically all of the men, women and children of the place and known to all for his genial good nature and kindly wit. Having a friendly word and a kind thought for all, he endeared himself to his neighbors in the town and throughout the parish.

Mr. King had been ill for several months, and while his end was not unexpected, the news of his passing away caused genuine regret. He was surrounded at his death, which occurred on Thursday, January 21, by his wife and children. Drs. J. Cheston and G. Wiley King, of Atlanta and Thomaston, Ga., traveled from their home to be with him in his last hours. Mr. King is survived by his widow and the following children: Mrs. H. J. Griffin, of Brookhaven, Miss.; Dr. J. Cheston King, of Atlanta, Ga.; Dr. G. Wiley King, of Thomaston, Ga.; Miss Belle King, of Jackson, La., and Mrs. Arthur Gardner, of Atlanta, Ga.

The funeral was held Saturday, January 23, in the afternoon, the Rev. Mr. McCormack, of the Methodist church of Jackson, officiating. At the house a touching scene was enacted when Hon. Henry Pond, of Ethel, La., a lifelong friend of Mr. King, paid an affectionate tribute to the memory of his friend. His remarks, evidently coming from the heart of the speaker, made a deep impression on his listeners, and all present felt the eloquence of Mr. Pond. The interment was in the cemetery at Jackson, and the grave was heaped high with many handsome offerings of flowers from friends and relatives of the deceased.

VICTORY FOR CRAWFORD.

Alleged Accomplice of Machen Given New Trial.

Washington, February 1.—In an opinion by Justice Peckham, the supreme court of the United States today finally decided in favor of Crawford in the case of William Gordon Crawford, agent in Washington for the Postal Device and Lock Company, who, with Machen, Lorenz and others, was sentenced to prison by the courts of the District of Columbia on the charge of defrauding the government in 1902 in connection with the irregularities of the postoffice department. Crawford was sentenced for two years and he appealed to the supreme court on the ground that he did not have a fair trial. Justice Peckham directed a new trial.

Sale of Caracal Coats

Caracal Coats have tumbled with the mercury---verily a blessing to the woman who needs a warm, smart, pretty wrap with which to brave the real winter that's now on and to come.

Perhaps you haven't been down town for a day or so---it's been so very nippy! If you haven't, you've missed seeing these garments in our window. They're very attractive. Many women, seeing them, have dropt in and dropt out again, pleased in the possession of one of these coats.

Caracal is not a real fur--it is the modified Russian Pony. It is lighter in weight, quite as effective in style, wonderfully well adapted to a climate where cold is not prolonged and extreme. The vogue of Caracal has been truly remarkable--so admirably has it met the demand for a luxurious looking wrap without the extreme weight of heavy real fur.

The manufacturers have developt some splendid models in Caracal and we are showing the best of these models.

We don't propose to show them very long, however. Today is their last day. Because today we are going to sell them this way:

50-inch Caracal Coats of excellent quality and smart cut. Regular $25 coats, $15.00

50-inch Caracal Coats of the very finest grade, block pattern, Skinner satin lining. Regular $35 coats, $20.00

36-inch Caracal Coats of the best grade, Skinner satin lining, and in black pattern. Regular $25 coats, $15.00

36-inch Caracal Coats, in fancy satin trimmed style, turned-over collar, satin streamers, patch pocket. This coat is made of the best Caracal and lined with best satin. Our regular $27.50 coat $18.75

This morning at 8:30. These are values of a very unusual kind. Our advice to the woman wanting the prettiest, most sensible wrap of the season, at the smallest price she'll ever pay, would be to come and find her fit in one of these Caracal Coats.

HOW GROCERS MAKE EXTRA MONEY

Don't be tied down to your grocery store night and day, MR. GROCER. Make extra dollars during your spare business moments, just as other Atlanta grocers are doing. Read The Constitution Want Ads. They afford a constant stream of money-making opportunities for you.

For instance, Mr. Brown, the grocer, is going into the Real Estate business. He wants a buyer for his complete stock, so he advertises in The Constitution.

Mr. Smith needs ready cash and advertises in The Constitution to sell his delivery horse and wagon cheap. That means a chance for you to buy a complete outfit at possibly half the cost you would have to pay any other way. There are many such bargains in The Constitution every day.

Woman's True Friend

Experimenting with new and untried medicines is foolish, and often dangerous. It would take a medicine more than forty years, to prove itself so universally good as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. During all that time it has been woman's favorite medicine—a restorative tonic, uplifting and invigorating the nervous and discouraged and giving them the final touch of perfect health.

Women use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in preference to all other advocated medicines for it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs—is not anything like advertised, secret, or patent medicines—does not claim to be able to do impossible things.

THE ONE REMEDY for women devised by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in woman's ailments, and adapted to her delicate organism.

THE ONE REMEDY good enough that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper.

You can't afford to allow yourself to be overpersuaded into accepting any secret nostrum as a substitute for this honest square-deal non-secret medicine. Don't do it. No honest druggist will attempt to cheat you in this way. He who does should be rebuked and avoided. Doctors prescribe Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for their worst cases because they know what it contains and know its ingredients to be of the very best.

It's well now and then to gently cleanse out bowel germs that breed weakness, cause foul breath, loss of appetite, dizziness and headache. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep bowels sweet and clean. Recommended by druggists because of their purity, goodness, and active gentleness.

$16,000 for Inauguration.

Washington, February 1.—To defray expenditures for fitting the capitol for the inauguration of William H. Taft a joint resolution was agreed to unanimously in the senate today appropriating $16,000. The resolution provides that the inaugural platform to be erected in front of the capitol shall seat 6,000 people, which is one-third more than four years ago. It also authorizes extra policemen at the capitol for three days.

TWELVE FIRES WITHIN A DAY

Orpheum Catches 1 Hour Before Performance.

Damage Proves Very Small. In Three Days the Firemen Have Answered Thirty-Nine Calls—Firemen Kept on a Dead Rush.

"Fire, Fire Everywhere," would be a good title for a song if the god of fire should only blow his hot breath on Atlanta for a few more days, as he has done of late.

Which leads to the suggestion that if there are any folks busier or doing a larger business than the plumbers, it is the firemen.

"Only eleven fires today—that's all," said Chief Cummings last evening at 8 o'clock. At 10:30 another alarm was answered, making twelve for the day.

Thirteen were recorded Saturday, when it started getting so cold, and the people piled on the coal and wood and forgot all about faulty flues. Sunday was one better, and with the 12 just mentioned, made exactly 39 in 72 hours, an average of thirteen per day. Leaving out the Lyceum blaze on Saturday morning, the destruction wrought by the rest would average up very small.

The Ill-Fated Orpheum Again.

At 7:30 o'clock in the evening the fire-laddies were called to the Orpheum Theater to extinguish flames in the roof, which were started from crossed electric wires. Fortunately the fire started before the beginning of the performance in the play house. The flames were easily conquered and the damage was small.

Shortly after the Orpheum blaze, the department was called by phone to the residence of Mrs. J. B. Whitehead, of 583 Peachtree, to extinguish flames in a servant's house at the rear of the residence. A lamp had been overturned by a servant. Chemicals put out the fire and the damage was slight.

At 4:30 in the afternoon No. 11 went to a negro house on Williams street, between Spring and North. A bed, too near a grate fire, had caught. The inmates of the house put out the fire before the firemen arrived.

Fire Threatens Paint Shop.

The Austell building and the F. J. Cooledge Brothers Paint and Glass Company, at No. 12 North Forsyth street, were threatened at 10:30 o'clock, when a smouldering fire blazed up in a trash barrel in the basement of the Cooledge Company's store. All the firemen had to do was to lift the barrel and carry it to the outside and empty the trash. In a short time, however, the fire would have caught the paints and oils in the basement and a hard proposition would have faced the firefighters.

The Cooledge alarm made the twelfth of the day up to that time.

Other fires of the morning and early afternoon were as follows:

Negro house, at the rear of 250 West Mitchell street, roof off; Mrs. G. A. Howell's house, at 20 Lawn street, small damage; R. L. Lumpson's place, 305 Crew street, no loss; house of T. H. Bloodworth 8 Corput street, small blaze; five negro houses in Pittsburg, almost total loss; residence of R. A. Henderson, at 100 South Pryor, damage to roof; Ovid Stewart's residence, at 144 Lee street, West End, badly burned roof; place of O. H. Ball, 90 Richardson, small damage.

Chief Cummings says the excess of fires of late is probably due to the fact that the inmates of houses are burning too much coal and wood.

INTERSTATE WORKERS HAVE SECOND MEETING

Interstate Workers' Association held their second regular meeting at Interstate college Monday evening. Supper was served under direction of Fred Abrams, the college chef. One new member was received into the association, namely, Dr. G. Nussman, pastor of the German Lutheran church and teacher of German and Greek in Interstate college.

A message ws read from the general superintendent, Edward Young Clarke, who is making a tour of Texas and Mississippi in the interest of the work. The message bristled with good cheer and enthusiasm, and indicated that he would have some very encouraging things to report upon his return to the city.

Strong addresses were made by Stokeley Hunt, secretary of the Congregational Methodist Publishing house, and managing editor of The Watchman; Professor Thomas L. Bryan, of Interstate college; Dr. Rolfe Hunt, of the Atlanta Bible school; J. G. C. Bloodworth, Sr., superintendent of First Congregational Methodist Sunday school, and others.

MECHANICAL DRAWING FOR THE BOYS' CLUB

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Boys' Club are to start a ne windustrial department soon.

The services of Charles Edward Choate, a first-class architect, has been secured. Classes will be held twice a week, and will be open to second and third degree members. Mr. Choate is now drawing plans for a $50,000 building for the new home of the club.

HUNGARIAN ORCHESTRA AT BAPTIST TABERNACLE

The Royal Hungarian Orchestra, the seventh attraction of the Tabernacle Lyceum Course, comes to the Tabernacle tonight in a concert that will be one of the greatest musical events of the season. This is the only real Hungarian orchestra, composed of native Hungarian musical artists, on the American platform. Louis Lipski, who is bespangled with medals of royal approval, is the conductor. Lipski's Hungarian orchestra is the greatest organization of its kind in the world. The playing of this splendid organization is characterized by pure intonation, correct interpretation, and perfect unanimity.

The performance will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Tickets can be secured at the door as early as 7:30. Price of admission 50 cents.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York Making Big Strides.

The remarkably good showing of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, during 1908, makes the outlook for the coming year excellent. The new business this year is materially in excess of that during the corresponding period of 1908. With the marked increase in the Company's annual dividends and with a well organized agency system there is every reason to expect that our new business will be much larger than in 1908.

One of the chief sources of contribution to the improvement is the increase of the Company's dividends under the new conditions. The Mutual Life is the only Company which has ever increased its dividend scale four years in succession; namely, the years 1906, 1907, 1908, and now, 1909. The sum apportioned for dividends, including the "deferred dividends" to be paid in 1909, is $11,092,282.38, as compared with $8,311,002.02 apportioned for 1908 and $4,321,493.34 for 1907.

The amount held for future dividend and contingencies, commonly called "surplus"—$85,844,991.20—exceeds by many millions the similar accumulation of any other company, and the amount apportioned for dividends payable in 1909—$11,092,282.38—establishes a new record in life insurance, no company having ever before paid as much as $10,000,000 in a single year.

The increase in assets during the one year exceeds the entire accumulations of the Company at the end of the first twenty-seven years of its existence. During the sixty-six years the Company has been in business the amount paid to policyholders and their beneficiaries, plus the amount it holds in trust for them, exceeds by nearly $125,000,000 the amount received from them.

The payments to policyholders during 1908—over a million of dollars a week—exceed by $9,000,000 the figures of 1907.

$29,240,000 OIL CASE WILL SOON BE RETRIED

Fifty Subpoenas for Witnesses Are Issued by Judge Landis.

Chicago, February 1.—Fifty subpoenas, issued by Judge K. M. Landis, in the district court for District Attorney Sims, have been given the United States marshal for service on witnesses to appear for the government at the second trial of the $29,240,000 case against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. The trial will start before Judge A. B. Anderson, of Indianapolis, February 23, Judge Anderson coming to Chicago at the request of Judge Landis, who declined to direct the second trial.

According to report, one subpoena was issued for J. A. Moffatt, president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. Those of the Standard Oil Company officials, who so far have been served, are G. W. Stahl, treasurer; John C. McDonald, auditor, and Edgar Bogardus, traffic manager.

Other witnesses who are to appear are George Roberts and C. C. Crossland, expert rate clerks for the interstate commerce commission; Secretary Kilpatrick, of the railroad and warehouse commission. F. S. Hollands, rate clerk for the Chicago and Allton railroad, and J. S. Howard, former auditor of the Chicago and Alton roads. Bogardus, Hollands and Howard were witnesses at the previous trial.

Roosevelt Calls Animal Man.

Roanoke, Va., February 1.—Colonel Francis Ferreri, an animal man, who is wintering here with a large menagerie, today had a telephone communication from the white house, at Washington, he says, in which President Roosevelt arranged for a meeting with Colonel Ferreri at the executive mansion next week. Mr. Roosevelt wishes to talk with the colonel about lion hunting, the animal man having spent some time in the jungles in which the president proposes to seek wild beasts.

Pay Near Beer Tax.

Americus, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—Ordinary John A. Cobb remitted this afternoon to Treasurer Park $2,800 taxes from dealers in near beer.

BOND ELECTION IS POSTPONED

Cannot Legally Be Held at This Time.

Bond Commission Will Go on With Its Work of Investigation Into Needs of Departments Until Legislature Can Repeal Charter Amendment.

The city bond election will not take place this spring and probably not this year.

The bond commission came to this conclusion yesterday at a meeting held at noon and was the result of a statement made by the city attorney, who told the commission that, under the decision of the supreme court of Georgia, the city could not hold a bond election under the general charter when it had secured a special charter amendment.

As is known, the city secured a charter amendment for a bond election for $500,000 of bonds for sewers, $500,000 for waterworks and $500,000 for schools, the bonds to be sold at par for 3 1-2 per cent. The bond commission ascertained that 3 1-2 per cent bonds could not be sold at par and was proceeding to hold an election under the general charter for bonds at 4 1-2 per cent, to be divided as follows: $700,000 for sewers, $500,000 for waterworks and $300,000 for schools.

The Hawkinsville Case.

Last Saturday afternoon ex-Councilman W. H. Terrell called the attention of Chairman F. A. Quillian, of the bond commission, to a decision of the supreme court in a case in which a citizen had enjoined the city of Hawkinsville from disposing of a bond issue. Hawkinsville had, like Atlanta, secured a charter amendment for a $10,000 bond election and afterwards held an election for $30,000 of bonds under its general charter. In this case the supreme court held that no city could hold a bond election under the general charter provision when it had secured a charter amendment for a bond election.

City Attorney Hill, after reading this decision and further investigating the matter, stated to the bond commission that the Hawkinsville case applied to Atlanta.

The bond commission decided first to report adversely the bond election ordinance for council. This had the effect of declaring that no election will be held at present.

To Repeal Charter Amendment.

It was the sense of the commission to later on request council to have the legislature repeal the charter amendment for a bond election so that the election could be held under the general charter, which would give the city the right to name any amount of bonds it wished and at 4 1-2 per cent.

A resolution was adopted for the chairman to appoint three committees, of three each, one to investigate the needs of the city schools, one to make all the necessary plans for an improvement of the sewer system, and the third to map out the work to be done for the waterworks department. This action was taken in order that by the time the legislature meets the bond commission will be in a position to fully outline all the purposes for which the bond money is to be used.

Mayor Maddox stated that it had been his intention all along to have the people fully enlightened as to the bond money expenditures before the election was held.

The legislature meets in June and it will be some time after that before the bond election can be held. It may even take until next spring before the election can be called. Chairman Quillian thinks, however, that it might be called in the early fall.

A Statement to the Public.

To the Citizens of Atlanta: The bond commission, at a meeting held in the mayor's office this day, decided not to hold the bond election for the present. The city attorney stated that, under the amendment of the charter, it could not change the rate of interest provided for in the special act nor the amount of bonds to be used for sewer purposes. The reason for this is that the supreme court has decided that, where amendment by special act to the charter is granted by the legislature, it is a limitation upon the chartered powers of the city and also prevents pro tanto the pursuance of the general law as set out in section of the political code 377.

After careful consideration and thorough investigation, it was the opinion of the commission that the issue of bonds of the amount contemplated could not be sold at par bearing 3½ per cent interest. It will, therefore, be necessary to have the next legislature amend the act of 1908, or to have the same repealed if the city should decided to issue bonds in the future under the general law as provided in section 377.

It was the intention of the commission to thoroughly investigate the necessities of all the departments before the bonds were voted upon and to inform the general public as to the contemplated expenditures of the funds in the different departments.

After consideraton, it was decided to make thorough investigation of the needs of the city for the different purposes which bonds were to be issued for, the amount necessary to complete the sewer system, amount necessary for the waterworks, amount necessary for schools. Committees are to be appointed for each commission to carefully investigate each one of these different departments and report back to a later meeting, so that the commission will be able to inform the public thoroughly of the necessities in each department, and the amount of money needed for the different improvements and the character of improvements to be made.

The commission instructed the chairman, vice chairman and the mayor to issue this statement so as to inform the people of the city thoroughly on this question. Respectfully,

F. A. QUILLIAN, Chairman.
JOHN E. MURPHY, Vice Chairman.
ROBERT F. MADDOX, Mayor.

I CURE YOUNG MIDDLE-AGED OLD MEN

DON'T LET FALSE PRIDE OR MODESTY PREVENT YOU FROM CONSULTING ME TODAY

NERVOUS DEBILITY

Have you abused Nature's Laws? Do you suffer from losses, drains in the urine, or under excitement? Are you weak and nervous and unfitted for the pleasures and duties of life? If so I will make a man of you. Don't let drains sap the life from you and make a nervous wreck of you. You can be cured. Call and talk the matter over with me. A friendly chat will cost you nothing.

DISCHARGES

All discharges cured in a short time if taken at once, and no stricture ever follows this wonderful treatment. I cure, and cure quick, all private urinary diseases for which you dislike to go to your family doctor. Come to me if you are sore or in any pain. I cure sores in a nice, clean way, without pain or loss of time from work. Call, if in trouble.

PHYSICAL WRECKS

Cured for life. When cured by me you will never again suffer from loss of strength, either mental or physical. I will cure any case of loss of energy or power and fit you for marriage, and the pleasures and duties of life. Call today and talk with me. Don't delay. Delays are dangerous

BLADDER DISEASES

Frequent urination, severe pains, mucus or bloody urine, burning or sharp pains in bladder, thick and muddy urine, pus, gravel and sediment in urine, inability to retain urine.

Do you feel yourself to be less vigorous than you once were? If so, there is no time to lose. You must master this weakness or lose your vitality. Don't delay longer. Call and lay your case before me and investigate my system of treatment, which makes weak men strong for life. I will cure you or it will cost you nothing.

BLOOD POISON

Begins with a small pimple, and later this develops into an ulcer, followed by white patches in the mouth and throat, bone pains, falling hairs, sores on the face, head and body, and in the more advanced stages Paralysis or Locomotor Ataxia results, as well as loss of voice, sight and hearing and finally insanity and death put an end to your misery. Your family and friends are in danger of contracting the terrible disease. Be cured before too late.

MEN ABOUT TO MARRY

Should come and get my expert opinion and be examined to see if they are fit or qualified. Some disease may be in your system that will spoil your happiness. Marriage in this state only helps the disease to settle deeper in your system, ruining your health. Come today and have a chat with me. Men of all professions and trades consult me daily.

KIDNEY DISEASES

Dropsy, backache, scanty urine, pains in back or groins, excessive urination, foamy or pale urine full of shreds, hot or dark red urine, deposits of sand, gravel or brick-dust sediment.

WEAK MEN THIS IS THE WAY YOU FEEL

You are less vigorous than you once were; a gradual decline of your strength at times; loss, drains in your urine, dreams, lame back, loss of energy, failing memory, loss of ambition, etc. Do you have difficulty in concentrating your thoughts, a desire to shun society, feel despondent and melancholy? There are specks before your eyes and blue rings under them; you are losing flesh, very nervous, always expecting the worst to happen. You have abused Nature's laws and are now paying the penalty.

I CURE MEN TO STAY CURED

The lives of thousands of promising young, middle-aged and old men are being wrecked as a result of the abuse of Nature's laws in youth, excesses later in life overwork, worry and dissipation. Some go to a premature grave or an insane asylum, while others drag out a melancholy, fruitless existence. Others reach matrimony, but find no solace or comfort there. The victims are found in all stations of life—the farm, the office, the workshop, the pulpit, the trades and the professions. No law of Nature can be abused without paying a fearful penalty sooner or later. Be warned before it is too late. Delays are dangerous.

DON'T LET MONEY MATTERS KEEP YOU AWAY

AS I AM ALWAYS WILLING TO ARRANGE TERMS BEST SUITED FOR THE PATIENT TO PAY.

Investigate and you will find what I say to be the truth. You will find that I conduct one of the largest practices in America devoted to the modern and scientific treatment of Private Diseases of Men; that I do all I promise, and strictly live up to every agreement I make, and that every one of the many thousands persons cured by me highly indorse me as a skilled specialist and expert in the treatment and cure of Genito-Urinary Diseases.

I have for years been pointing out to Private-Diseased Men a safe, sure and scientific way to be treated. Thousands have heeded my advice and come to me and have been safely and permanently cured. There are still thousands who need my service. This appeal is addressed them.

were read in which the funds for the improvement of the streets and for laying chert pavement under assessment plan were divided so as to give the large wards and those needing the money the most of it.

Alderman Grant objected to the division, because the sixth ward got only $600 of each fund, while the second, third and fourth wards got $2,500 each. He said when he met with the street committee for the first time he felt as if he had "fallen among thieves," a remark which caused much laughter.

Councilman Amorous made the point of order that the money could not be divided among the wards. The chair held that the point was not well taken.

Alderman Grant said he believed the money should be left in a lump fund, and maybe the sixth ward wouldn't spend a dollar.

The report of the street committee was adopted, council only voting. The only votes against the report were Johnston, Wright and Foster. Councilman Johnston explained his vote on the ground that he believed there should be no ward lines in dividing out the street money.

The report was amended calling for all street work and paving being passed up by september 1.

A resolution, introduced by Councilman Spratling, was adopted inviting the International Chiefs of Police Association to hold its convention in Atlanta this year. Chief Jennings had received a telegram stating that Los Angeles, the city at first selected, did not want the convention and asking if Atlanta was a candidate for the convention. The chief had worked to secure the convention at the last year's session.

An ordinance by Councilman Wright was adopted requiring the city clerk to furnish members of council with copies of ordinances when so required.

A resolution by Alderman Candler and Councilman Spratling was adopted appointing a committee of five to investigate the duplicate names of streets and street numbers. The committee is as follows: Candler, Spratling, Grant, Johnston and Vaughan.

Alderman Grant introduced a resolution requesting the street committee and city engineer to make a report on the change of grade of North Forsyth, from James to Walton street, and hear from all parties at interest.

CREMATION OF SPOUSE MOVES WIDOW TO SUE

Mrs. Campbell Wants $25,000 for Cremation of Husband by Father.

Mobile, Ala., February 1.—There was received in the probate court today a petition from Ella R. Campbell, sworn to in Cook county, Illinois, in which she asks for allowing of claim of $25,000 for the cremation of her husband, James Campbell, by his father John B. Campbell, now deceased, stating that a suit is now pending in the United States circuit court for the southern district of Ohio. John B. Campbell has an estate in this county.

LAST TWO MONTHS ENJOYED LIVING FOR FIRST TIME

The following statement was made by Mr. S. J. Simpson on Thursday afternoon in connection with the Cooper preparations, which have created a sensation throughout the west and now being widely discussed in New York.

Mr. Simpson, who lives at No. 979 President street, Brooklyn, said:

"According to my experience, this man Cooper is justified in his claims that his medicine will actually put the stomach in good condition. I have had chronic stomach trouble for several years past. My stomach seemed to give out completely in August, 1906, and I have been able to eat next to nothing since.

"I have not taken the slightest enjoyment in living, I have been so depressed by my condition. Neither physicians nor medicine helped me, and it was only by the most careful diet that I was able to retain any food whatever. For the past seven months I have not eaten a particle of meat. In the most skeptical frame of mind possible I called to see Mr. Cooper about two months ago, while he was in Brooklyn. I had not the smallest hope his medicine would help me, as I had given up hope during the past year. I obtained some of the medicine and began its use. Today I am apparently as well as ever. I obtained relief so rapidly that it is positively wonderful. I am in good spirits, eat heartily, sleep well and am better in every way. I am convinced that the success this man is having in New York is richly deserved."

In a short interview Mr. Cooper said: "I have been in New York a little less than two months. So far as I can judge there are now about fifty thousand people taking my preparations. Before I leave there will be not less than one hundred thousand, as the number is increasing very rapidly and people are just beginning to learn what my preparation does. I expect to fully prove before I leave New York the claim I made when I arrived, namely that stomach trouble is the great curse of the 20th century among highly civilized races and that it is responsible for ninety per cent of all ill-health.

"My medicine does nothing but regulate the stomach, yet I have people come to me daily and tell me that it has relieved them of many and various ailments not generally recognized as due to stomach trouble.

"It is easy enough to verify this statement. An hour spent in listening to what people who call to see me are saying, who obtained my medicine some time ago, will prove what I say beyond a doubt."

Cooper's New Discovery is the medicine which made such a wonderful record in New York. It is on sale at leading druggists everywhere. Should your druggist not have it notify The Cooper Medicine Co., Dayton, Ohio.

DANIEL WATER

Most stomach disorders come from indigestion, due to an insufficent quantity of alkali in the system. The gastric juice, the active principle of digestion, should contain a large percentage of sulphate and alkaline matter to properly dissolve and mix the food for assimilation. When deficient in this property it cannot pulverize and reduce the food to the necessary soluble condition, and indigestion is a natural result; accompanied usually by biliousness, heartburn, dizziness, headaches, etc.

Daniel Water is naturally alkaline, containing a large amount of sulphates. It supplies the gastric juice with the necessary alkali, and in this way greatly aids digestion and prevents the aggrevating symptoms of stomach disturbances. It keeps the stomach clean and healthy, acts gently on the bowels, and promotes a proper secretion from the kidneys. Price 10c. per gal. at the spring. Daniel Mineral Water Co., Union Point, Ga.

MARKETING INSTEAD OF SACRIFICING COTTON.

It would require the services of an expert statistician to estimate what has been lost to the south in the last seventy-five years from the present ridiculously haphazard method of marketing, or rather of sacrificing, cotton.

The greatest ready-money crop of the world, of which the south produces annually about 80 per cent of the total supply, for lack of proper facilities for holding, is each year dumped on the market within such a short space of time and under such congested conditions that it is deprived of much of its real value.

The egregious folly of this course and the easy remedy are pointed out in a communication elsewhere by Colonel Robert J. Lowry. He recommends and indorses plans advocated many times by The Constitution and at present in process of materialization by the Farmers' Union.

As shown by Colonel Lowry, the grain farmers of the west have for years blazed a way for the cotton producer of the south. Recognizing that they controlled a great natural product, indispensable to the daily needs of civilization, they realized also that it should be sold only under conditions attending the disposal of any other commodity of approximate world-wide commercial value. They built elevators and warehouses, each bonded, in sufficient number and convenience of locality to materially affect the marketing from a strategic standpoint.

It is possible for the large or the small producer to store his wheat or his corn at these places, take a receipt for a per cent of its value, and NEGOTIATE THAT RECEIPT FOR THE LIQUIDATION OF HIS MOST PRESSING DEBTS. As a result, the marketing of these crops is extended over a period sufficiently long to enable fair prices to be secured.

There is no such spectacle as is witnessed yearly in the south, when "distress" cotton comes tumbling on the market, glutting demand and embarrassing the most strenuous efforts of the farmers to maintain a legitimate minimum.

It is fair to assume, from Colonel Lowry's statements, that the majority of the southern bankers and business men are willing to work with the farmers in inaugurating such a system in this section. All that is needed is their generous cooperation with the Farmers' Union. That organization has already formulated plans looking to the erection of a chain of bonded warehouses throughout the southern states. Steps recently taken at Jackson, Miss., look to the merging of these warehouses under one control, the formation of a central holding agency and the creation of machinery that will, each year, insure the gradual and logical marketing of the crop.

It is the ultimate intention of the promoters to so perfect their designs that cotton can be fed gradually to the consumer, keeping pace with demand; withhold when the market is unfavorable and the flow again resumed when the market has regained a normal tone. The existing method places the farmer almost unreservedly at the mercy of the consumer and the speculator.

The plan herein outlined will eventually hold as much proportionate profit to the banker and merchant as to the farmer. It will bring additional millions of dollars into the south annually, sums which will filter into every commercial channel and react inevitably on every industry in the southern states. The sporadic Shylock-merchant may be injured temporarily, but in the end the earning power of the farmer himself and his freedom from debt will be wholesomely benefited.

The matter is simply one of plain business methods. Will the southern business man join hands with the farmer in a movement looking to their proved mutual interests?

SHOULD MAKE PENALTIES OBLIGATORY.

The public who depend upon the United States mail service will welcome the activity of Senator A. S. Clay in his effort to have incorporated in the postoffice appropriation bill a provision making obligatory the enforcement of penalties against those carriers which habitually fail in the matter of prompt delivery and making mail connections.

It has been demonstrated that the public can expect no relief through the postoffice department under a purely optional arrangement.

Even under the obligatory penalty clause, as incorporated in former postoffice appropriation bills, the results were far from satisfactory, because of department leniency in holding the carriers to their contracts.

It is difficult to conceive upon what just ground that provision was stricken from the last postoffice bill. It was anything but severe as administered by the postoffice department, and the fact that under the postal laws and regulations the imposition of penalties for inexcusably delayed mails is optional, means nothing.

A law providing an optional penalty is dangerous at best. It may be made to cut either way, according to the temper of the enforcing official.

In this instance the public has suffered from lack of enforcement, although, on the other hand, oppression of the carrier and even unjust discrimination are entirely possible.

Day after day—we know it to be true in Georgia and neighboring southern states—important mail trains, particularly those bringing the bulk of the business mail from the north and west, travel one, two, three hours and often more, behind their schedules, delaying the delivery of mails in towns and cities half a day, and on rural routes twenty-four hours.

These delays, which often disorganize and interfere with commercial transactions, are not due to providential or uncontrollable causes; except in a few extraordinary cases they are the result of careless or faulty management.

The mail service is entirely in control of the federal government, and the public expects, as it has the right to, the very best that can be given.

For this it must look to congress, and it is the duty of the legislative body to make that provision which will conduce to the greatest efficiency of the service.

This can be done only by embodying in the postoffice bill a requirement that when the mail contractors fail inexcusably in the performance of their obligation, they shall be subjected to such reasonable penalty as will, in order to avoid it, induce them to furnish prompt and satisfactory service.

Senator Clay will perform a great public service if he succeeds in having this requirement incorporated in the postoffice bill.

The burden will then, at least, be thrown upon the house where, it is hoped, there will be sufficient consideration for the public interest to cause its retention.

Congress will ignore a pressing public duty if it fails the people in this matter.

FRAUD IN THE PENSION ROLLS.

Morally and materially there is no one more deeply interested in the purity of the pension rolls than the confederate veterans themselves.

It is their roll of honor, which every true soldier wants to see kept clean.

It is their bounty, given by the state, wherein participation through the use of deception and fraud but deprives some worthy hero of his unquestioned right.

State authorities who have to deal with the pension rolls have no question that there are many now regularly drawing money from the state under the color of a service that was never performed; yet they are powerless, with the present means at their command, to detect and prevent the fraud.

Occasionally knowledge of fraudulent effort to obtain a pension comes to the attention of the department, and the application is denied or the name stricken from the rolls.

But when it comes to systematic purging of the pension rolls and investigation of suspected cases, the state authorities are powerless, because there is no provision for it in the law.

The only safeguard ever sought to be thrown around the pension rolls is a requirement that the grand jury of each county shall, as a part of its duty, inspect and purge the pension lists applying to its particular territory; but if a single grand jury has performed this duty within the last half dozen years there is no record of it.

Time and again has the legislature been urged to make provision against undoubted fraud, but the appeal has met with no response.

Again will similar recommendation be made by Pension Commissioner J. W. Lindsey, who has also suggested that each camp of confederate veterans in the state take hold of the problem in its particular county and ascertain if any unworthy persons there are drawing pensions from the state.

If the legislature will not act the veterans can and should see to the proper purging of their highest roll of honor.

Once he has undoubted information, the pension commissioner can bar from participation in the pension funds those who have established their claims by deception and false affidavits.

The action of a camp of veterans would arouse public interest in the matter and perhaps spur the grand jury to the performance of its duty.

The soldiers of the confederacy could perform another valuable service to the state as well as to themselves by determined effort to make and keep these rolls untarnished and clean.

To the call of battle they leaped forward with eagerness to plant themselves in the front rank.

In the pursuits of peace they may equally serve the state by active and united effort in upholding law and right.

THE CHARITIES ROLL OF HONOR.

The reconstruction of the sixties, with the ugly details of which many Atlantans are familiar personally or through history, had for its object the rehabilitation of a broken country.

The reconstruction which is the keynote of the work of the Associated Charities is the rehabilitation of men, women and children, originally great and growing drains upon the community.. The experience and skill of the Charities' workers, attained in a hard and exacting school, enables them to make over these human derelicts, convert them into self-supporting and positive productive factors in the community.

Following the splendid work of last week, which secured more than half the projected reinforcements of 1,000 members at $5 yearly, the Order of Old-Fashioned Women this week is instituting a house-to-house canvass. Committees of representative women, working under their direction, are invading every section of the city, on the benevolent errand of giving every grade of citizen an opportunity to participate in this reconstructive undertaking.

These philanthropic women should be met more than half-way. The cause for which they work is thrice proven. The sum of $5 will be spared easily by thousands of people in Atlanta.

See that your name is on the roll of honor!

Beats Billville.

"An empty coffin rested on a truck on the depot platform one day this week. Out of mischief one of the employees in the baggage room crawled into the coffin box, and drew the lid down. No sooner was he concealed than a young negro, with a jaunty swagger and tuneful whistle, came along, and, wishing to rest, settled comfortably on the casket. He fell asleep, and was awakened by a distressing moan. The moan was repeated, and then somebody said: 'Oh-o-o-o-o-o-o. Please get off my deabody.' The negro granted the request at once. With a bloodcurdling yell he leaped into the air, and sped away. He attempted to cross the bridge, but Cy Smith, fearing that in his frenzy he would leap into the watery depths below, blocked the way. Unable to cross the river, the negro man sprinted to the railroad yards, and, when last seen, was passing the coal mine and still going south."

The Best, Anyhow.

The Old-Time Grocery Store.

The summery, picnic weather of January made the Bentztown Bard sigh for his native village. Here are two stanzas from a poem of his on the village grocery store:

"Ah, Babylon, your splendors gleam,
And triumph tempts, and crowns are fine—
Give me, instead, the childhood dream
And the old village charm for mine;
The gray hill and the maple street,
The quaint old home and folk of yore,
With the old playmates gathered sweet
Round the old stove in Hinchliffe's store!

"Such shelvesful of delightful things,
Such pipes, such fishing tackle—why,
Give me today youth's magic wings,
There is the one place I would fly!
Back to the old town, sweet and still,
The main street, with its maple lore,
The "Hollow," and the winding hill,
And Hinchliffe's store!"

Colonel George M. Bailey.

Colonel George M. Bailey, of The Houston Post, is in our midst on his way to the original site of the Garden of Eden, which is in Houston, Tex., the picnic ground of the visiting heavenly angels—as The Post has faithfully informed us. Bailey is the man who delivered the electoral vote of Texas, and whose paragraphic pen has made the merry, flame-haired Texas widow the wonder of the world. Bailey's daily texts in the columns of The Post are sermons that make the country sit up and take notice. Atlanta is glad to meet him, though he says the skyscrapers give the fleecy clouds of spring a raggedy appearance.

Early Easter Poem.

IN DEATH NOT DIVIDED.

Husband Drops Dead by the Corpse of His Wife.

St. Louis, February 1.—While summoning aid for his wife, who had dropped dead in the street from heart disease last night, Sebastian Stoll, 67 years old, died beside the body of his helpmate of 50 years. Mrs. Stoll was on her way home from church with her husband, when she expired. He, believing that she had fainted, went to a nearby house, obtained assistance, and then fell lifeless beside the corpse of his wife. A double funeral will be held from their home tomorrow.

Want to Break Will.

Macon, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—An effort will be made by Albert and Theodore Seifert to break the will of Mrs. Annie Seifert, which was placed on probate in ordinary's court here several weeks ago. The two brothers have filed caveat and they claim that undue influence was exercised upon their mother by Edward Seifert and a married sister, Mrs. Alma Causey. The estate is worth about $20,000.

SCHOONERS IN DISTRESS.

Reported Several Ships Lost on Lake Pontchartrain.

New Orleans, February 1.—Those who lost their lives in the sinking of the little schooner A. J. Ramsey in Lake Pontchartrain, near Little Woods, Saturday afternoon, were Captain Peter Jackson, who manned the schooner, and George Robertson, a deck hand. Guy Lee, the negro cook, and the only other member of the crew, was rescued by the schooner Harrison after thirty-six hours of terrible suffering.

No news has been received today regarding several other schooners reported last night as being in distress in Lake Pontchartrain.

Diamond-Maker Sentenced.

Paris, February 1.—Henri le Moine, the Frenchman whose claims that he could manufacture diamonds were aired in the courts of Paris last summer, has been sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in default. LeMoine fled just before the final hearing of the cast against him. He was being tried on charges of having secured money from an English diamond mine owner on false pretenses by declaring that he was able to manufacture diamonds.

MARKETING THE COTTON CROP

Editor Constitution: During the past few years it has been my pleasure to travel quite extensively throughout the west, and I have had deeply impressed upon my mind conditions as they exist in that grain-producing section of the union. In taking notice of the large, commodious and thoroughly-equipped elevators for the proper storage and care of the grain I have mentally contrasted conditions in the south as to our cotton crop with the favorable conditions out there for handling their great crop.

Our annual cotton crop is the chief source of revenue of our section of this great country, and, as such, we should husband it with all the care it deserves, and at the same time establish facilities to enable the producers to carry the crop without having to sacrifice it under pressure. Our industries are manifold, it is true, and even the products of our soil are each year becoming more diversified; still we depend upon the cotton crop, and will for many years yet to come. We of the south have practically a monopoly in the production of this great staple, which is in demand all over the world, as we produce something like 75 per cent of the world's supply, and yet this enormous crop is practically all sold each year inside of four or five months, and we have not the facilities for holding it for such an advance in price as we might reasonably expect.

On account of the fact that it is necessary for the farmer to sell his cotton to pay his debts, this crop is, as I have stated, practically all forced upon the market in a lump inside of four or five months. Now, in the western states these immense elevators are the direct means of saving to the farmers of that section hundreds of thousands of dollars annually. For example, a man in the west, we will say, raises 1,000 bushels of wheat, or corn, or barley, or rye, or other grain; he gathers it and carries it to a near-by elevator, and it is put into that elevator in bins, classed as first, second, third, fourth and so on, according to grade, and a receipt is given to him for his wheat or other grain, describing it accurately, giving its grade, the quantity, when stored, and all the data necessary to identify the grain beyond question, and the grain is to be delivered only upon the return of that receipt properly indorsed. This receipt will also state that the grain is insured, and in the body of the receipt are also stated the costs of storage, so that there can be no question about the validity of the receipt and its soundness as a security. This receipt then becomes a good negotiable instrument, uniformly and universally recognized as an authentic and unquestioned security. The farmer takes that receipt to any bank and hypothecates it at a conservative rate of interest for such money as he needs to pay his obligations to the extent, if necessary, of probably two-thirds of the value of the grain. The wheat, or other grain, then remains in the elevator as long as he sees fit to hold it, properly cared for, insured, in good condition for immediate use, and is delivered upon the surrender of the receipt only. Of course, this security is only recognized for the reason that these elevators are conducted on a strictly business basis, and their receipts can be verified in every particular, if necessary, as they are only issued in a bona fide way, and are a safe and sure protection both to the farmer and the banker, who might advance money on them.

Now, in the south—suppose a farmer raises 100 bales of cotton and owes $2,000 or $2,500. He wants to pay his debts, but he does not want to sell his cotton during the period when the market is glutted, and when he would have to sell at the minimum price. He wants to hold his cotton for a reasonable time and advance, and, if there was a bonded warehouse near by, conducted on the same business principles on which the elevators of the west are conducted, where he could store it at a minimum expense and have it classed, or typed, insured and protected, and take a receipt for it, properly classifying or grading it, describing it, giving the quantity, marks, weight, quality and grade, he would have a negotiable security, recognized everywhere. This receipt should also state that the cotton is insured, and give the costs of storage, so that all the facts set out in the receipt will positively identify the cotton, and be easily verified, if necessary, even to the signature attached to it. Then the farmer can take that receipt to his banker anywhere and get money to pay his debts to the extent, say, of probably two-thirds of the value of the cotton, if desired, and thus he is enabled to hold his cotton. This plan would enable the south to husband its crop in the proper manner, and get the full benefit of any advance in price within a reasonable time.

Cotton is now held in the south to some extent by planters, but it is usually held at their homes, lies out on the ground, takes the weather all winter, depreciates in value, and, when it is sold, it is not the same grade of cotton that it was when it left the ginnery. Besides, it depreciates the product of the mill made from this cotton. Cotton is too valuable a crop to be held in that manner; it is worthy of better treatment, and, considering only the question of the net return to the farmer, it is bad policy, for this depreciates its value and minimizes his return from holding it.

I notice in the papers that the farmers are agitating a proposition along this line, and, if they will keep up this agitation along the lines indicated above, good results will follow. What we need is a series of bonded warehouses throughout the cotton belt, conducted on sound business principles, giving practically ironclad receipts, which could not be disputed or questioned, but which could be verified in every particular by investigation. Let them be so issued as to be recognized all over the world as an unquestioned security; let it be known, when one of these receipts is issued, that the cotton is only to be delivered upon the return of that receipt properly indorsed, and that the identical cotton, described as to grade and quality, will be delivered upon the return of the receipt. Then the cotton could stay there, properly protected and insured, and, when delivered, would be in condition for use, as graded. When the price was such as to suit the owner, he could sell, having in the meantime paid his debts by carrying an advance on his crop at a conservative rate of interest.

Now this plan would be an excellent one for the benefit of our mills. We will take, for instance, a mill that buys 8,000 bales of cotton annually. Preferably, this mill would like to buy the cotton in its immediate neighborhood, but, while the crop is being marketed within this four or five months, the management may not be in position to buy more than, say, 2,000 bales. Under present conditions the cotton in the meantime has been shipped away, and hence, when they need more cotton, they must have it shipped back to this section with the additional expense of getting it here, besides receiving it in bad shape, with the bagging torn from sampling, and covered with dirt and grease. If it was stored in a bonded warehouse near-by, where it is known that it has been properly preserved and protected, and he buys it from the farmer, who stored it there, he knows, when he exhibits his receipt for delivery, what he is buying, and that he is not getting cotton torn all to pieces by sampling and covered with a lot of broken ties and half-patched bagging. Besides taking care of the cotton, this plan of storage would take care of the bagging so that it could be used again.

The south undoubtedly needs these warehouses similar in all respects to the elevators of the west, not as a matter of speculation at all, but to enable bona fide holders to hold for a reasonable time, say four to six months, to take advantage of any market advance. When such warehouses are established, then the holding of this valuable crop will be in every way practical, accomplishing the end sought to be accomplished by holding it, and at the same time protecting the crop, its producers, the manufacturers and the public. We raise the crop as our staple crop, and we want to get what it is worth, but we cannot do so if we force it all on the market within four or five months for lack of proper facilities.

Talks About Atlanta

In Danger.

(From The Augusta Herald.)

If the people of Savannah don't look out Atlanta will annex their city. The Atlanta papers already have a lot to say about what Savannah should do and how to make it good.

No Cause for Worry.

(From The Wilmington Star.)

Why should Atlanta be worried about Chattanooga going dry when she can get all of it she wants in Savannah.

A Beautiful Sight.

(From The Augusta Chronicle.)

Getting Hysterical.

(From The Americus Times-Recorder.)

Atlanta has reached the screaming period about Savannah. If Savannah doesn't enforce the law nothing can prevent Atlanta from going into hysterics.

To Be Pitied.

(From The Nashville Herald.)

The Jax T-Union says Atlanta is one thousand feet nearer Heaven than Savannah is. We pity Atlanta if it's no more than that.

Heroic Remedies Necessary.

(From The Nashville American.)

To Be Sure!

(From The Madison Advertiser.)

Of course, Atlanta lost a man in the Italian earthquake—a martyr to Atlanta's fame. If inhabitants on Mars could be recognized several Atlanta man would, no doubt, be found in the party.

What Made Atlanta.

(From The Greenville Piedmont.)

If there was no one from Atlanta at Messina when the earthquake occurred it was simply an oversight, which, it may be stated, will not be allowed to happen again. Yet, that's what made Atlanta.

A Safe Bet.

(From The Arlington News.)

Atlanta had a citizen to get killed in the earthquake in Italy. We would bet on Atlanta being represented, all right.

Children Were Cremated.

Lexington, Ky., February 1.—News was received today that the home of Nathaniel Workman, in Bath county, was destroyed by fire, and two of his children, aged 9 and 7, respectively, cremated. They were sleeping upstairs and were burned to death before Workman and his wife awoke. The parents were forced to go half a mile through ice and snow in their night clothing before refuge was found.

ABOUT JOE BROWN.

The Brown Plan.

(From The Hawkinsville Dispatch and News.)

The fact that "Little Joe" Brown is a different sort from the average politician is attracting attention. Mr. Brown is studying his constituency after the election to find out what the people want him to do. Generally speaking the officeseeker studies his people before the election, to ascertain what he can promise them, and after the election they see nothing more of him until he becomes a candidate again. The Brown plan is one that has much to commend it.—Savannah News.

The News is correct. Mr. Brown is quite different from the average politician and officeseeker because everything he says and does is generally marked by good common sense and sound judgment. In going about and having these heart-to-heart talks with the people he is simply carrying out the promise that he made when he became a candidate for governor, and after he has found out what they want and need he will be in better position to serve them when he enters upon the discharge of his duties as the state's chief executive.

Starting Right.

(From The Dalton Citizen.)

We must confess our admiration for Governor-elect Brown in declaring that he will have no hollow ceremonials and empty jinglings, no "tinkling cymbals and sounding brass" at his inauguration in June. His is to be a program of Jeffersonian simplicity, and let us predict, out of desire born of hope, that his administration will be along the lines of pure Jeffersonian democracy.

It was Thomas Jefferson (to our way of thinking, the greatest of all presidents), who rode up Pennsylvania avenue to the capitol on horseback (or mule back, no matter which) and took the oath of office. There was no glare, glamor or glitter. It was the simple inauguration of a simple man to the highest office within the gift of the people. It seems we have fallen on evil days, and the excuse for it is that the occasion must be equal in obnoxious formalities and fulminations to the dignity and importance of the office the "victim" is to be inducted into. The greater the responsibility of the office the louder the blast of trumpets. We need reform along this line, and we are glad to note in passing the efforts of Governor-elect Brown to rid this state of the silly aping of European royalty.

Dignified simplicity and common sense, purely American attributes and ideals, is good enough for us.

Bon voyage to you, Governor Brown, as you go afoot to the capitol to receive the finishing touches on your commission from the people!

First Dead One.

(From The Wilmington Dispatch.)

An Atlanta paper notes that the "dead Atlanta man was at Messina." First time ever heard of any but a live Atlanta mortal.

GETTING WARMER, SAYS WEATHER MAN

Ground Hog Will Make His Appearance Today.

Minimum Temperature Sunday Morning Was 7.5 Degrees; Yesterday Morning 14.1 Degrees—Florida Orange Crop Damaged by Hard Freeze.

Forecast for today: Fair and warmer is now indicated. The cold wave is now diminishing in force, and high winds are no longer reported. The minimum temperature Sunday morning was 7.5 degrees, and yesterday morning 14.1 degrees. A severe freeze occurred in Florida. Jacksonville, Tampa, and Jupiter reported killing frosts. The temperature at 7 a. m. was 26 degrees. The lowest temperature reported in the north was 4 degrees below zero. Fine, clear weather prevails generally, except over Texas, where it is cloudy, and on the north Pacific coast, where rains are falling. A new barometric pressure depression is entering the country on the north Pacific coast, which will probably cause a moderation of temperature within a day or two.

THE FIREMAN HAS HAD HIS TROUBLES.

Oranges Hurt.

The cold wave simply played all kinds of havoc with the orange regions of Florida, so the weather office reports. All of Florida above the 28th parallel was caught in the freeze. That portion of the Flower State is where the oranges grow, and reports have it that the crop was almost exterminated.

Here are the official records for the temperature: Saturday, minimum, 12 degrees; maximum, 27 degrees. Sunday, 7½ degrees, minimum; maximum, 27 degrees. Monday, 14 degrees, minimum; 44 degrees, maximum. On Saturday the temperature was 23 degrees below the normal; on Sunday 25 degrees; on Monday 14 degrees. This make a total of 62 degrees out of the normal for the three days.

In comparing these figures with past records, it was found that the coldest day on record in this city took place February 13, 1899, when it went to 8 degrees below zero. Other cold days were as follows: January 11, 1886, 2 below; 1893, January 16, 8 above; 1905, January 25, 6 above; 1897, January 28, 6 above. There was marked difference in the temperature of yesterday as compared with that of Saturday and Sunday, the maximum going from 27 degrees up to 44 degrees.

Ground Hog Today.

As this is the second day in February, the ground hog is scheduled to appear. The prediction is that there will be a clear sky. In that event, the ground hog will be able to see his shadow. That means that there will be six weeks more of cold weather. Since the winter has not been prominent with cold conditions, it will be quite surprising if the ground hog tradition amounts to anything. At any rate, there are a great many people who believe in the ground hog and his shadow, so they had better prepare for the coming six weeks.

The Firemen.

"Well, I don't want to be a fireman," said the Gopher, "especially in this weather we have been through in the last few days. Fighting fires is a heroic job, and I like heroism. I must object when it comes to standing up three or four hours with a hose in freezing arms, icicles all over your face and whiskers, and snow falling fast in fighting fires, and gaining heroism. The kind of heroism I want is that the kind of heroism I want is the steam-heated building, writing poetry by the yard. None of this frigid heroism for me. I respectfully let the firemen cop all of the honors, for they justly deserve them, and some more in addition."

MRS. S. M. CARTER TAKEN BY DEATH

Related to Many Prominent Georgia Families.

Death of Mrs. Carter Occurs at the Home of Her Daughter, Mrs. Samuel Barnett — Funeral Arrangements Later.

Mrs. Samuel M. Carter, widow of the late Colonel Samuel M. Carter, one of the largest planters in north Georgia, and related to many of the most prominent families of the state, died about 7:30 o'clock last night at the residence of her son-in-law, Samuel Barnett, 3 Crescent avenue.

Mrs. Carter was 63 years old, and was well known all over Georgia. The funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Samuel Barnett. Interment in Murray county.

Before her marriage Mrs. Carter was Miss Sarah Rebecca Jeter, of Union Springs, Ala. Her home after her marriage was in Murray county, her death occurring while she was on a visit to her daughter.

She is survived by one son and four daughters: Samuel M. Carter, of Carters, Ga.; Mrs. Samuel Barnett, of Atlanta; Mrs. J. Campbell Maben, Jr., formerly of New York, but now of Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. J. Beckwith Horn, formerly of New York, but now of Atlanta, and Mrs. Emily Carter Divine, who is spending the winter at the home of Judge Spencer Atkinson. She was the stepmother of Mrs. Kate Mitchell and of Colquitt Carter, clerk of the United States district court, and of the late Ben Carter, whose family now lives at Dalton, Ga., and of the late Mrs. Ben Hill, first wife of Judge Hill, of the court of appeals. She was a sister of the late William Jeter. She was also related to Judge Spencer Atkinson and to Judge Sam Atkinson.

Big Fire at Clarksdale.

Clarksdale, Miss., February 1.—Fanned by a stiff wind, a fire which originated in a two-story brick building in the business section of Clarksdale yesterday destroyed thirty buildings and caused a property loss estimated at $75,000 before practically burning itself out, the local fire department being unable to cope with the blaze. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Boy's Identity Discovered.

Memphis, Tenn., February 1.—After exchanging telegrams and letters with many cities, the police believe they have identified the youth who applied to the police several weeks ago and asked that he be told wwho he was. From a description sent them by the boy's father, J. W. Porter, of Ottawa, Kan., they are convinced that he is Roy C. Porter, who disappeared from Lathrop, Mo., on January 17. The elder Porter has been asked to come to Memphis and further identify the young man.

125 MORE NAMES ADDED TO THE ROLL OF HONOR

Since Sunday One Week Ago 668 New Members Have Been Secured for Associated Charities—Campaign Will End Next Sunday.

The energetic and enthusiastic work of the Order of Old-Fashioned Women, and the ladies of Atlanta, whom this order has induced to cooperate with them, in the interests of the Associated Charities of Atlanta, with a view to raising 1,000 new members, is meeting with that same response which Atlanta ever gives to a worthy cause.

Sunday one week ago the movement was launched. The purposes and the needs of the increased membership were set forth in an editorial in The Constitution on that day. That afternoon the Order of Old-Fashioned Women discussed the matter informally over the telephone, decided that it was for the best interests of Atlanta and determined to take charge of the campaign. Monday morning they held a meeting and within a few days the enterprise was in working order, and ten committees of Atlanta women, composed of ten members each, were enlisted under the banners of the Charities movement.

668 Members Added.

Sunday afternoon the new members secured were counted and the total reached the gratifying figures of 543. Yesterday morning the chairmen of all the committees met and made reports. At the end of the day it was announced that an additional 125 members had been secured, or a grand total of 668, in about one week's time.

At the meeting of the chairmen of the committees and the Old-Fashioned Women, the canvass work was apportioned. It was decided that each committee should obligate itself to secure thirty new members, and that each member of the Order of Old-Fashioned Women should agree to secure twenty-five.

There are ten committees, with ten each, or a total membership of 100. This would make each member secure three members for the Associated Charities.

It has been decided to close the campaign on next Sunday, when a large number of ministers, who had intended to speak on the movement on last Sunday, and were deterred from doing so by the small congregations resulting from the cold weather, will give their indorsement from the pulpit.

It is estimated by those at the head of the membership plan that a total of 1,250 will be added to the roll of honor by that time.

The Roll of Honor.

A. S. Adams, Auxiliary Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Charles A. Bickeostoff, Dr. John S. Benton, Mrs. Charles Barnwell, Mrs. Edward H. Barnes, C. P. Boyd, H. S. Coles, William S. Cox, R. C. Congdon, W. H. Camp, Mrs. Colquitt Carter, Mrs. A. G. Candler, Jr., J. S. Coon, Miss Isma Dooly, Mrs. James L. Dickey, J. V. Dunlap, Mrs. Joseph T. Derry, Mrs. Royal Daniel, Mrs. W. S. Elkin, J. H. Ewing, E. E. Eagan, C. L. Elyea, Miss Alice May Freeman, Miss Emma Lowry Freeman, Lauren Foreman, Hugh Foreman, F. J. Graham, Mrs. Mary A. Ganett, Miss Margaret Grant, George Gershon, Paul Goldsmith, Robert Gregg, Mrs. H. C. Garrison, John Gilmore, Mrs. William D. Grant, Mrs. Thomas J. Hightower, W. R. Hoyt, Mrs. Thomas P. Special Announcement

Miss Buxton, of New York, the expert Corset specialist, is again with us to give fittings of the celebrated

Binner Corset

We have anticipated her coming and have already received the new Binner styles and shapes for spring. The well-dressed woman realizes that it is her duty to be properly corsetted before her gowns are fitted. There are changes (slight, it is true, as the Binner models have always been ahead of Corset styles) in some of the Spring shapes—therefore it will be well for our old customers to come and get acquainted with them. Those who have never worn a Binner should not fail to consult Miss Buxton and be fitted with one of these superb Corsets.

REFUSED TO GO AND WAS KILLED

Mrs. Mize Declined to Come to Georgia.

This Enraged Mize and He Killed His Wife and Himself. Mrs. Mize's Character Spotless—Mize Was Well Known in Americus.

Wilmington, N. C., February 1.—(Special.)—Additional details in the tragic death of Eddie B. Mize, who shot and killed his wife, then ended his own life, were revealed today in the investigation of the circumstances, showing that he had become grievously offended because his wife, who was being cared for by her parents, refused to accompany him to Atlanta, Ga. Her character is beyond reproach, and the appalling crime was long premeditated and partly due to her refusal to give up the child.

Mrs. Mize had parted from him at Athens, Ga., when he refused to support her, and came here to her parents. Mize soon followed her, and during the past two weeks had made frequent threats upon her life. Mize was formerly of Americus, Ga., and had lived in Athens and Atlanta for the past several years. His two brothers, H. L. and B. I. Mize, were notified yesterday, but the remains will likely be turned over to a medical college in this state. The funeral of Mrs. Mize was held from the home of her parents this afternoon, and the remains were interred in Bellevue cemetery.

Mize Well Known in Americus.

Americus, Ga., February 1.—(Special.) Edward Mize, who killed his young wife and followed the shocking deed by killing himself, at Wilmington yesterday, was a native of Americus and reared here. He was 25 years old, and brother of Police Commissioner Hugh Mize, of Americus. Edward Mize was well known here, and the story of his deed shocked hundreds of friends.

WHAT SHALL THE CHIEF DO WITH HIS STOCK OF LIQUOR?

What is the chief of police going to do with his stock of liquor?

This question now confronts Chief Jennings, of the police department. He stated yeseterday that he has on hand a large stock of fine rye and corn liquor and that something must be done with it. The law prohibits him from selling it or giving it away. And, my, what a cruel waste it would be to pour it out!

"I just don't know what to do with my liquor," said Chief Jennings yesterday, "and I am in a great quandary. For the past year the liquor captured in blind tigers has been accumulating and now I have a large stock on hand. It isn't all rot by a long sight. Most of it is the finest corn and rye liquor made. I have it in five-gallon, three-gallon and one gallon jugs, in quart bottles, in pints and in half pints. Nearly all the mea nliquor captured has been thrown away. I did not like to pour out fine whisky and so from time to time have had it stored away. It is taking up too much space and must be gotten rid of. But what am I to do with it?"

The United States government can, under the law, sell all the whisky it confiscates; but the city of Atlanta cannot. The whisky in the possession of the chief of police cannot be sold. It cannot be given away. Shall it be poured out into the gutter?

One citizen intimated to the chief of police that if he would leave his locker open and keep out of sight for a little while and let the "boys" know what was up the whisky would quickly disappear. At this the chief shook his head and said such a plan was "no go."

But, seriously, something will have to be done with the chief's liquor. He has disposed of a few bottles of it now and then to public hospitals, but this has only been a drop in the bucket, or rather a drop in the jugs.

The chief of police is open for suggestions and if some good legal plan is not soon offered there will be a great waste of good booze around at police headquarters.

DUBLIN POSTOFFICE FOR MRS. CLARA GRIER

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, February 1.—(Special.)—Mrs. George B. Grier, of Dublin, wife of Clark Grier, was today confirmed by the senate as postmaster at Dublin. Mrs. Grier was appointed postmaster when her husband resigned that office last year to assume charge of the state campaign in Georgia waged in the interest of the republican national nominees. Mr. Grier was in Washington today. He was asked about the rumors of the probability of his own appointment to various offices in Georgia, but declined to discuss any of these rumors.

The name of Mrs. Mary F. Smith has been sent to the senate for confirmation as postmaster at Blakely, Ga. She will succeed her father, H. P. Fryer, who has retired on account of old age, after having been postmaster for thirty-five years.

CENTENNIAL OF LINCOLN.

Senate Passes Bill to Make It a Legal Holiday.

Washington, February 1.—Without amendment, the senate today passed the house bill making February 12, 1909, the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, a legal holiday, and recommending its celebration throughout the United States, for which purpose the president is authorized to issue a special proclamation. The bill also declares that, as a part of a national memorial to Lincoln, there may be built a highway from Washington city to the battlefield of Gettysburg, Pa., to be known as the Lincoln way. An appropriation of $50,000 is made for a survey of plans and estimates for such highway.

He Died in Electric Chair.

Ossining, N. Y., February 1.—Salvatore Governale was put to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison today for the murder of two New York city policeman, George M. Sechler and Albert A. Silleck, on Sunday afternoon, April 14, 1908. The double murder followed a fight in Washington Square park.

Governale was brought into the death chamber at 5:48 o'clock this morning, accompanied by an Italian priest from New York city and Dr. C. V. Mahoney, of St. Augustine's Roman Catholic church at Ossining. The condemned man carried a crucifix and as he walked to the chair he repeated the prayer for the dying.

Pensions for Widows.

Washington, February 1.—All widows of veterans of the civil war, the war with Mexico and Indian wars will be entitled to receive pensions at the rate of $12 per month if a bill passed by the senate is favorably acted upon by the house of representatives. Under the law of June 27, 1890, no widow of a veteran who was married to the veteran after that date is entitled to a pension.

SAVANNAH PAYS TAXES FOR SALE OF NEAR BEER

Ordinary Sends $43,800 to the State Treasurer—Over 200 Dealers Came Across.

Savannah, Ga., February 1.—(Special.) Backing up his promises of money, Ordinary McAlpin today sent to the state treasurer a check for $43,800 taxes, representing the three weeks' collections of near beer licenses in Chatham county, where less than a month ago many feared soldiers would be sent to collect.

This probably ends the collections here, as 204, the approximate number of near beer dealers, have paid up.

Fire Fought by Guests.

Macon, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—A fire that started in the roof of the Reeves house this morning brought the guests into a quick, brave fight with the flames. Men and women were engaged and they balled water until the department was called. The blaze was then extinguished with small loss.

Frozen in the Blizzard.

Omaha, Neb., February 1.—Gust Johnson, a Finnish coal miner from Roslyn, Wash., was brought last night from Valley, Neb., to the county hospital here suffering from frozen hands and feet. He slept in a hay stack during the blizzard Thursday night and next morning could not walk. He remained in the stack until Saturday, when he crawled on his hands and knees to Valley, 7 miles.

SUIT AGAINST CASTRO FOR PLOTTING TO KILL

Alleged He Tried to Procure the Death of General Gomez.

Caracas, January 29, via Port of Spain, February 1.—In accordance with instructions from Senor Alcantara, minister of the interior, the attorney general will bring suit in the high federal court against Cipriano Castro, the former president of Venezuela, on the charge of having instigated the assassination of President Gomez.

Minister Alcantara's communication to the attorney general was accompanied by a large quantity of documentary proof, which, it was stated, "was collected at the investigation into an abortive plot against the life of Vice President Gomez, the constitutional charge of the presidency."

The court already has decided that adequate proof has been furnished for the beginning of the action against General Castro.

CONNOLLY IS DEFENDED.

Passengers on the Republic Say He Acted Bravely.

Washington, February 1.—The white house today made public two letters from William J. Prendergast and wife, of Jefferson, Mass., fellow passengers with James B. Connolly, the writer of sea stories, on the ill-fated steamer Republic, saying that Connolly "was perfectly cool" at the time of the disaster, went to the state rooms in the dark to get life preservers for the Prendergasts, who "were afraid to go for them," and he aided other passengers.

"He was a brave man, and too much credit cannot be given him," wrote Mrs. Prendergast.

Troup Superior Court.

LaGrange, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—Troup superior court opened for the regular February term this morning, Judge R. W. Freeman, of Newnan, presiding. There is quite a heavy docket and it is expected that both branches of the jury will be very busy. Civil business will be taken up this week and criminal business next week.

200 Lives Lost in Fire.

Canton, China, February 1.—At least 200 lives were lost in a fire which occurred today in a fleet of flower boats. The charred bodies of 170 victims have already been recovered, but many persons are still missing.

Gossip at the Capitol

Governor Smith is wrestling with the proposition of a solicitor general for the Brunswick circuit to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Solicitor General Walker, elected only last year.

Two of the half dozen or so applicants for the place were in the city in conference with the governor yesterday, and others, with their friends, have recently been here to urge their claims.

Among the applicants most recently in Atlanta are Hon. W. W. Lambdin, of Waycross, who was accompanied by Hon. W. F. Crawley; Judge Warren Isott and other friends urging his appointment, and Hon. A. B. Estes, of Pierce, representative from that county.

Among other applicants for this appointment are Hon. R. G. Parks, of Waycross; Hon. M. D. Dickerson and Hon. W. F. Dart, of Douglas, and Judge J. H. Thomas, of the city court of Baxley.

It is expected that Governor Smith will make this appointment within the next day or two.

Tuberculosis Trustees to Meet.

Executive Secretary C. M. Hitch yesterday sent out a call to the recently-appointed trustees of the state sanitarium for the treatment of tuberculosis, provided for under an appropriation made by the last legislature, to meet in the senate chamber at the state capitol on February 11.

There are two members of this board from each congressional district, appointed by the governor. When they meet they will organize by the election of a president and secretary, and will in all probability enter upon preliminary discussion as to the location of this new institution. There is now available $13,000 of the $25,000 appropriation which the legislature made in order to found this institution and begin its work.

Treasury Funds Are Low.

The $940,000 warrant recently drawn on the state treasury, together with a few other payments of no mean proportions which have been made to state institutions, has left the treasury at a pretty low ebb. Something like $50,000 was drawn out yesterday, and at the close of the day's business the treasury had left only about $45,000 belonging to all funds. Of this sum $9,000 belongs to the state agricultural schools, which are now due a total of $11,000. Money is still coming in from taxes, however, and there will be sufficient to meet all present requirements.

In the Inauguration Parade.

Troop K, of the First Georgia cavalry, located in Augusta and commanded by Captain J. C. Dempsey, is anxious to go to Washington and participate in the parade on the occasion of the inauguration of President-elect W. H. Taft. Request to that effect was received yesterday by Adjutant General A. J. Scott, who will submit it to Governor Smith today, and there is little question that it will be granted.

The Augustans are naturally anxious to show some appreciation of the fact that Mr. Taft recently spent a month or more in their midst, and it is said they will make provision for sending the troop to Washington.

Major Stephens Retires.

Major W. B. Stephens, of Savannah, commander of the First battalion, heavy artillery, yesterday sent his request to Adjutant General A. J. Scott to be placed on the retired list, which was granted.

Major Stephens retires with the rank of lieutenant colonel, which he held several years ago while assistant inspector general of rifle practice. He has seen a continuous service in the state troops of nearly nineteen years, and served during the Spanish-American war as captain in the Second Georgia regiment.

IN THE COURTS

All of the courts have adjourned until the first week in March. The city criminal division is this week hearing jail cases.

Judge Roan will hold court on the 15th of the month to dispose of jail cases. The superior court, criminal division, will not be in session again until the third Monday in March.

All of the confederate veterans in Fulton county will receive their pensions this week. Judge Wilkinson announces that the indigent class will be paid off on Wednesday and the disabled soldiers and widows of veterans will be paid off on Thursday.

Purchasing a Wedding Gift From Us

Means just this: That you may be sure you're getting the right thing and that you're paying the same price that absolutely anybody else would have to pay.

We harp a little on this because we believe so whole-heartedly in the One-Price System. When one is charged less for merchandise than the price asked, either the price was too large at first, or the loss must be made up on something else or somebody else—maybe on the very one who gets the reduction. Which happens not infrequently.

Honest, beautiful, attractive wares—the best products of silversmiths and goldsmiths, and these wares at right prices—the same to all—that's our policy.

But, speaking of Wedding Gifts, have you seen our new Silver?

SOCIETY

To Mrs. Carter.

Mrs. W. E. Foster and Mrs. Marshall Eckford will entertain at bridge this morning at the home of Mrs. Foster in West End, a number of their West End friends being invited to meet Mrs. Andrew Carter, of Louisville, the guest of Mrs. E. V. Carter.

Their guests will be: Mrs. Howard Arnold, Mrs. J. M. Beasley, Mrs. W. M. McClelland, Mrs. Frank Baker, Mrs. W. B. Disbro, Mrs. E. A. Holbrook, Mrs. Maxwell Berry, Mrs. Clarence Bloodworth, Mrs. G. W. Ramey, Mrs. Ovid Stewart, Mrs. J. J. Simpson, Mrs. Simonton, Miss Ogilvie, Mrs. Fisk, Mrs. J. C. Mason, Mrs. D. I. McIntyre, Mrs. E. V. Carter, Mrs. McWhorter Milner, Mrs. Alva Cage, Mrs. Ruff, Mrs. A. T. Abbott, Mrs. Fred Stewart, Mrs. Briersdorfer, Mrs. Dent, Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. E. D. Small, Miss Lively, Mrs. G. A. Howell, Mrs. Arthur Howell, Mrs. Posberg, Mrs. W. I. Maddox, Mrs. St. Elmo Massengale, Mrs. C. I. Walker, Mrs. Martin of Macon, Mrs. Wallace Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Robert Troy, Mrs. Emmett Triggs, Mrs. George Stockton, Misses Gertrude and Lee Brandon, Mrs. Leon Walker, Mrs. J. P. Allen.

To Mrs. L. O. Stevens.

Mrs. Lewis Stevens, of Macon, arrives in the city Thursday as the guest of her sister, Mrs. John D. Little.

Mrs. Victor Smith gives her a luncheon on Thursday; Mrs. Little one on Friday, and Mrs. Charles A. Conklin one on Saturday.

To Miss Briscoe.

Mrs. J. C. Wayt will entertain on Wednesday afternoon in compliment to Miss Mary Briscoe.

Theater Party.

Mr. Eugene Haynes entertained last night at the first of a series of two box parties at the Grand in compliment to the debutantes.

His guests were Miss Leone Ladson, Miss Charles Owens, Miss Elizabeth Rawson, Miss Jane Thornton, Miss Annice Hawkins, Miss Helen Payne, Mr. Walton Harper, Mr. Stuart Boyd, Mr. Joseph Brown Connally, Mr. T. J. Lyon and Mr. Harold Seaman.

To Mrs. Cage.

Miss Ethel Lively will entertain at bridge Thursday afternoon at her home in West End in compliment to Mrs. Alva Cage, who leaves soon to make her home in Denver. A number of parties were given for Mrs. Cage last week.

To Fall Brides.

Mrs. W. C. Humphries will entertain on the afternoon of February 10 at the first of a series of bridge parties, Mrs. M. W. Hardwick to be the guest of honor.

The second affair, on the 17th, will be a compliment to Mrs. J. E. Paullin.

Grandmothers' Bridge Party.

The Grandmothers' Club will give a bridge whist party this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Hebrew Orphans' Home for the benefit of the Settlement Home. Refreshments will be served and handsome prizes awarded the lucky winners.

Drennen-Peters.

Mrs. William Drennen, of Birmingham, Ala., has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Eula, to Mr. Richard Peters, Jr., on the evening of Tuesday, February 16, at 8 o'clock, at the First Methodist church in Birmingham. The ceremony will be followed by a brilliant reception at the Hotel Hillman.

Jewish Bazar.

A pleasantly anticipated event of the week is the Jewish bazar, given by the Ladies' Auxiliary Society of the congregation, Ahavath Achim, for the benefit of the Atlanta Hebrew school.

Hon. Robert Maddox, after prayer by Rabbi J. M. Levin, with one of his delightful speches formally declared the bazar open for four nights of continued rounds of fun and frolic, beginning last night, February 1, and continuing until Friday, February 5.

The vestry of the synagogue, where the bazar is held, has been for the last two weeks in the hands of expert decorators and the result has exceeded the fondest expectations.

Unique designs, beautiful conglomerations of colors and artistic work have turned the erstwhile place of worship into a modern fairyland.

The Atlanta merchants have, with their usual liberality, donated valuable articles which will be sold or raffled. Handsomely decorated booths, presided over by young ladies of like description, are distributed over the building.

The wheel of fortune is in full swing, while for the younger people an entire orchestra and a special space has been reserved for four hours' dancing each night.

The officers and members of the organizations interested in this affair wish to thank all who rendered them their valued assistance and take this means of extending to them and their friends a hearty and cordial invitation to come and enjoy it with them.

Luncheon to Be Served.

The ladies of the Central Congregational church, corner Ellis street and Carnegie way, will serve a series of lunches on Tuesdays, beginning today, February 2, from 12 to 2 o'clock, in assembly hall, downstairs. Ham, peas, potatoes, rolls and pickles, 25 cents; coffee, doughnuts and cheese, 10 cents; an unlimited supply.

Presbyterian Hospital.

Beginning Monday, February 8, the Presbyterian ladies of Atlanta will open a restaurant in the basement of the court house and serve lunches and dinners there for one week. It is to help the "Charity Ward" of the Presbyterian Hospital. That is sufficient to get the patronage the movement ought to have. A good dinner may be had for 50 cents or a lunch for 25 cents. Each church will take a day, and look out for our menu. Kill two birds with one stone by getting a good dinner and helping the cause at the same time.

To Mr. and Mrs. Barrett Phinizy.

A brilliant occasion was the reception in Athens the evening of the 28th, when Mrs. Ferdinand Phinizy entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Barrett Phinizy. Assisting in receiving were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hunter, of Atlanta, and Miss Annie B. Phinizy, while a number of the prettiest young women assisted in the entertainment of the guests. Mrs. Phinizy's home is one of the handsomest in the south, and was elaborately decorated for the occasion.

The wainscoting in the hall and the staircase were entirely hidden with bamboo, studded with daffodils. There must have been thousands of daffodils and they almost sparkled like stars out of the green background, making a beautiful effect. In the drawing room, where the receiving party stood, the decorations were in American Beauty roses, great bunches of them in tall vases on mantel and cabinet; the drawing room in old rose and gold. In the dining room, adjoining, the table was radiant in decorations of enchantress carnations, a plateau of these, four feet long, forming the centerpiece. Around these were silver candlesticks, their lights softened by crystal shades. At each end of the table was a cut glass punch bowl, hung with Malaga grapes, and the punch was served by Miss Louise DuBose and Miss Annie Crawford.

Compotes of Bohemian glass held pink and white bonbons, and the ices following the delicious refreshments were in pink and white. At another table in the dining room Miss Coatsie Benedict served fruit punch, and the decorations here were in pink roses. In the library, which is in mahogany and tapestry upholstery, there were tall crystal vases filled with bridesmaids roses.

Mrs. Phinizy, the queenly hostess, wore a white chiffon gown, veiled in black lace of exquisite kind.

Mrs. Barrett Phinizy's beauty was seen to charming advantage in a directoire gown of white callot satin, the short-waisted corsage trimmed in rose point lace, and she carried a bouquet of Kaiserine-Augusta-Victoria roses.

Mrs. J. C. Hunter was elegantly gowned in pink chiffon cloth embroidered, and her jewels were pearls.

Southern Writers.

The nineteenth century history class will meet Wednesday of this week at 3:30 p. m. with Mrs. Sam D. Jones. The class is studying southern literature. The two papers for Wednesday afternoon will be by Mrs. Bolling Jones on Thomas Nelson Page, and Mrs. Orme Campbell on Joel Chandler Harris.

Following each paper Miss Clara Wimberly will give a selection from each author.

Committees for Georgia Day.

Mrs. Samuel Jones, president of the City Federation of Women's Clubs, which has a membership now of fifty-odd organizations, has appointed committees to arrange for an appropriate observance of Georgia day in the schools here and throughout the state.

Mrs. William Lawson Peel, aided by Miss Nina Hornaday, several years ago inspired the movement of having Georgia day generally observed. They succeeded in having the city schools hold appropriate exercises, and in the same direction did efficient work throughout the state.

The City Federation will celebrate the day on the afternoon of February 12, and to arrange a program Mrs. Sam D. Jones appoints the following general committee: Mrs. W. L. Peel, chairman; Miss Nina Hornaday, vice chairman; Mrs. W. P. Pattillo, Mrs. E. G. McCabe, Mrs. A. G. Candler, Mrs. A. E. Buck, Mrs. Isaac Boyd, Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, Mrs. A. B. Steele, Mrs. Estelle Garrett Baker, Mrs. Henry Collier, Mrs. E. L. Connally.

On Music—Miss Edna McCandless, chairman; Miss Caroline Dubose, vice chairman; Miss Marion Peel, Miss Eleanor Raoul, Miss Annie Mitchell, Miss Jennie Mobley and Miss Nita Black.

Wedding Parties.

The popularity of the lovely bride and genial bridegroom are centering a great deal of social pleasure in the marriage of Miss Kate Robinson and Mr. E. H. Butler, Jr., which takes place tonight at 8 o'clock at the First Methodist church.

Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock Miss Robinson was at home to her attendants and the out-of-town guests to the wedding. The same evening Mr. E. H. Butler entertained the bridal party at dinner at the Capital City Club.

Yesterday Messrs. Clark and Albert Howell entertained at luncheon at the Capital City Club in honor of the gentlemen of the wedding party. At the same hour Colonel James W. English, Jr., entertained for the ladies of the party at his handsome home on Peachtree street. There were sixteen in the latter party, Miss Kate Robinson, the guest of honor, and the out-of-town guests, including Mrs. Davenport, Mrs. Walter Semon, Mrs. Pearce, Miss Ruth Graves.

There was a silver branched epergne in the center of the table, filled with the flowers, and at the base was a plateau of the gold-lighted blossoms. At intervals on the table were silver loving cups filled with daffodils. Marie Antoinette baskets of candy held yellow spun candy balls, and all the candlesticks had their shades in yellow. The bonbons were in that color, and the ices were served from candy baskets, decorated with daffodils.

Palms and house plants were gracefully arranged throughout the house and in the broad hallway and drawing room American Beauties were used.

In the party were Miss Ada Butler, Mrs. Davenport, Mrs. Semon, Mrs. Pierson, Miss Graves, Misses Stockdell, Marion Peel, Louise Hawkins, Emma Robinson, Jennie Mobley, Mrs. Cobb Caldwell.

Last night Miss Marion Peel, one of the group of lovely bridesmaids at the Robinson-Butler wedding, entertained in honor of the wedding party at a beautifully appointed buffet supper.

Colonel and Mrs. Peel and Miss Peel received the guests in the long music room, where, on the mantel and at the base of the mirror, there were bowls of chatney roses in harmony with the pale rose mural decorations and hangings.

In the living room and hallway there were American Beauty roses. In the tea room punch was served from a silver bowl embossed in grapes, and vases of crimson roses decorated the cabinets.

In the dining room the long table from which substantial and dainty things were served from silver platters and dishes, there were floral decorations in chatney roses.

Oratorio "St. Paul."

An evening of beautiful music will be provided tonight in the performance of the Oratorio "St Paul" at the First Presbyterian church, the occasion celebrating the centennial anniversary of the birth of the composer of "St. Paul," Felix Mendelsson-Bartholdy.

A chorus of forty-four voices, which includes some of the best known choir soloists in the city, Warm's full orchestra and a group of prominent singers in the solo roles, with Mr. J. W. Marshbank conducting, have brought their work to a rare degree of perfection, and the production tonight will reward the large attendance which is expected.

Grace M. Brown's Lecture.

The most striking proof of Mrs. Brown's popularity was given Sunday afternoon, when she drew a large and enthusiastic audience to Cable hall, notwithstanding the weather.

The lecture was a rare treat, and Mrs. Brown held her audience in closest attention and received a spontaneous ovation at the close, when hundreds pressed forward to clasp her hand.

In introducing the speaker, Mr. Robert Bryan Harrison paid her the following beautiful tribute:

"Mrs. Brown is not only a pioneer of new thought, but was one of the pioneers of Colorado. She rode its prairies on horseback, and became acquainted with the Indians and prairie dogs. She has suffered many of the hardships of life, which makes her sympathy for mankind genuine.

"While Denver is Mrs. Brown's home, she is more than a citizen of Denver, or of Colorado, or even of the United States. She is a citizen of the universe!"

"Her ancestry dates far beyond the revolutionary war; therefore she is more than a Colonial Dame. She goes back to Adam and feels the blood of the first man and woman tingling through her veins.

"She knows God as her father, and Jesus of Nazareth as an elder brother, which makes her a royal princess of the house of David.'

"Many laurels have been twined around her brow, and should she ever desire to wear a crown, there will be a galaxy of stars with which to adorn it, but the one bright particular star which will ever shine brightly, undimmed through countless ages, will be that rare gem—true motherhood. Her children are perfect mirrors, reflecting the beautiful pesonality of this charming woman."

Anniversary Supper.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Barbour Thompson will entertain at buffet supper on Friday evening, to celebrate their wedding anniversary.

Surprise Dinner.

Mrs. J. E. Schofield gave a pretty dinner Friday night at her home, in Decatur, the occasion a surprise in compliment to her husband, whose birthday it was. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Mason and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Chambers.

To School Girls.

A happy affair of yesterday morning was the domino party given by Miss Antoinette Blackburn, which assembled a group of her school friends at Agnes Scott.

The decorations and many attractive color details were in purple and white, the college colors, and the prizes, which were won by Miss Florence Smith and Miss Cornelia Cooper, were an Agnes Scott poster girl and a box of candy.

Her guests were: Miss Henrietta Dull, Miss Dorothy Selby, Miss Leonora Ragland, Miss Violet Trippe, Miss Carol Stearns, Miss Margaret Thomas, Miss Dorothy Stevens, Miss Elizabeth Osborne, Miss Cornelia Cooper, Miss Margaret Woods, Miss Eleanor Frierson, Miss Lila Williams, Miss Lucy Reagan, Miss Adelaide Nelson, Miss Annette McDonald, Miss Bessie Craig, Miss Duralde Borden, Miss Nell Parks, Miss Susie Gunn, Miss Eleanor Coleman, Miss Helen MacClaughy, Miss Florence Jackson, Miss Charlotte Jackson, Miss Louise Wells, Miss Martha Hall, Miss Janet Little.

A Charming Guest.

Mrs. Harry Martin, president of the Knoxville Woman's Club, and one of the social leaders of that city, arrives in the city tonight as the guest of Mrs. de Forrest Algood. Mrs. Martin is a celebrated writer, and is author of the widely-quoted toast to the "Old North State:"

Here's to the land of the Long Leaf Pine,
The Summer Land, where the sun doth shine;

Where the scuppernong perfumes the breeze at night,
Where soft Southern moss and jessamine mate,
'Neath the murmuring pines of the "Old North State!"

Where the rhododendron roseate glows;
Where soars Mount Mitchell's summit great,
In the "Land of the Sky," in the "Old North State!"

Where friends are the truest, and cold hearts are rarest;
The near land, the dear land, whatever our fate,
The blest land, the best land, the "Old North State!"

—Leonora Monteiro Martin.

BECAUSE HEN LAID AN EGG A WOMAN IS FINED $200

When a hen lays an egg and thereby causes a woman to be arraigned in police court and fined $200, there is a story unique enough to make any lover of the remarkable cackle.

Such a story developed in the police court yesterday morning when one Fanny Smith, a negro woman who resides at 17 Bowles street, was arraigned on the charge of running a blind tiger.

The hen and egg were not in court, but the story of the "lay" was told by Officers Hewell and Tom Lanford, who made the case.

The officers were led to suspect that Fanny Smith was selling liquor. They called upon her and she told them that she did not sell liquor, but had a quantity of it stored in a room for other persons. She said that the whisky had been shipped from Chattanooga, and she only received it for the accommmodation of some of her friends.

The woman pointed to a door that was fastened with a padlock and stated that the whisky was kept in that room, and the door was always locked. She allowed the officers to unlock the door, and they found in the room two cases of corn and rye liquor.

"Now, Fanny," said one of the officers, "you are certain that the door to this room does not remain open?"

"Yes, sir," replied Fanny Smith, "I never opens this door unless some of my friends come to git dere whisky which I keep here for them."

The officers had spied a hen's nest in one corner of the room in which were three eggs.

This discovery already began to smack of Sherlock Holmes.

"What about that hen's nest with those eggs in it?" asked one of the officers.

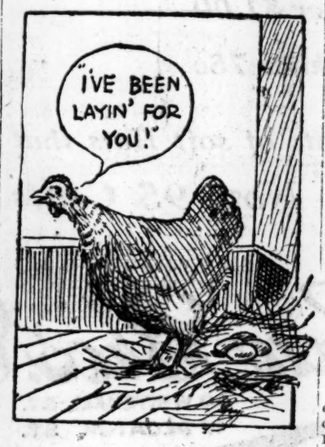
Just then an old black hen walked sedately into the room, made straight for the nest, where she laid an egg. All [illegible] right in the very presence of the officers.

"[illegible] that settles it," said Officer Hewell, "for that hen lays in that nest every day, and so you must keep that door open all the time."



THIS HEN CAUSED TROUBLE.

Some more Sherlock Holmes.

So when Fanny Smith was arraigned in court and the story of the hen and the egg came out, Recorder Broyles decided that the woman did keep the door open all the time and that, therefore, the circumstantial evidence was very strong to show that she kept whisky on hand for sale.

Fanny Smith was fined $200 and costs, and being unable to pay the fine, was sent to the stockade for thirty days.

Pensacola, Fla., February 1.—An unusual incident occurred this afternoon when two negroes suicided in almost the same manner and within an hour of one another. Williams Rawls, confined in the county jail, ran the length of the corridor and gave a leap when nearing a steel cell, dashing out his brains. A little later an unidentified negro stood in the middle of a railway track, and as the train neared him, gave a leap, as if to butt the engine from the track. His head was severed from the body.

SHE THREW CHILDREN INTO THE SNOW BANK

And Saved Them From Fire. The Mother, However, Was Fatally Burned.

Gaylord, Mich., February 1.—Mrs. Albert Waunza saved the lives of two of her children when their home, near here, burned last night, by throwing them from second-story windows into snow banks. The mother, however, was probably fatally burned while rescuing the children, and a third child was burned to death, the flames preventing the mother from reaching her room. Waunza, the father, jumped from a window, uninjured. Then the family, bare-footed, and with the mother almost roasted from waist to shoulders, had to walk half a mile through the snow to secure shelter.

THE VALUE OF PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE

Personal knowledge is the winning factor in the culminating contests of this competitive age and when of ample character it places its fortunate possessor in the front ranks of

The Well Informed of the World.

A Knowledge of Forms, Knowledge of Functions and Knowledge of Products are all of the utmost value and in questions of life and health when a true and wholesome remedy is desired it should be remembered that Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., is an ethical product which has met with the approval of the most eminent physicians and gives universal satisfaction, because it is a remedy of Known Quality, Known Excellence and Known Component Parts and has won the valuable patronage of millions of the Well Informed of the world, who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual use that it is the first and best of family laxatives, for which no extravagant or unreasonable claims are made.

This valuable remedy has been long and favorably known under the name of—Syrup of Figs—and has attained to world-wide acceptance as the most excellent family laxative. As its pure laxative principles, obtained from Senna, are well known to physicians and the Well Informed of the world to be the best we have adopted the more elaborate name of—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna—as more fully descriptive of the remedy, but doubtless it will always be called for by the shorter name of—Syrup of Figs—and to get its beneficial effects, always note, when purchasing the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package, whether you call for—Syrup of Figs—or by the full name—Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

AT THE THEATERS

"A Knight for a Day."

The closing scene of the first act of "A Knight for a Day" comes nearer equaling the famous Maxim's scene in "The Merry Widow" than anything that has appeared at the Grand this season. The scenic effect is even prettier, the electrical see-saw, filled with a handsomely costumed chorus, bringing a burst of spontaneous applause from the audience. The music to "Life Is a See-Saw" is the kind that you whistle when you don't know what you are doing. The song gets into your head—and stays there.

While the play drags just a mite at times, it is, by all odds, the best musical play of the season, excepting, of course, "The Merry Widow." Lovers of a bright, sparkling and exceedingly musical schol will miss a treat if they fail to see "A Knight for a Day."

It might be said that Frank Deshon, as Jonathan Joy, is the whole show—certainly this is true of the second act, for he is on the stage every minute, and every minute that he is on the stage there is a laugh on the audience. He is an unusually clever comedian, and has the happy faculty of making his audience feel that he is enjoying the fun as much as they are.

Miss Darrell, as Tillie Day, handles an exceedingly difficult part with perfect ease, several of her songs meeting with hearty encores. Miss Tate, as Muriel Oliver, has the best voice of the cast, and her rendition of a number of songs is very pleasing. "The Garden of Dreams," as sung by Miss Tate and the male chorus, is one of the hits of the production.

The chorus, while not very large, does excellent work. Handsome girls without exception, they are so trained that the very best effects are secured. The dances and poses are splendidly designed for artistic effects. The singing, especially that of the male part of the chorus, shows the careful work of an experienced director.

Matinee and night performances today.

At the Lyric.

Two actors, described as twin brothers on the program, who play the role of Irishmen, in "King Casey," at the Lyric this week, kept one of the largest audiences of the season in a continual roar of laughter at the initial performance last night.

One of these actors is Johnny Ray, who in the play is Dan Casey. Pat Casey's twin brother and fireman at the Waldorf-Astoria. Pat Casey is the other actor, known off the stage as Dan Coleman, who besides being Dan's twin brother, is the kin gof the Island of "Lalla Pa Zaza." Their work is something out of the ordinary, and besides the funny lines they deliver, the audience is puzzled at times to know which is Dan and which is Pat.

Mrs. Emma Ray plays the leading female part as Goldie Mine, a wealthy widow, who is won by Pat Casey, the king, and who, like the audience, confuses Pat with Dan. Her work was good.

There are some of the prettiest and liveliest chorus girls in the production that one would wish to see, and the entire company makes a good appearance.

The play is in two acts. The scene of the first is laid in a New York hotel, and the second is on the strange island of "Lalla Pa Zaza." The music is catchy and at times dreamy, but most of the time just right. "My Rainbow," sung by George Wismar, Etta Reynolds and the chorus, again won applause, while among the other good ones were "Lu," "Annie Anheuser," "My Yankee Maid," and "Just Some One." Two members of the female contingent, Effie Pearson, as Princess Eulah, and Alma Bauer, as Materia, the court physician, were especially pleasing in their roles. The play is given something of a wild west aspect by John B. Morris, known as 'Rock Mountain Jack," who livens up things with two huge six-shooters.

At the Bijou.

A stunning lot of Daisies, a fat, good-natured man with a grin that would melt an icicle, loud but swell costumes, and some real vaudeville, were the features offered the Bijou patrons yesterday afternoon by Rice & Barton's Big Gaiety Company.

If there was any color of the rainbow, any tint findable in a dry goods store, that the Daisies did not wear, the audience was kept in ignorance.

Especially was the display of yellow at the end of the first act attractive. Girls, men and comedians wore long cloaks of that color, while green hats made the contrast all the greater. In order to give the audience a better chance to see and appreciate they paraded, indian file, across the stage after the curtain went down.

Unusual to relate there was a slight plot running through the two acts. It all centered around the word Daisy, Everything Barton was connected with had that handle. His dog was Daisy, his wife's sister was Daisy, the chorus girls he met were named Daisy, all Daisies,, except his wife, and she was a hummer, so they were even in the end.

The vaudeville was especially pleasing. It seemed to strike the key of the audience, and every act was applauded heartily. Perhaps the best was the act of Frank Pierce and Alice Maizee, in "The Singer and the Sheath Gown Girl." Miskel, Hunt and Miller, musicians, were also above par.

An evening spent at the Bijou will mean three hours of relaxation, a splendid tonic for the worries of business.

At the Orpheum.

If you want to enjoy a good laugh the Orpheum this week is the place to get it. There are four acts there as brimful of comedy as one could wish and as wholesome and as laughable, while the musical act, the acrobatics and the cycling round out a first-class bill.

The A B C D girls are the headliner. These four dainty misses are clever dancers, good singers and good-looking, too. Their songs are catchy, well-rendered and were frequently encored, while the comedienne was repeatedly applauded.

Lancton Lucier & Co., presenting a one-act skit, "The Fool's Errand," have a bit of comedy that is a ripple of laughter. The antics of the messenger and the country girl were rich and original, and, altogether, this act is the best bit of comedy seen here in some time, while the "after-act," in answering the curtain call, when "requested to leave the stage" by the manager, was rung in was rich.

Buckner's Three Demons are certainly all their name implies. The piece of cycling work that they render is worth going miles to see. It is daring to the extreme. These three cyclists ride around a track that revolves in the opposite direction and rises at the same time. Though pedalling hard their wheels are at a standstill, owing to the counter motion of the track.

Harry Fentelle and Eddie Carr, in a one-act comedy, "Out Land Junction," present a laughable and musical skit that proved a hit by its originality and many jokes.

Fred Singer, "The Violin Maker of Cremona," presents the best violin act ever seen here. His impersonations of the world's famous masters and his rendition of some of their masterpieces could not have been much better in the original. His touch and his tone changed with the man and his facial expressions were interesting to watch.

Polk and Polk have the neatest piece of acrobatic work seen here this season. Their spring-board tricks are wonderful, showing accuracy in judging distance and wonderful quickness of every member of the body. A summersault from one end of the spring-board to the other man's head is the greatest piece of dexterity pulled off yet.

Coakley and McBride have several neat dancing stunts and some witty talk together with two or three catchy songs that makes the act go.

"Polly of the Circus."

Frederic Thompson's production, "Polly of the Circus," with dainty and winsome Edith Taliaferro in the title role, will be seen at the Grand for four days, beginning Wednesday night. The story, telling of a pretty circus rider, by profession and heredity, compelled by an injury to remain in the home of a young country preacher until the members of his congregation are aflame with narrow rage against the pair and her subsequent flight back to the tents to make his lot easier, is one which grasps and retains the interest.

Matinees will be given on Thursday and Saturday afternoons.

Race Horses in "The Clansman."

The equine actors in "The Clansman" have become famous from one end of the country to the other. The animals are taken on tour in a special box car. They are not ordinary nags, by the way, but retired race horses, including several old-time winners of handicaps and stake events, and they served their stage apprenticeship in the famous chariot race in "Ben Hur."

GOV. PATTERSON IS MENTIONED

the initial message that caused the institution of the present proceedings, Mrs. Whitworth withdrawing her demand that her husband be excused. She explained that she was "unnecessarily alarmed" by reading that a physician had been called to attend a juror and that, "without investigating," she had written the original letter asking for his discharge.

A recess was granted in order that the attorneys on both sides might examine the letter.

Charges by the State.

Attorney Garner, for the state, opened the argument after the conference. He said that some then unknown party called up a friend of Juror Whitworth, named Nicoll, and asked how Juror Whitworth stood on the Cooper case.

"This man," he went on, "then called on Nicoll and two other friends of the juror and what he said to them aroused a fear in their hearts that Whitworth would get into trouble if he were left on the jury. Then, and not until then, did the friends of the juror attempt to secure Whitworth's release. The questions they put to Mrs. Whitworth frightened her and she then selected the physician's certificate as the easiest way out of the danger.

"Mrs. Whitworth then went to the family physician and said she wanted a good, strong certificate to get him off the jury. Mrs. Whitworth did not fear that her husband would suffer from disease, but she did fear that his life was in danger from some mysterious source should he serve honestly on the jury.

"We don't know what prompted these methods, or who put them into effect, but we oppose the release of Juror Whitworth unless he be proved legally incompetent."

Statement by Defense.

General Washington replied for the defense, claiming that the physician's certificates and the testimony of Dr. Sullivan were under oath, while Attorney Garner's statements and Mrs. Whitworth's letters were not. He held that if Whitworth be a victim of Bright's disease he should be excused.

The court interrupted to remark that there seemed to be no issue between the state and defense, that both agreed to excuse the juror if he be ill, and that the only point to be decided is whether or not he is a sick man.

The state next announced that it had secured the presence of three physicians, one of them a pathologist, and asked that they be ordered to examine the juror. The court asked the defense if it had any objection. Judge Anderson said: "This is not the defense's fight, and it does not want to take part. However, we have had two reputable physicians. I suggest that the court send for Dr. Brower and hear him. Then, if the court is not satisfied, to call other doctors would be in order."

The court announced that Dr. Brower as a family physician would be better able to settle the point in dispute and he would prefer to have this physician's testimony first and learn whether or not another examination might endanger Mr. Whitworth's health.

"I will issue an instanter subpoena for Dr. Brower and hear him at 1:30 p. m., to which time I will adjourn court," concluded Judge Hart.

Direct Accusation by State.

When court opened after the noon recess Dr. Brower was called. Before he could be examined Attorney General McCarn asked permission to make a statement.

"The state has come to the conclusion that the defense over there," pointing to the Cooper attorneys, "has instigated this fight to get rid of Juror Whitworth. And they tried to have it done by intimating that he might get into trouble over his answers on examination as a juror, and suggested this illness as a ruse. Now this casts a suspicion on Mr. Whitworth which we resent, and we wish to have this phase investigated."

"This phase is not before the court yet. We will hear Dr. Brower."

The court explained to Dr. Brower what had been stated. The doctor said:

"Mr. Whitworth had an acute attack of nephritis two months or more ago, caused by the trauma of a kidney stone. I would not say he had Bright's disease, because Bright's disease is a general term, covering several kidney diseases. These symptoms are likely to return at any time, or they may never return. If they return, then the juror would, undoubtedly, be unfitted for service. The irritating sources might be violent exercise, excitement or excesses."

"Would you consider that sitting on a jury would cause him to have the trouble?"

"No, sir; he's liable to have it any time under any condition."

The state called several other physicians and asked them hypothetical questions. At the conclusion, Judge Hart tersely remarked:

Effort to Show Whitworth Is Biased.

Immediately after the decision, Judge Anderson, of the defense, said that the time had come when the defense wished to speak on the Whitworth case.

"After Whitworth was chosen," he went on, "we heard rumors that the juror was subject to challenge for cause. About the same time Mrs. Whitworth sent to us to know if we would oppose his release for illness. We said we would not, if he were ill. We never suggested, instigated or promoted this illness. We have witnesses, however, to prove that Whitworth has expressed an opinion and is incompetent. We have witnesses here to make good our contention and we will examine them and ask Whitworth's discharge."

Arch Harper, the first witness, heard Dr. Weakley and Whitworth talking at a funeral just before Christmas. Whitworth said people who were for Patterson before the killing were not for him. "I believe," Whitworth said, "that Patterson had something to do with the murder of Carmack."

This is the first time Governor Patterson's name has been drawn into the case.

Dr. Weakley corroborated Harper's testimony. C. W. Mitchell swore that immediately after the three defendants had been indicted he heard Juror Whitworth say:

"Every damned one of them ought to be hanged." This remark was made in the presence of two other men in a blacksmith shop.

The state asked for time to meet the charges, so court was adjourned until 9 a. m. Tuesday.

KEELY'S | KEELY'S

Keely-Ziegler ATLANTA

THERE ARE many good shoe manufacturers, and many worthy shoes on the market, but no others, we believe, have so long a record of uninterrupted and constantly increasing success as Ziegler Brothers and Keely-Ziegler Shoes.

For nearly forty years we have sold these shoes, always under a positive guarantee. In that time two million pairs have passed through our hands; yet an average of less than two pairs a year have been returned as unsatisfactory. Has any other make of shoes such a record?

Shoe styles and methods of shoe manufacture have changed greatly during this long period, but Keely-Ziegler Shoes have continuously maintained their high standard of excellence, and are today, as they were more than a third of a century ago, the leaders in Style, Quality and Workmanship. They are even more popular among distinguished dressers now than they were in 1870.

KEELY-ZIEGLER Shoes represent the very highest point yet reached in fine shoe making. They are manufactured exclusively for us by Ziegler Brothers, of Philadelphia, whose reputation is national, and whose name is a guarantee of quality.

They are designed by artistic and practical experts, and are scientifically and anatomically correct; made of the finest materials obtainable by the highest paid and most skillful workmen. They are built for women of discriminating taste, and to satisfy those who demand shoes that not only fit perfectly, but that give thoroughly good service and retain their shapeliness through long, hard wear.

Keely-Ziegler Shoes are doubly guaranteed—by Ziegler Brothers and by Keely Company. Every pair is sold with the distinct understanding that if, through any fault of material or workmanship, they prove unsatisfactory, they may be returned to us, and a new pair will be given in exchange or the purchase price will be refunded.

Banquet to Taft.

New Orleans, February 1.—It will cost $25 to attend the Taft banquet on Saturday night, February 13. This was decided upon today by the executive committee in charge of the details of Mr. Taft's reception on his approaching visit to New Orleans. It is expected that at least 1,000 persons will attend the banquet. The Taft party is expected to arrive here on the morning of February 13.

Guelich Declared Elected.

Jefferson City, Mo., February 1.—The joint session of the Missouri general assembly this afternoon declared Jacob F. Gmelich elected to the office of lieutenant goevrnor of Missouri. No vote was taken, the speaker declaring the result when the recount committee of five republicans and five democrats reported its findings as follows: For Jacob F. Gmelich, republican, 346,642; for William R. Painter, democrat, 346,465; Gmelich's plurality 177.

BICYCLE RACES AT VELEDROME

Bobby Walthour Races Albert Wills Tonight.

Gussie Lawson Meets Charlie Turville in Motorcycle Race. Several Amateur Races Start Show.

Tonight, at the St. Nicholas Veledrome, the bicycle racing game will be opened up in a blaze of glory, and the opening night promises to be a gala one, for boxes have been tendered to Mayor Maddox and Governor Smith and other prominent Atlantans will probably be on hand to witness the festivities.

The big event of the night's racing will be a motor-paced race between Bobby Walthour and Albert Wills. These two leading pace followers will race three heats of 5 miles each, the best two out of three being the winner. They will meet again on Friday night, and the race on that night will be for 25 miles or more.

Everyone knows who Walthour is and what a splendid, intrepid rider he has always been, so to dwell on him is useless. Wills is the champion of England, and is the smallest man that has ever followed a motor on a wheel. He is even smaller than Midget Jimmy Michael, who was such a sensation in his day. Wills recently defeated Walthour at Madison Square Garden, and before coming to this country he rode 51¾ miles in an hour, thus eclipsing all previous records.

The track at Ponce De Leon is a 12-lap affair, and both riders have expressed themselves as well satisfied with the speed that they have been able to get out of it.

Gussie Lawson, the man who built the track, and who has paced Walthour in nearly all his races, will again guide the Atlanta crack to victory, he says. Charles Turville, himself a brilliant pacer and formerly a celebrated pace follower, will pace the little Englishman, and is confident of bringing his man in first. These two riders will also race one another on motor cycles, and this race should prove a thriller. Several local amateurs will also race, and these races are usually favorites, as this or that spectator is personally acquainted with one of the riders, and backing him to win.

The seating capacity of the new track will accommodate 3,000 persons, and the heating and lighting facilities could not be better. Exchanges of riders will be made with the Kansas City track, where a six-day race is now going on, and Atlanta will be well supplied with the best riders in the country while the game is on.

MRS. JOAN NEWTON CUNEO

Will Drive in the New Orleans Auto Races.

New York, February 1.—(Special.)—Mrs. Joan Newton Cuneo, who has earned the title of the "premier driver of the world," has just completed arrangements to drive in the races at New Orleans, February 20-21-22.

Mrs. Cuneo is in no way a professional driver, but merely a lover of the automobile. Racing is not a new "stunt" for her, for aside from victories of past years, she won the woman's race from New York to Philadelphia and return, only a few weeks ago.

Mrs. Cuneo's experience as a successful driver in various Glidden tours and other endurance runs and in a number of short distance races makes her a formidable competitor for the prize which will be offered by the New Orleans race committee. She has driven, at various times, many different makes of cars, but never until now has she had a car which was sufficiently fast and powerful to bring out her great skill and nerve.

Mrs. Cuneo, who is slight in build, has not the appearance of the daredevil that she is, but when you look into her eyes, you can plainly see that fear is not a component part of her make-up. She drives for the love of the sport and the joy of winning. With nerves as steady as steel, she has always been a competitor to be feared, even against the best male drivers, in every contest in which she has entered.

REAL BASEBALL SOON.

Rays v. Smiths on Friday, the Weather Permitting.

If the weather stays as moderate as it got yesterday afternoon, on Friday Atlanta will be treated to a real game of baseball, and from all accounts it will be a pippin, too.

The game is to be for the benefit of the Boys' Club, of Atlanta, a worthy institution, and every cent that is taken in at the gate will go that benefit, as Manager Smith has donated the use of the park and the tickets, and the ball players on both teams have donated their services. The ladies' auxiliary of the Boys' Club will have charge of the selling and taking of tickets, and this will do away with another expense.

One team will be composed of the actors in Johnny Ray's troupe, now playing at the Lyric, and the team they have is said to be a good one. Mr. Ray plays with the team himself and is an adept at the game.

The opposing team will be composed of well-known players to Atlanta fans. Fox, Jordan, Castro, Moran, Winters, McMillan, McMurray, Bean, E. Lafitte, J. Lafitte, N. Rucker, Cox, Mangum and others are on the line-up, and the game should be a good one.

All it takes is a fair day and the winter league will have some of the real article to feast their craving appetites upon.

ATLANTA PLAYS DAVIDSON GAME

Fast Basketball at Club Wednesday Night.

Tar Heels Have Not Lost a Game, and Don't Expect To. Atlanta Changes Line-Up. Dancing After Game.

Tomorrow night at the Atlanta Athletic Club the next game of basketball scheduled will be played and the club's opponents will be the strong five from Davidson college. The game promises to be on a par with the Columbus and Georgia games, and those who saw those two know what a treat is in store for them tomorrow night.

The Davidson five is in high spirits over coming to Atlanta and are confident of winning the game. They say they have got the strongest team in their history and one that has yet to be defeated by any team, and they are confident of winning here. To use the language of their manager, "We don't expect to lose a game on our trip."

The Atlanta team will suffer the loss of one of her best players, in fact, the best man who has ever played a guard position on an Atlanta team. Post, the former Columbia university football player, left yesterday for New York city and will be gone for about two weeks, and may not return to Atlanta at all. If he does not return, it will be a serious blow to the Atlanta team, for there never was a harder, more consistent or more faithful worker for the success of his team than Post.

His leaving the team will make a change necessary, and it is not known just yet how the Atlanta team will line up. Possibly Joe Colquitt will play in his place, and then maybe Luther Hudson will be switched to a guard position and Jemison played in a forward position. The line-up will not be announced, though, definitely, until Wednesday.

A. A. C.	Position.	DAVIDSON.
Doonan (Capt.)	F.	McRae
Hudson or Jemison	F.	Miles
Atkisson	C.	Price
Colquitt or Hudson	G.	Fairly
Thornton	G.	McClintoch

STARS RESERVED BY TWO CLUBS

Names of Players Eliminated From One List.

Commission Finds That Minor League Teams Have Both Sold Players and Reserved Them.

Cincinnati, Ohio, February 1.—The National Baseball Commission today issued a list of players who have been purchased or drafted by major league clubs, and whose names also appear on the final reserve list issued by the National Association, on October 20, 1908. The commission, after verifying that the players named have passed to major league clubs, will strike their names from the reservation list, in order to avoid disputes over possible contention of title by the minor league clubs that formerly owned the players in question. The list includes the following:

NATIONAL LEAGUE PLAYERS:

New York Club—Arthur Fletcher, purchased, reserved by Dallas.

Boston Club—Outfielder Coles, drafted, reserved by Augusta; Infielder Hornhorst, drafted, reserved by Augusta; Lavender, formerly with Danville, Va., drafted, reserved by Holyoke.

AMERICAN LEAGUE PLAYERS:

New York Club—John Quinn, drafted, reserved by Richmond; R. H. Revelle, drafted, reserved by Richmond.

Mahmout Throws Frenchman.

Chicago, February 1.—Yussif Mahmout won from Raoul de Rouen, the Frenchman, in a wrestling match at the Seventh regiment armory tonight in two straight falls. The first fall was given to him on a foul after 37 minutes and 6 seconds of rough work. The second was in 20 minutes and 54½ seconds, in a scissors and headlock.

Anti-Prize Fight Bill.

Sacramento, Cal., February 1.—Senator Wills, of Redlands, introduced in the senate today a sweeping anti-prize fight bill. It prohibits all fistic contests in places where admission is charged, and makes violation a felony. Under the penal code the punishment would be not more than five years in the state prison.

TWO FAMOUS PITCHERS WHO ARE COACHING VARSITY TWIRLERS

The pitchers of the Harvard and Yale varsity baseball teams are in active training, the Harvard men under Christy Mathewson, the famous New York pitcher, and the Yale twirlers under Ed Walsh, of the Chicago Americans. Walsh, who is the premier "spit ball" artist, has found plenty of good material at Yale, and expects the team to turn out some crack pitchers in the spring. Harvard hopes to have a better team this year than she had in 1908. Mathewson is coaching four promising pitchers at Cambridge.

SAINOTTA WINS, QUOTED AT 13 TO 1

Outsider Proves a Surprise at Oakland Track.

Oakland, Cal., February 1.—Jacobite proved a disappointment at Emeryville today when he failed to get in the money in the 7 furlongs race. He was a 6 to 5 favorite, but stopped badly. Bellwether led most of the way and won from Warden and Ketchemike. Sainotta, at 13 to 1, took the 2-year-old race.

Short Items of Interest.

GEORGE R. WENDLING, KING OF the American platform, who has thrilled so many Atlanta audiences, will appear at the Baptist Tabernacle Saturday evening, February 6. Mr. Wendling is to deliver his great lecture on "Robert E. Lee: the Idol of the South." Many Atlantans remember with delight his wonderful lectures on "Modern Doubt," and also his great historical lectures, notably those on "Mirabeau and the French Revolution" and "Stonewall Jackson." Those who have heard it say that his "Robert E. Lee, the Idol of the South," is his masterpiece.

POSTMASTER BLODGETT YESTERDAY gave out the postoffice receipts for the month of January ending Sunday. The receipts for the month were $80,775.12, while for the corresponding month of last year tthey were $74,363.43, making a difference in favor of the January of this year of $6,411.69.

THE COMMITTEE OF FIVE NAMED AT the meeting of the Atlanta Federation of Trades to take initial steps in the movement for the annual celebration of the federation and to arrange for a protest by the labor leaders against the fines imposed recently upon Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison will have a meeting one day this week. Jerome Jones, editor of The Journal of Labor, is chairman and the meeting will be subject to a call issued by him.

THE ATLANTA TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION No. 48 will meet in regular session in the Federation hall Sunday afternoon next, at which time the boosters' committees will submit reports on work accomplished since the last meeting. The Atlanta union is now preparing an active campaign to capture the 1910 annual session of the International Typographical Union. A number of catchy letters to the printers setting forth the advantages of Atlanta for the annual gathering will be ready for mailing within the next week or ten days.

PLANS ARE BEING MADE FOR A BIG educational mass meeting under the auspices of Clark university. The object of the meeting is to discuss and devise plans by which this department may become more useful and helpful in the uplift of colored people of this state. The meeting will be addressed by some of the best known educators in this state, both white and colored.

THERE WILL BE A MEETING IN THE chamber of commerce either this or tomorrow afternoon by several prominent citizens for the purpose of discussing the sending of the military school cadets in the state to take part in the inauguration of William H. Taft on March 4. The matter is in the hands of Henry S. Jackson, who originated the idea of having Georgia take a prominent part in the inaugural ceremonies at Washington.

THE FEATURE OF THE UNION MINisters' Association meeting at the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday morning was an address by Dr. J. R. Nelson, of Nashville, who is secretary of the Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, south. Dr. Nelson was introduced to the assembly by President Hood, of the association, and his talk proved extremely interesting. Dr. Nelson reported an extraordinary movement of population westward.

PALMER'S DRUG STORE, AT THE CORner of Pryor and Decatur, came near being a financial loser early last night when a negro called up for a bottle of medicine and asked that change for a ten-dollar bill be sent by the messenger boy. The negro said his name was Williams, and that he was at 202 Ivy street. The drug people were wise to the game, and sent their boy without the change. When the so-called Williams saw the boy had no money in change, he took charge of the bottle and ran. He is still at large.

DAVENPORT QUITS SOUTHERN MARATHON

Stomach Would Not Stand the Strain—Will Enter Track Meet in Distance Events.

Jim Davenport, the Atlanta Athletic Club's long distance runner, will not enter the Southern Marathon, which takes place in New Orleans on February 23.

Davenport hurt his ankle in the 5-mile race at New Orleans on Thanksgiving day, which he won with ease, but the game foot mended, and he immediately started training, but it has since developed that his stomach would not stand the Marathon distance, so he gave it up.

Davenport, however, will accompany a team of Atlanta Athletic Club men who will participate in the track meet, and he will probably take part in the distance runs from 1 mile up to 5, at which distance no runner in the south is his peer, and the club hopes to win the meet on points scored. Johnson, the ex-Wisconsin and ex-Olympic athlete, will also wear the Atlanta Athletic Club emblem, and it is on these two men that the club depends.

VERY LAST PRIZE FIGHT.

No More in Little Rock After Wolgart-Sullivan Bout.

Little Rock, Ark., February 1.—With the understanding that no efforts be made to conduct other bouts in the near future, it is stated this afternoon that the scheduled bout between "Brooklyn" Tommy Sullivan and Al. Wolgart, of Chicago, on Wednesday, would be permitted. Anticipated interference by the local and state authorities promised an interesting legal contest, in which the courts would be asked to draw the distinction between a "prize fight" and a "sparring match."

Bank Suspends Payment.

Boston, February 1.—By an order of the supreme judicial court today, closing the Greenfield Savings bank, of Greenfield, and suspending the payment of further dividends, it is hoped to elaminate the unproductive assets of the bank, and eventually throw open the doors of the institution to its 7,000 depositors, who have entrusted nearly three million dollars to its keeping.

AT OAKLAND.

Los Angeles, Cal., February 1.—Six selling events were run off at Santa Anita park today, and only two favorites were returned winners. Charley Payne, at 15 to 1, showed big improvement when he won the fifth race at a mile and three-sixteenths. He lay close to the pace to the stretch, when he took command and won by a head. Results:

FIRST RACE—Selling, 6 furlongs: Work and Play, 112 (Shilling), 6 to 1, won; Nettie Bumppo, 107 (Wilson), 15 to 1, second; Taxer, 112 (Dugan), 11 to 2, third. Time, 1:13 1-5. Ben Sand, Wistaria, Lady Kittrick, Giovanni Balerio, Teo Beach, Succeed and Bud Embry ran.

SECOND RACE—Two-year-olds, selling, 3½ furlongs: Tyras, 112 (Howard), 2 to 1, won; Oswald B., 105 (Dugan), 11 to 5, second; Green Dragon, 109 (Powers), 5 to 1, third. Time, :41 2-5. Migness, Mary's Lamb, Arthur Rouse, J. M. Stokes, La Petite, Docsology, Mrs. Frank Hogan, Sam Webb and Maternus ran.

THIRD RACE—Selling, mile: Ida May, 101 (Dugan), 9 to 10, won; Varieties, 106 (E. Clark), 12 to 1, second; Lord Stanhope, 106 (Shilling), 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:38 3-5. J. C. Clem, Black Mate, Fredonia and Moleey ran.

FOURTH RACE—Selling, 6 furlongs: Progress, 112 (Powers), 9 to 2, won; Toupee, 112 (Butwell), 3 to 1, second; Sink Sprin, (R. Brooks), 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:15 2-5. Margaret Randolph, Guiding Star, Niblick, Tayora, Hanibal Bey and Hazel Thorpe ran.

FIFTH RACE—Selling, 1 3-16 miles: Charley Paine, 109 (Powers), 15 to 1, won; Adoration, 104 (Goldstein), 10 to 1, second; Montclair, 96 (Martin), 5 to 1, third. Time, 2:00. Earl Rogers and Miss Officious ran.

SIXTH RACE—Selling, 5 furlongs: Bliss Carmen, 110 Powers), 11 to 5, won; Empire Expedition, 107 (Howard), 12 to 1, second; La Reine Hindoo, 106 (Shriner), 6 to 1, third. Time, 1:01 1-5. Little Flush, Tungsten, Lanita, Some Stone, Autocrat, Watlere, Minto, Hamper, Rorea, Roy Junior, Heydentus and Ban Rose ran.

Fire at Carrabelle.

Carrabelle, Fla., February 1.—A disastrous fire started here at 11 o'clock Saturday morning. The City hotel, residences of J. H. Maige and D. O. Neel, stores of William Robinson, J. N. Maige and Carrabelle Advertising building were destroyed. About 100,000 feet of lumber was burned. Damage is estimated between $80,000 and $100,000. The Island house caught a number of times, but was saved. No one injured.

Joe Curtis Visits Atlanta.

Joe Curtis, the former sporting editor of The Atlanta News, at present connected with The Chattanooga News in the same capacity, was in Atlanta yesterday en route to Chattanooga from Savannah, where he attended the meeting of the Sallie League directors.

Mr. Curtis is a well-known newspaper man and is well versed on all matters pertaining to sports. He speaks of the prospects of a good season in the Sallie League this year enthusiastically, and especially in Chattanooga.

STATEN'S FIGHT STAG CAUSING MORE INTEREST

Extra preparations are being made at Armory hall to accommodate the crowd that is sure to turn out for the boxing card offered by Manager Harry Staten for Thursday night. As the hall has frequently been filled to see an ordinary stag, it is likely to be packed to the very utmost for Thursday's good bill.

Training is progressing nicely with all of the scrappers who are slated to perform, and Thursday night will find them on edge and just aching for the gong.

The double postponement of the fights has given the boxers longer than they expected for training, and has enabled all to get in tip-top trim.

Van Meter, the Louisville lightweight, was especially pleased to get a little extra time for practice. He was over weight when he started training to meet Kerr, but now he is down to 133, and as hard as nails.

This engagement is likely to be the mustard. Van Meter is an aggressive fighter, while Kerr is the original "Bore-Right-In Kid," and can be depended upon to mix it from the first tintinnabulation of the starter's gong until the presence of shooting stars on the horizon indicates to one man or the other that the doings of the day are over.

The men who are to take part in the other two bouts—Jones, Spangler, Slim and Vittur—are all hardening up in fine style, and as all are willing workers, they are likely to help materially in the evening's entertainment.

Woman Burned to Death.

Fayette, Miss., February 1.—Mrs. Dan Strass was burned to death at her home in this town last night. She was the wife of one of the leading business men in Fayette.

Uncle Sam and Tobacco Trust.

Washington, February 1.—The attorney general today presented a motion in the supreme court of the United States for the advancement of the case of the United States v. the American Tobacco Company and the American Tobacco Company v. the United States, being cross appeals from the recent decision of the circuit court of the United States for the southern district of New York in the tobacco trust case.

All other Liabilities	2,532,637.34
Capital and Surplus	22,122,907.12
	$236,927,361.19

A REASONABLE INDICATION OF THE DESERVED POPULARITY of its plans and of faith in its management may be fairly claimed in the number of Metropolitan policies in force. It is not only greater than that of any other company in America, but greater than that of all the other regular companies combined, less one. It exceeds, in fact, the COMBINED POPULATION of 24 of the States and Territories out of the 52 forming the American Union; and as to CITIES, it exceeds the combined population of Greater New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, St. Louis, Cleveland, Cincinnati, San Francisco, Pittsburgh, Baltimore, New Orleans and Buffalo.

The Metropolitan has more premium paying business in force in the United States than any other company.

The Metropolitan has in force one-third of all the legal reserve policies in force in the United States. Its Industrial policies in force nearly equal in number all the Industrial policies of all the other companies in the country combined.

ORDINARY DEPARTMENT

INSURANCE IN FORCE, $526,939,378

The Company issues policies for from $1,000 to $1,000,000 on individual lives, premiums payable quarterly, semi-annually or annually.

All policies are non-participating. They are plain business contracts which tell their whole story on their face; leave nothing to the imagination; borrow nothing from hope; require definite conditions and make definite promises in dollars and cents.

PREMIUMS ARE LOWER THAN ARE OFFERED BY ANY OTHER COMPANY

In the Intermediate Branch policies are adapted to the working classes. Each policy is for $500 and the rate lower than that offeped by the Savings Bank system of Massachusetts. Two of the Metropolitan's Intermediate forms recently standardized by the New York and Massachusetts Departments provide for attractive combinations of insurance and annuities at the lowest rates offered anywhere.

The Ratio of Expense to Premium Income was the Lowest in the Company's History being over 8 per cent. less than five years ago and more than 15 per cent. less than ten years ago

The Company wrote more business in 1908 than any other Company in the world, and this for the fifteenth consecutive year

The number of policies paid in 1908 averaged one for each sixty-five seconds of each business day of 8 hours, and in amount $128.48 a minute, the year through.

The value and timeliness of its policy payments may be gleaned from the fact that of the claims paid during the year, 3,479 were under policies less than three months old, 6,890 were on policies under 6 months, and 12,805 were within the first year of insurance.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT

INSURANCE IN FORCE, $1,334,951,425

Number of Industrial policies in force, 9,301,001—insuring over six and a half millions of individual lives in the families of wage-earners. While the contracts are and always have been non-participating, the Company will this year have spent nearly EIGHTEEN millions of dollars in voluntary bonuses and concessions to the holders of these policies in thirteen years.

Cash bonuses on all whole life policies are annually allowed, amounting to over 8 per cent. of the premiums for a year. Additions of from 5 to 30 per cent. are made to policies maturing as claims, according to time policies have persisted. By the Company's present practice whole life policies are made free after age 75 or paid as endowments at age 80.

Industrial Insurance is Family Insurance, covering all ages from 1 to 70 on life, endowment and annuity plans.

WORK OF THE WOMEN LAUDED BY ROOSEVELT

President Speaks to Girl Students at Holy Cross Academy.

Washington, February 1.—"More important than the work being done by our public men is that being performed today by the men and women in our educational institutions in training our boys and girls, who will be the men and women of tomorrow," declared President Roosevelt this afternoon to the young ladies of the Academy of the Holy Cross.

The president had put aside his executive duties long enough to pay a long-promised call on Sister Superior Angelica, of the academy, and was surprised to find awaiting him a reception and exercises arranged in his honor.

He was addressed in verse by Miss Lillian Hill, of Montgomery, Ala., a student, with a poem, "To Our President," and was entertained by musical selections on harp, piano and violin. After making a few impromptu remarks, the president shook hands with each of the students.

Baxter Jones, Custodian.

Macon, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—H. E. Edwards, a merchant at Eastman, Ga., filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy here today. Assets in actual stock were reported at $3,850, and notes and accounts at a value of $5,700. The total liabilities reported are $9,814. The applicant carried a large stock and operated a very extensive business. Baxter Jones, of this city, was made custodian when the case went before Judge Speer this morning.

Woman Burned Alive.

Macon, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—Ada Banks, a negress, was burned alive in her house on Western Heights Saturday night when she went home in a drunken condition and attempted to start a fire in her room. When neighborhood negroes were aroused, they found the house falling in, and the charred remains were pulled out yesterday morning for Coroner T. E. Young to hold an inquest.

LEWIS IS VICTORIOUS OVER HIS OPPONENTS

His Administration Is Sustained by the United Mine Workers.

Indianapolis, Ind., February 1.—The convention of the United Mine Workers of America underwent a change over the week-end and this evening found the Lewis administration victorious over its opponents, led by John Walker, of Illinois, who was Thomas L. Lewis' rival in the election for the national presidency. Mr. Walker gave out a statement that he would not contest the election, because he believed such action hopeless. The convention had been packed against him, he said. The tellers of the vote probably will report tomorrow, and their report will show President Lewis' majority to be about 16,000.

Just prior to adjournment, President Lewis said it was plain that there should be no further quarreling over personal differences, and that the business of the convention now should be disposed of as quickly as possible. He will give all information asked for in regard to his attitude toward the Mercer-Butler strike, he said, but he would not engage in bickering with his critics.

The convention now is in its third week. It will be necessary to elect a national vice president, and a national secretary-treasurer on the floor of the convention, for, in the December election, no candidate received a majority of the votes cast.

SUMMARY OF THE SENATE.

Many Calendar Bills Passed. Brownsville Case Postponed.

Washington, February 1.—Seventy-five bills on the calendar of the senate were passed today. The consideration of these measures, most of which were of a local character, or of minor importance, consumed nearly the entire session of the senate.

Senator Foraker attempted to get consideration for the Aldrich substitute bill, providing for a court of inquiry to pass upon the qualifications of the discharged negro soldiers charged with having shot up Brownsville, but postponed making a motion for that purpose, in order that Senator McLaurin, of Mississippi, might speak on the Brownsville affair tomorrow. Mr. Foraker announced that after McLaurin's speech he would endeavor to obtain action on the bill.

The senate passed, without amendment, a house bill, declaring February 12, 1909, the centenary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, to be a legal holiday and recommending a general observation of that day.

At 3:45 p. m. the senate adjourned.

File Bankruptcy Petition.

Macon, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—J. L. Hainline and his wife each filed voluntary petitions in bankruptcy in the court here this morning. They were milliners. The cases were referred.

COLVILLE CANDIDATE FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY

He Says He Will Not Make an Active Canvass Until After March 4.

Fulton Colville, the well-known attorney, will be a candidate for the office of United States district attorney to succeed Carter Tate. Mr. Colville says he will not make any active canvass for the appointment until after the inauguration of Judge Taft on March 4.

Mr. Colville was one of the leading members of the Taft Club in Fulton county during the presidential campaign. He has been a member of the Atlanta bar for many years, and has a very wide circle of friends both in and out of his profession.

His friends say they believe that he will receive the appointment.

No Rehearing in Gas Suit.

Washington, February 1.—The supreme court of the United States today denied the application of the Consolidated Gas Company, of New York, for a rehearing. The case involved the validity of the 80-cent gas law and was recently decided against the company and in favor of the law. The effect of the decision today is to leave standing Judge Peckham's decision.

Billek Sent to Pen.

Chicago, February 1.—Herman Billek, after two years' imprisonment in the county jail, in which he has five times been respited from death on the gallows, was taken to the Joliet penitentiary today to begin a term of life imprisonment for the murder of Mary Vrzal. The death sentence of Billek was commuted to life imprisonment by Governor Deneen. Billek expressed confidence before his departure that he soon would receive a complete pardon.

Fifty Cents a Month

A small bottle of Scott's Emulsion costing fifty cents will last a baby a month—a few drops in its bottle each time it is fed. That's a small outlay for so large a return of health and comfort. Babies that are given quickly respond to its helpful action. It seems to contain just the elements of nourishment a baby needs most.

WAR CLOUDS VANISH IN SOUTHEAST EUROPE

Russia Reconciles the Differences Between Bulgaria and Turkey.

St. Petersburg, February 1.—The Turko-Bulgarian deadlock over the amount of money to be paid Turkey by Bulgaria, because of the Bulgarian declaration of independence, is practically broken, and the war clouds in southeastern Europe have been dissipated by the acceptance of a plan proposed by Russia, which reconciles in a novel manner the Turkish claim of $24,000,000 and the Bulgarian offer of $16,400,000.

This plan is based on the war indemnity of $1,600,000 a year, which, in accordance with the Berlin treaty of 1878, Turkey is to pay Russia for a hundred years.

These payments bear no interest. The Russian proposal is to remit them until the Turkish claim against Bulgaria is satisfied. Russia will collect, instead, $16,400,000 from Bulgaria in similar installments. These payments will bear interest and the amount of this interest will recoup Russia.

Bulgaria has formally assented to this proposal, and the Russian government has assurances that the plan is satisfactory to the Turkish government.

Japan Winning Chinese Market

Washington, February 1.—By turning out perfect imitations of the goods placed on the market by other nations and because of the skillfulness of her manufacturers, it is the opinion of Consul General Marlin of Hankow that Japan is fast winning the Chinese market and will continue to do so by meeting the peculiar requirements of the Chinese customs.

No Autos for Army.

Washington, February 1.—At the direction of the secretary of war a careful investigation into the cost of maintenance of automobiles owned by the war department has been made, and as a result the secretary has concluded that their use entails greater expense than horses and carriages. He is of the opinion that this expense is not justified and hereafter automobiles will not be used in Washington except where it is shown that their need is imperative and justifies the additional expense.

To Take Next Census.

Washington, February 1.—The bill passed by congress providing for the appointment of about 3,000 persons to take the next census is now before the president, who intends to give it some consideration before acting. Civil service reformers have urged the president to veto the bill because the appointments are to be made outside of the civil service.

NEW RURAL ROUTES ORDERED FOR GEORGIA

Steamer Sinks; Many Drowned.

Melbourne, February 1.—The British steamer Clan Ranald is a total wreck near Edithberg and the captain and forty-six of the crew, most of whom were Asiatics, were drowned. The vessel was drifting ashore last night, but sank before boats could reach her. Eighteen members of the crew, including twelve coolies, were picked up.

WILL ASK THE COUNTY TO PAVE TWO STREETS

General Council Appoints Committee to Go Before County Commissioners.

The general council yesterday afternoon appointed the aldermen and councilmen from the second and third wards a special committee to go before the county commissioners and get them to pave a portion of Washington and Ormond streets.

Whereas, Washington and Ormond streets are in great need of repair, in the sections hereinafter mentioned, and it is desirable to secure the cooperation of the county commissioners in their pavement.

Therefore be it resolved by the mayor and general council as follows:

1. That the board of commissioners of roads and revenues of Fulton county be, and they are hereby requested, to pave Washington street from the present terminus of the asphalt pavement out to the city limits, and Ormond street from Washington street out to Grant park with Mitulithic pavement and place same in a condition for travel as some of the other streets have been so paved by said board.

2. That the aldermen and councilmen from the first and second wards be, and they are hereby, appointed a committee to appear before said board at its next meeting and present this resolution and urge the cooperation of said board in the improvement of said streets as above set out.

CONTEST OVER M'REE WILL

Valdosta, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—A law suit that is attracting more attention here than any that has been sprung lately, is the one involving the will of the late E. J. McRee, which was brought by his two younger brothers, Frank and Young McRee. The case will come up for a hearing at an adjourned term of the superior court the second Monday in February.

It will be remembered that about $30,000 of the estate was left to his housekeeper, and her son, and the balance of the estate, amounting to something like $100,000, was left to the children of his brothers, living at the time of the testator's death. As the young brothers had no children, the will cut them out entirely, their part being but $10 each.

Eminent counsel has been employed on both sides, and the case promises to develop into one of the most interesting that has been tried here. The parties to the suit are already getting ready for the case, and some lively testimony promises to come out at the hearing.

AMERICAN WARSHIPS IN PORT OF GIBRALTAR

Gibraltar, February 1.—For one hour this morning the Port of Gibraltar seemed to be the scene of a naval engagement at close range. The American battleships that arrived yesterday were exchanging salutes with the shore and the foreign warships in the harbor that were omitted because of Sunday.

The Connecticut saluted the port and the flag of Vice Admiral Sir James Goodrich, the commander of all the naval estimates at Gibraltar, with twenty-one guns, and when these had been returned gun for gun from a shore battery and the British battleship Albemarle, other salutes were fired to and answered by the Russian, French and Dutch warships in port.

The Rhode Island and the New Jersey came into port at 10 o'clock this morning and were followed an hour later by the fourth division, the Wisconsin, Illinois, Kearsarge and Kentucky, which anchored outside the breakwater. The third division, consisting of the Louisiana, Missouri, Ohio and Virginia, brought up the rear and presented a beautiful picture as they steamed in.

Bond in Nashville.

Nashville, Tenn., February 1.—Bolivar B. Bond, formerly a well-known produce dealer of Nashville, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses from the First National bank and who made a desperate fight to prevent his extradition from Canada after his arrest in Hamilton, has returned to this city in custody of an officer. He made bond and was released.

Campbell Superior Court.

Fairburn, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—Campbell superior court convened here today, Judge L. S. Roan presiding. The visiting members of the bar were Sid Holderness, J. O. Newell, J. F. Golightly, J. J. Barge and C. P. Thompson.

Saw Mill Destroyed.

Buena Vista, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—Fire destroyed the saw mill of Harvey & Song here Friday night. No insurance was carried. The plant was operated by T. J. Hart.

REAL ESTATE, RENTING AND LOANS.
12 SOUTH BROAD ST., ATLANTA, GA.

ON NORTH BOULEVARD—A swell, 2-story, 9-room residence, built by a man of taste and experience; large, east front lot; two servants' rooms; furnace; gas and electric lighting; beautiful arrangement; handsome mantels and ornamental woodwork. $8,500 will buy it.

ON JUNIPER STREET—A 2-story, 9-room frame residence, built as well as it is possible to put wood together. Beautiful, elevated lot. Delightfully arranged home; fine system of hot water heating. Surrounded by the homes of people whose names are household words in Atlanta. $9,000 is cheap for it, and we can make the most attractive terms. Say $1,000 cash and the balance at 6 per cent.

ON PEACHTREE CIRCLE and on the prettiest lot on the street, a 2-story, 12-room frame residence. Has everything that goes with a modern home. Good neighbors all around; near to Peachtree cars. The lot is just the right elevation, and is 75 by over 200 feet. Price, $14,000. This is not a case where the owner is naming a price which would induce him to sell, but it is the lowest price he can afford to make, unless he lose serious?.

LOVELY West End house, containing 10 rooms; has every convenience, including furnace. The lot is perfect, 150x250, including servant's house, barn, chicken house and garden; shade. Owner will sell at low price or will take some property in exchange. Better see us at once. These places are getting quite scarce. Price $9,000.

CHOICE NORTH SIDE COTTAGE. MODERN EQUIPMENT, IN VERY DESIRABLE SECTION. PRICE REDUCED TO ONLY $3,000.
If you want a bargain in a pretty, 6-room, modern cottage, with reception hall, parlor, two bed rooms, dining room, kitchen and bath with porcelain tub and sanitary fixtures, here it is. Worth $3,750. Price cut $750, and you buy it for $3,000. Just $1,000 cash and balance monthly. Make your wife happy, and she will forget the cross word you spoke to her. Buy this home.

HERE'S A COTTAGE, THE RENT WILL ALMOST PAY FOR IT. TERMS, $100 DOWN, BALANCE $25 MONTH. LEASED FOR $21 MONTH.
That's all. You just draw the rent each month from us, as we have already leased it by the year; add only a few dollars and in the end it's yours. We would make you a present of it, but the owner wants just a little out of it each year to buy Christmas presents.

FIVE-ROOM COTTAGE AND THREE VACANT LOTS COST $2,750. YOU CAN BUY THE WHOLE FOR $1,950.
The owner just says he can't carry the load any longer, and puts himself in our hands to prevent foreclosure proceedings. He loses $800 in clean, cold, hard-earned cash. His misfortune is your gain. A blind man can see a good thing here. Situated on west side. Pretty elevation and nice shade. Only 200 feet from car line. Paved street. Be quick.

FOUR COTTAGES ON ASHBY, WEST HUNTER AND MAYSON AND TURNER AVE. THINK: ONLY $100 DOWN AND $15 MONTH ON EACH. IT'S LIKE GIVING THEM AWAY.
The owner says he wants to supply four good men with homes to be paid for only as rent. Now, make up your little club and come take them all. The price is $1,550 each, and on such terms your wife and children will be ashamed to call you husband and father if you can't own a home. Stop paying rent and get a coal of fire on your back.

JUNIPER ST. LOT REDUCED FROM $3,000 TO $2,250. OWNER SAYS SELL AT ONCE.
Now, just look all around and then go see this lot. You understand Juniper street is one of the choicest north side streets. It's so close to Peachtree you can blow your breath on it. Think of being so near to heaven for only $2,250. You can tell folks at summer resorts you live on Peachtree, and it won't be much of a lie, only 200 feet. It will help you get in good society.

$13,500—In quarter-mile circle, on elevated corner lot on Washington st., we have a house of 12 rooms, built for home, and cost something like $22,000. It is in perfect condition; has every modern convenience; interior finished in hardwood; furnace-heated. This is without question the prettiest home on Washington st. Lot has good frontage, and room in rear to build another. It is now rented at around $1,000 per year and could easily be changed into apartments that would pay 15 per cent. I can make attractive terms.

$5,500—Very close in, and just off Edgewood ave., two houses rented at $57. The lot alone is worth the money, as it is in the right place.

PEACHTREE STREET.
$14,500—We have an elevated corner lot, 60x140 feet, on one of the most desirable corners on the street, and one of only a few to be had this close in; the lot is worth today $200 per front foot, or $12,000, and has on it a 10-room house, leased at $1,100 per year. This property will bring easily $20,000 in the next twelve months. As an ideal apartment corner you can't beat it. See us about this.

$6,000—Semi-central store, new, and now leased at $55. On coming street. Will bring you $7,500 in the next two years. $3,000 cash, balance reasonable terms.

$15,000—Brick building of 4 stories. In coming section. Leased on long lease to pay 8½ per cent net of all expenses, taxes and insurance. Lease guaranteed by responsible party for term of three years. Can you beat it?

$3,750—No. 84 East Cain, close in, house of 11 rooms, on 60-foot lot. This is now rented at $35. It's sure to come in. Can make some terms.

$2,500—No. 321 Edgewood ave., adjoining store property, we have cottage of 5 rooms, all conveniences, rented at $15.60; lot is 25x85 to an alley. Buy it, move cottage to rear, facing alley; build brick store in front and you will have a piece of income property cheaper by $1,000 than anything on the street. Get busy.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

COTTON DECLINED, THEN RECOVERED

Buying for Long Account in the Afternoon Caused Prices to Advance.

New York, February 1.—The cotton market sold off quite sharply during today's early session, but recovered and closed very steady at a net advance of 1@6 points. Sales 175,000 bales.

The market opened steady at a decline of 5@7 points, and during the early session sold 7 to 10 points net lower, or about 28 to 32 points under the recent high record, as a result of lower cables than expected, predictions of easier spot markets, which came chiefly from New Orleans sources, southern selling, local bear pressure and stop-loss orders. Liverpool was also a seller here, but offerings became lighter around 9.42 for May and 9.19 for October, while the market seemed to be attracting a good deal of support from the leading spot interests, and also in the way of fresh buying for long account, through various commission houses. Prices steadied on this demand, and when early sellers started to cover, they found very little cotton offering. The high point was reached late in the day, and the market closed within a point or two of the top. Business was not active, and while the leading bulls were steady buyers, they seemed to be making no aggressive effort to force an advance. Southern spot markets early were generally unchanged. The large estimate for tomorrow's receipts at Houston was a factor early, while firmness in New Orleans and southern buying helped the later advance.

Receipts at the ports today 25,278 bales, against 47,176 last week, and 40,265 last year. For the week 260,000 against 277,058 last week, and 217,090 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 5,325, against 16,251 last year, and at Houston 10,877, against 6,902 last year.

Spot closed quiet; middling uplands 9.85; middling gulf 10.10; sales 400.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, February 1.—Spot cotton quiet; middling, 9 1-2c. Sales on the spot, 325 bales; to arrive, 200.

Futures opened steady at a decline of 3 to 4 points on disappointing cables. Private advices from Liverpool of a decidedly bearish tone caused rather free short selling after the first call, and prices lost another point or two, but bulls supported the market, and prices gradually hardened during the early session. Around noon reports of backward crop preparations in Texas, owing to dry weather, caused general buying and prices rose until they were 14 to 16 points up from the bottom, and 10 to 11 above Saturday's closing. Dullness in the spot department caused a slight sagging tendency, late in the day, the market closing steady at a net advance of 8 to 9 points.

Dry Goods.

New York, February 1.—The dry goods market opened steady with a fair business doing in the jobbing houses. Cutters are asking for immediate shipments of dress goods, and jobbers are reordering for spring. Fall business in dress goods is active. Raw silk is strong and tending higher. Cotton goods are firm and moderately active.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, February 1.—Closing: Cotton, spot quiet, prices 5 points lower; American middling fair 5.77; good middling 5.41; middling 5.21; low middling 5.01; good ordinary 4.54; ordinary 4.14. The sales of the day were 6,000 bales, of which 200 were for speculation and export, and included 5,600 American. Receipts 17,000 bales, including 13,300 American. Futures opened and closed steady.

STOCKS VERY DULL MOST OF THE DAY

Consolidated Gas Broke Badly When News of Court Decision Was Known.

New York, February 1.—The day's developments were regarded as negatively favorable to stock market values, and a further firm tone of the market was the result. This firmness did not obscure the fact of the growing lethargy of the speculative interest, which left the dealings dull at times to the point of stagnation. The fact of most influence on the board room traders was that no large volume of outside liquidation was forced upon the market over the week-end by the drooping tendency of prices last week, and the sharp decline with which the week ended. The refusal of the supreme court to grant the petition of the Consolidated Gas Company for a rehearing of the 80-cent gas appeal caused another downward plunge in the price of that security the 115 3-4, which the price touched, being lower than before the rally in the stock when the petition was filed. The general list showed itself but little perturbed by the break, and this again had a negatively good effect on the tone. The supreme court action seemed without effect in renewing the misgivings of those who had begun to fear unfavorable action on the case to test the commodities clause of the Hepburn law. Reading, which is most closely sympathetic with developments regarding this case, was notably strong, with influence on the whole list. The action of the money market proved that there was no eleventh-hour measure left by the trust companies to fulfill the February 1st reserve requirement. Call loans were but slightly firmer than the recently prevailing rate. Money continues in abundant supply, and no ripple was induced by the further engagements of gold for shipment to South America. The problem confronting bankers in New York remains one of finding employment for funds accumulating, in spite of the heavy output of new issues, which still continues. In London, where a similar flood of new issues has been going on, reports indicate that the supply has overtaken the demand and the danger is threatened of an indigestion of new securities, such as clogged the New York market after the business depression of 1903. The marking down of the price of copper and reports of storm damage to western railroads did not alter the hardening tendency, but professional realizing reduced the extreme gains at the last.

Bonds irregular. Total sales, par value $3,446,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, February 1.—A decline in Liverpool more than was expected and large estimates for the receipts tomorrow were the facts which brought a lower market during the opening hour. After the close of Liverpool the leading interests identified with the long side appeared as buyers and under this support the market advanced, closing steady at the best prices of the day. This recovery in the face of adverse advices leaves the trade in an uncertain attitude because of the increase in the movement which promises to continue to gain on other years and increase the already large supply in the hands of the trade. Nearly all of the larger operators are looking forward to higher prices on an increased demand from spinners in the not far distant future so that they buy on all depressions.

Foreign Finances.

Berlin, February 1.—The weekly statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany shows the following changes:

Paris, February 1.—Closing: Three per cent rentes 96 francs, 75 centimes for the account. Exchange on London 25 francs, 16½ centimes for checks.

Treasury Statement.

Available cash balance, $149,701,585; gold coin and bullion, $28,820,534; gold certificates, $25,956,330.

WHEAT WAS STRONG ALL THE SESSION

Chicago, February 1.—A liberal decrease in the visible supply of wheat in the United States and Canada for the week contributed, in a large measure, to a sharp advance in wheat prices here today. At the close, prices were up 1-4 to 1½@1 5-8c. Corn and oats closed firm, but provisions weak.

Surprising strength was manifested in the wheat pit throughout the entire session, and at the close prices were at the top notch of the day. Despite the bearish tone of weekly statistics, the market opened firm, and continued to gain in strength as trading progressed. World's shipments for the week were liberal, at 12,288,000 bushels, with Russia contributing more than 1,000,000 bushels of that amount, the amount on passage increased 6,408,000 bushels, and LaPlata offerings of wheat in Liverpool were reported cheaper. These bearish influences, however, were apparently ignored. A brisk demand for cash wheat at all the principal markets in this country, and a decrease of 3,164,000 bushels in the visible supply in the United States and Canada compared with a decrease of 506,000 bushels for the corresponding week a year ago, were the principal factors responsible for the buying by shorts and bull leaders that caused the strong upturn. The May delivery displayed the greatest strength, and ranged between $1.07½ and $1.09 1-8, closing at the top point. July closed at 98½c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 304,000 bushels. The visible supply in the United States decreased 2,000,000. Primary receipts were 430,000 bushels, compared with 708,000 bushels the corresponding day a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth, and Chicago reported receipts of 121 cars, against 408 cars last week.

Light local receipts and limited offerings in the pit created bullish sentiment in the corn market. The bulge in wheat also had considerable influence. The market closed firm at the top, with prices up 5-8 to 5-8@3-4c. Final quotations on May were 63½@63 5-8c, and July 63 5-8c. Local receipts were 48 cars, with none of contract grade.

Strength of wheat and corn had a bullish effect on the oats market, but sales by a leading holder prevented any radical advance in prices. At the close prices were up 1-8@1-4c, July 1-4c. May closing at 52 1-4c, and July at 46 5-8@46 3-4c. Local receipts were 60 cars.

Despite a 15 to 25c advance in the price of live hogs, the provisions market developed considerable weakness following a firm opening. At the close prices were a shade to 10c lower.

NEW SOCIAL ORDER FOR THE FARMERS

Barstow Predicts Great Agricultural Changes.

Farmers of the Future to Live in Towns and Use Autos, Trolleys and Horses to Reach Their Farms.

Chicago, February 1.—A new social order for farmers is pictured by George E. Barstow, of Barstow, Tex., president of the International Irrigation Congress, who is in Chicago on business connected with the big gathering to be held in Seattle next summer.

Great tracts of land where the farmers will not live on the land, but in towns, from which they will hasten by the aid of fast horses or in automobiles, or interurban cars, to cultivate the soil, was the "new thing" which the irrigation expert declared would soon become a fact.

Mr. Barstow is known as the "father of irrigation in the southwest." He has himself put through great private irrigation projects at Barstow, Tex., and has been a prime mover in inducing the federal government to build the systems which will make fertile over 3,000,000 acres of land, once a desert.

It is on these government tracts that the old isolated farm house is to become a thing of the past.

"The government is laying out towns every five miles," he said. "Thus no farm will be much more than two and one-half miles from a town. The farms will be small, 10 to 40 acres, and the farming intensive. Under these circumstances the farmers will live in towns of 1,500 to 2,000 people, enjoying all the benefits of urban life—schools, churches and social life. At the same time they will be within as easy reach of their farms as is the average Chicagoan of his business.

"A tide from the city to the country has already set in. Many college graduates have chosen farming on irrigated tracts for their life work."

Mr. Barstow said that the coming congress would be the greatest gathering of its kind ever held. Over 2,500 delegates from forty states and territories and twenty foreign nations are expected.

Brent Heads Opium Congress.

Washington, February 1.—Charles H. Brent, Protestant Episcopal bishop of the Philippines, was elected chairman of the international opium commission, which began its sessions today at Shanghai, China. He was nominated for the office by the delegations from China and Great Britain. This news was cabled to the state department from Shanghai.

Baptist Church Burned.

Norfolk, Va., February 1.—The Churchland Baptist church, at Churchland, the handsomest country church in the state, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The negro janitor, after making a hot fire, went to sleep and came near being cremated. The loss is about $15,000; insurance, $7,600.

ONE ISSUE OF NATIONAL WILL TREAT OF GEORGIA

Garnault Agassiz Will Make Trip Over the State to Collect Data.

Garnault Agassiz, of New York, is a the Piedmont. He comes to Georgia particularly in the interest of the National Magazine of Boston. Joe Mitchell Chapple, the publisher, was here recently with the Taft party, and decided to get out a special issue devoted to Georgia alone for April, and as a result Mr. Agassiz has arrived and will take up the matter of a trip over the state and getting together the story for this issue.

In "The Story of a Great Nation," The National Magazine is publishing what is unquestionably the most unique and comprehensive series of articles treating of the various departments and bureaus. Each of these articles will be written by an authority.

The March issue of The National will contain two articles of unusual interest to Georgians—"Why I Went to the Philippines," by President-elect William Howard Taft, and "Taft's Visit to Georgia," by Joe Mitchell Chapple, editor of the magazine. Both articles will be profusely illustrated.

OIL COMPANY IS HIT.

Concern Must Pay for Death of Mother and Children.

Washington, February 1.—The supreme court of the United States today held the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, of Missouri, responsible for damages for the death of the wife and two children of Albert B. DeSelms, of Orlando, Okla., thus affirming the decision of the supreme court of that state, which affirmed an award of $14,500 damages.

Mrs. DeSelms and the two children were burned to death on February 4, 1902, in a fire which consumed DeSelms' house, and which, it was claimed, originated in the use of what was supposed to be pure coal oil, but it is now contended that there was such a large percentage of gasoline as to render it unusually inflammable.

Succession to Presidency.

Washington, February 1.—The senate committee on judiciary today ordered favorably reported the Bacon joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution of the United States respecting the succession to the presidency. It permits congress, by law, to provide the manner of succession where there is no person entitled to hold the office of president or vice president.

Later in the day the senate, by a two-thirds vote, adopted the amendment.

Trolley Fares Increased.

Cleveland, Ohio, February 1.—In accordance with instructions recently issued by Judge Taylor, of the federal court, to the receivers of the entire street railway system of this city, the rate of fare was increased, beginning this morning, on all lines except upon those where the franchises specifically provide a rate of not more than 3 cents. Approximately two-thirds of the street car patrons are now paying a straight 5-cent fare.

Last of Electoral Votes.

Washington, February 1.—The last of the state messengers bringing electoral votes arrived in Washington today. They were Thomas B. Butler, of South Carolina, whose delay was explained by the fact that the South Carolina law provides that the returns shall be in by the second Wednesday in February, and he was not familiar with the federal statute covering the case. He arrived at 11:30 o'clock, three minutes ahead of General Charles S. Warren, of Montana, whose delay was caused by breaking his right arm.

GRAND JURY SYSTEM IS UNDER HOT FIRE

Chicago Judges and Lawyers Say It Should Be Abolished.

Chicago, February 1.—A plea to the legislature for the abolition of the grand jury has struck a responsive chord among Chicago members of the bar. Judges and criminal lawyers agree that the grand jury system "as it now exists" should be abolished. Many are loath, however, to see the time-honored inquisitorial body pass out of memory.

State's Attorney Weyman, while agreeing in the main with the proposed reform, says:

"I do not think the grand jury system should be entirely abolished. I believe, though, that the state's attorney should be empowered to proceed on information, thus eliminating in many cases the formality and expense of a grand jury investigation."

POLICEMEN ON GUARD AT THE TOMB OF GRANT

Sentinels Have Been Placed as a Precautionary Measure.

New York, February 1.—Considerable mystery was thrown around an order issued by Police Commissioner Bingham to the effect that hereafter Grant's tomb, in Riverside drive, is to be guarded by policemen, day and night. The assignment of three policemen to perform this duty was the first assignment of policeman to guard this tomb since it was built.

At the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street station, from which the detail of sentinels was taken, it was said that members of the Grand Army of the Republic had complained of the unguarded condition of the tomb, and had called to the attention of Commissioner Bingham the fact that without the presence there of policemen the opportunities for vandals to work in security have been great.

It was denied by the police that there has been any vandalism and the posting of the police sentinels was said by the police to be only in the nature of a precautionary measure. Hitherto the park department has kept a watchman on duty at the tomb.

GIRL SAYS ROOSEVELT DIDN'T HIT HER HORSE

Denial of the Story Is Given Out From the White House.

Washington, February 1.—For the first time making public a disclaimer of published reports that President Roosevelt, while riding in Rock Creek park, near this city, struck the horse ridden by a young woman, who happened to ride near his party, the white house today gave out a letter received from the young woman's mother. It was dated Los Angeles, Cal., January 27, and read as follows:

"My daughter, Miss May Rhoades, whose horse, it has been widely reported you struck while riding in the park last Thanksgiving day, most emphatically denies any knowledge of such an occurrence, and as it is deemed of such importance as to be referred to in congress, may I be permitted to ask you why you do not deny this story? Very sincerely,

"ELIZABETH RHOADES."

Thomas Leaves Jail.

Rome, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—Sherman Thomas walked out of Floyd county jail this afternoon a free man. Judge Moses Wright quashed the indictment charging him with train wrecking and the murder of Engineer Charles F. Pease. He had already been tried and acquitted of causing the death of the fireman, Watts Pardue. Thomas went to his home in Cedartown tonight. The families of both Pease and Pardue have entered suit against the Southern for $50,000 damages for the death of the men.

LABOR TURNED DOWN BY CATHOLIC BISHOP

McFaul Declines to Attend a Meeting to Express Sympathy for Gompers.

Trenton, N. J., February 1.—In declining to act as chairman of a meeting under the auspices of organized labor to protest against the sentences imposed upon Messrs. Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor, for contempt of court, Bishop James A. McFaul, of the Catholic diocese of Trenton, says:

"These sentenced gentlemen have the sympathy of every true friend of labor, but they have not yet lost their case. The court of appeals must first render its decision. We shall then know what the law is. If the law is as interpreted by the court, then it has performed a duty and its action is beyond criticism. If the law is at fault, then it should be repealed. Americans have in their power the repeal of any law by the ballot. The difficulty is that we do not live up to our motto, 'In union there is strength.'"

OFFICIAL STANDARD FOR COTTON GRADES

Washington, February 1.—The committee of experts on cotton classification, recently appointed by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson to fix an official standard of the various grades of cotton, began its task at the department of agriculture today. The committee is composed of nine members, in addition to three special assistants, representing the leading cotton concerns of the country. In its effort to establish the nine grades of cotton, as provided for by an act of congress, the committee will have the use of cotton standards of the cotton exchanges of this country and Europe. A week probably will be required to complete the work.

Practically the entire day's sessions, which were not of a public nature, were devoted by the committee to work of a preliminary character. It was announced that until some definite conclusion was reached no statement would be given out. Representative Burleson, of Texas, who was largely instrumental in securing the adoption by congress at its last session of a provision authorizing the fixing of a standard of the nine grades of cotton, addressed the committee in regard to the necessity of an official standard for the various grades. The members of the committee also called on Secretary Wilson to get his views on the proposed work.

WEST POINT CADETS BARRED BY THE HOUSE

Washington, February 1.—Unless the senate comes to their rescue, the West Point cadets will not be able to attend the inauguration on the 4th of March at the expense of the government. The cadets have been one of the attractions of the inaugural ceremonies for many years past. By a point of order, an item providing funds for the cadets' trip to Washington was stricken from the military appropriation bill.

Another item removed from the bill was an appropriation for the construction of an asylum for refugees in time of war, and another for a store house on Corregidor Island, in Manila Bay.

On account of the time consumed with bills under suspension of the rules, the consideration by the house of the appropriation bill was not completed.

Under suspension, the house passed the Payne bill, prohibiting the importation of opium, but refused to pass the senate bill to pension federal judges. The Bennett bill, for the exportation of aliens convicted of a felony, was also denied passage.

A limitation was placed upon the scope of the Olmsted special committee to investigate appropriations for and the work of the secret service of the various departments.

The house adjourned at 5:28.

THREE LIVES WERE LOST

When Schooner Sank on Lake Pontchartrain.

New Orleans, La., February 1.—William Robinson, the only surviving member of the crew of the schooner A. J. Ramsey, which sank in Lake Pontchartrain, near Little Woods, La., Saturday, was brought to the Charity hospital here this afternoon. In spite of the terrible ordeal through which he passed, it is thought he will recover. For 36 hours he was partially covered by the icy water and lashed by the terrific winter blasts. He managed to hold on to the top of the cabin until he was picked up late Sunday by the schooner Petersen.

Peter Jackson, captain of the schooner, was swept off the deck Friday morning, and was not seen again.

After the Ramsey sank, Robinson and two other members of the crew, George Rogers and George Jones, climbed into the tree of the mast. Rogers and Jones were finally benumbed with the cold and fell into the water, where they drowned. Robinson, seeing he could not hold on to the mast longer, climbed down to the roof of the cabin, to which he clung until rescued. All of those on board were negroes.

Several schooners, reported last night as being in distress in Lake Pontchartrain, reached here safely today. It is believed now that none but the Ramsey went down.

Apartments

For the first time this winter we are now having some Apartment-House weather, and the minds of the renting public naturally turn to comfortable, steam-heated apartments. Among the many houses handled by us we have several choice apartments for rent and also have in course of construction two new buildings that will be ready for occupancy about the middle of February. Will take pleasure in showing any of these at any time.

NEW STEAMER LINE FOR JACKSONVILLE

Direct Service From Baltimore to the Florida City.

Baltimore, February 1.—Within the next three or four months there will be a direct freight and passenger steamship line between Baltimore and Jacksonville, Fla. J. C. Whitney, president of the Merchants and Miners' Transportation Company, made this announcement today.

The enterprise of the steamship company will open up to Baltimore an enormous field for trade, reaching throughout the south and middle west.

Magoon in Savannah.

Savannah, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—Former Governor Magoon, of Cuba, passed through Savannah today on his way to Washington. He declares he has faith in the Cuban people and believes that the United States has entered there for the last time. He was not concerned over the lack of enthusiasm and the absence of cheers at his departure from the island. To questions about his probable place as secretary of war in Taft's cabinet he was dumb.

Erwin Has Improved.

Macon, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—Deputy Clerk L. M. Erwin, of the United States court, is in his offices this morning after a week of illness. He is rapidly recovering from his attack.

ST. LOUIS MAKES PORT WITH BROKEN RUDDER

New York, February 1.—With the lower part of her rudder broken off by heavy seas, which she encountered in midocean, the American liner, St. Louis, reached port today, having been steered by her twin screw since the accident. The two lower sections of the rudder were carried away by a heavy sea during a southwesterly gale on Thursday at 4 p. m.

The speed of the ship was reduced to 13 knots per hour during the remainder of the gale and until the rough seas subsided, after which it was found in smooth water the remaining portions of the rudder could be used. The St. Louis came up the harbor under her own steam about 3 p. m., towing two tug boats, which acted as rudders.

Macon Chamber to Meet.

Macon, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—The regular monthly meeting of the chamber of commerce tomorrow afternoon promises much that will interest the members. Numbers of committees that have been out the past month working on matters of importance will have reports to submit.

Damage Case Taken Up.

Macon, Ga., February 1.—(Special.)—A damage suit against the Macon Railway and Light Company for the alleged cutting of a tree and subsequent injury to a house where the tree fell, was the first hearing before Judge Felton in the superior court today. The case was entered by R. L. Anderson, administrator, for Bridget Crowley.

S.S.S. BEST TREATMENT FOR CATARRH

S. S. S. is the best treatment for Catarrh because it is a perfect blood purifier. It is the only medicine that is able to get down into the circulation and entirely remove the catarrhal matter and impurities which produce the trouble. As long as the mucous membranes and tissues are kept inflamed and irritated by this impure and infected condition of the blood Catarrh will remain. Its disagreeable and dangerous symptoms, of ringing noises in the ears, mucus dropping back into the throat, headaches, watery eyes, difficult breathing, and even stomach disorders and weakened health, cannot be permanently relieved until the blood is purified. Nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose. It goes down to the very root of the trouble, and removes every particle of the catarrhal matter from the blood and enriches this vital fluid so that all the mucous surfaces are supplied with nutritive, healthful qualities, instead of being constantly irritated and inflamed by impurities in the circulation. Then the symptoms begin to pass away and when S. S. S. has entirely purified the blood, Catarrh is permanently cured and the general health greatly built up. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.
